E. J. GIBSON

Died in Beat 9, west of Thorsby, October 26, Mr. E. J. Gibson, better known as "Dock" Gibson, age about 60 years.

He leaves a wife, one brother and many friends to mourn his passing.

We understand he was born near Oakley, and spent his early life in the Mulberry community. He was a worthy man.

His remains were laid to rest in Pleasant Grove cemetery, mid a profusion of lovely flowers. Funeral services were conducted by his friend, Rev. R. M. Honeycutt.

He was a descendant of one of the pioneer families locating here about 100 years ago, coming from South Carolina.

Thus we are passing, one by one, but the ransom price has been paid, and ultimately Mr. Gibson will return from the death state and live again, and death will be vanquished by the Coming King.

"His voice as the sound of the Dulcimer sweet,
Is heard through the shadows of death,

Pimples

What can I do?

"Oh, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

Mrs. Fiem Martin is on the sick list this week.

Owing to the bad weather, there were not so many present at the singing Sunday, but we had some fine singing. The Messrs. and Misses Devaughn were present, also Mr. Boswell. Directors were: Profs. W. G. Culp, A. H. Glasscock, E. H. Foshee, Akins Collins, Ammie Boswell, W. M. Devaughn, Archie Devaughn, E. L. Glasscock. Some fine quartets were sung by the Devaughns. Organists for the day were Misses Mattie Mims, Genie Collins, Inez Hayes, and Prof. W. G. Culp.

A wedding of much interest to this community occured in Cullman Thursday of last week—that of Mr. Delbert Collins and Miss Allie Fullon of Cullman. On Friday night they came to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Collins in this community. A supper was given the newly-weds and their friends.

On Sunday two Messrs. Lowery and two Misses Lowery from Ensley came down and spent the day at the home of Mr. R. C. Collins. In the afternoon the Lowerys and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Collins motored back to Ensley, where Mr. Collins holds a position with the T. C. I. Co. They will make their home in Ensley.

GASOLINE RECEIPTS HIGH IN SEPTEMBER

Receipts from the state two-cent per gallon gasoline tax for September reached a net total of $194,145.65, according to figures from the state tax commission.

This showed a substantial increase in volume of the tax over a year ago, the net receipts for September, 1924, totalling $160,412.94.

The proceeds of the tax are divided equally among the 67 counties for road purposes so that for September, 1925, each county will receive the sum of $2,897.69.

BAPTISTS CLOSE EXCELLENT YEAR

Alabama Baptists gave nearly a half million dollars to all departments of the work during the past convention year which ended Saturday evening, according to an announcement by D. F. Green, secretary-treasurer of the executive board of the Alabama Baptist convention, late Monday. The executive board closed its books today and the report is ready for the annual convention which is soon to meet in Selma.

Total collections for the convention year were $482,459.83. Mr. Green states that this is the second largest amount ever given by the Baptists of Alabama.

"Yes, we have had a great year, everything considered. Collections on the 75 million campaign for November and December amounted to $192,766.19 and the collections on the cooperative program from January 1, amounted to $289,693.64. From November to November, the total collections are very encouraging. Our people have done nobly and our hearts rejoice.

"However, there is just one disturbing fact. The amount that came in undesignated amounted to only $220,124.32. Designated funds amounted to $262,335.51. However, it must be remembered that in the change from the 75 million campaign to the cooperative program, some of our people felt that they wanted to give some of the objects special gifts. This of course is allowed and we thank God for every dollar received. Yet money cunts far more when given to the program undesignated. In this way all objects are cared for on an equitable basis. We are greatly encouraged, however, at the splendid spirit of our people. The associations this year have been more largely attended than usual and our people have the finest spirit we have ever seen. I believe we are ready to get our feet on the ground and our shoulders under the burden of the 78 enterprises being supported by our people, and do the greatest year's work in our history. We thank God, take courage and press forward in the new year beginning today."

A test conducted by S. M. Dunwoody on his farm near Columbia in Henry County this year showed that nitrate of soda does not pay under corn after a good crop of hairy vetch is turned under. Where there was no vetch and no soda he made 405 pounds of corn per acre; following vetch he made 979 pounds; and following vetch plus 100 pounds of soda per acre he made 985 pounds. Therefore, the hundred pounds of soda increased the yield only 6 pounds of corn per acre.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Your Grandfather Laughed at This One

I do not pretend that these stories are all new, but merely that they are the stories which the writer likes best of those he has heard. Indeed, some of them are old—very, very old. The one which follows has the merit of antiquity. I am including it in the present series because I think it is an almighty good one.

On a south Georgia plantation a group of darkies went coon-hunting one night. Because of his love for the ancient and honorable sport they took with them Uncle Sam, the patriarch of the colored quarters. Uncle Sam was over eighty years old and all kinked up with rheumatism. He hobbled along behind the hunters as they filed off through the woods.

The dogs "treed" in a sweet gum snag on the edge of Pipemaker swamp, five miles from home; but when the tree fell there rolled out of the top of it, not a raccoon but a full-grown black bear, full of fight and temper.

The pack gave one choral ki-yi of shock and streaked away, yelping as they went; and the two-legged hunters followed, fleeing as fast as their legs would carry them.

When they came to a moonlit place in the woods they discovered that Uncle Sam was missing; but they did not go back to look for him—they did not even check up.

"Dat's so! Dat's so!" grunted one of the others. "Pore Unc' Sam!"

When they reached the safety of the cotton patches in an exhausted state they limped to Uncle Sam's cottage to break the news to the widow. There was a light in the window; and when they rapped at the door, and it opened, the sight of him who faced them across the threshold made them gasp.

"Foh de Lawd!" exclaimed one. "How you git heah?"

"Me?" said Uncle Sam calmly. "I come 'long wid de dawgs."

BAND CONCERT HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

The Boys Industrial School Band, from East Lake, will render a concert at the high school auditorium in Clanton on Saturday night of this week. There are forty boys in the band, and they are rated as one of the best musical organizations in the State of Alabama.

They recently played a full week's engagement at the Dothan Fair, and they won very high praise from all visitors who heard them. The band is under the direction of Prof. Jordan, assisted by his little girl. The child is a musical wonder, and bears the distinction of being the youngest band director in the United States.

All who enjoy good band music are urged to attend this event at the high school next Saturday night. It will be a treat to hear this splendid concert.

8 ARRESTED ON INDICTMENTS OF GRAND JURY

The following have been arrested and placed uder bond by Sheriff Littlejohn on indictments returned by the grand jury last week:

MISS CAGLE CONTINUES LEAD IN LAST COUNT

This week the count shows that Miss Alpha Cagle continues her lead in the Union-Banner subscription campaign, with Mrs. Kin Vinson second. Miss Alcia Lowery holds third place, Mrs. E. A. Norris fourth, and Miss Frances Woolley fifth.

There are only twelve more days of the campaign, and predictions are being made freely as to what is going to happen before the final windup of the race. There is only one outcome that can be vouchsafed, and that is that the candidates who continue their work without ceasing, up to the last minute, are going to come out in the lead. The fight among the five leaders to hold their places is very keen, and their friends are preparing to turn every power in their favor during the closing days.

This week is the last count that will be published in the paper until the final tabulation on November 24th which will show the winners. From now on to the close the voting will be absolutely secret under the rules, so that no one, not even the campaign managers themselves, will know how any candidate stands until the box is opened on the 24th and the contents for each candidate added to the already published vote.

Candidates and their friends are again urged to use the merchant votes. Every bit of buying you do from now on to the end of the campaign can be done at some place where the tickets are given, and in that way you can be of wonderful help to your favorite. Call for your tickets at these stores.

There are yet many subscriptions that can be had. Some folks tell the candidates that they are waiting till the campaign is over expecting to get the paper for $1.00 a year. Those fellows are going to have a long lonesome wait. The Union-Banner is never again to sell at $1.00 as long as we are able to keep the value of the paper up to what it is at present. And when it gets to where we can't publish a paper worth $1.50 a year, we will quit and go fishing.

Don't hold back and wait for something that is not going to happen. Give your subscription to some candidate and help her win. You know The Union-Banner is a bargain at $1.50, so why hesitate?

Campaign Rules.

In order to insure fairness to all concerned, the following rules will be observed. The campaign management reserves the right to make any necessary ruling to interpret the rules or cover any question which may arise:

Any lady or girl in Chilton County may enter, except members of the family or relatives of any person connected with The Union-Banner or the campaign managers.

After entry no candidate may transfer her votes to any other candidate, under any conditions whatever.

The campaign shall close at noon November 24th, 1925, and no votes shall be issued to any candidate after that time.

The Union-Banner will give votes on subscriptions only, either new or renewals, which shall count the same. No advance subscription shall be taken for any one person for more than five years. Votes on subscriptions will be given in accordance with the schedule as published below, which shall not be changed; however, special offers for clubs may be made from time to time.

MRS. MATTIE OWENS DIED ON LAST MONDAY NIGHT

After an illness of about a week, Mrs. Mattie Owens died at her home near Shiloh Monday night of this week. Mrs. Owens was a little over eighty years old, and had been a member of the Shiloh Baptist Church for fifty-three years. She was a devout Christian woman and was always the faithfullest among the faithful to her church. There is only one other member of Shiloh church who had been a member as long as Mrs. Owens.

Mrs. Owens had been married three times. She first married James Wilson, and to them were born two children—Albert Wilson and Mrs. Jim Weldon. Her second husband was Mr. A. C. Poole, and their children are Fonza Poole, Walter Poole, John Poole, Mrs. Bay Fiquette, Mrs. Lula Pierce, and Mrs. Perry of Jasper, Ala. She was married to Mr. Owens about three years ago. They had no children. The deceased leaves one brother, Mr. J. J. Armstrong of Clanton, and two sisters—Mrs. M. H. Henley and Mrs. Laura Aldridge. She was the daughter of Mrs. Dick Edwards, who died at the age of about 100, two years ago.

Funeral services were held at Shiloh Tuesday afternoon, Rev. M. J. Parrish officiating. There was a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives present to pay their last sad respects to earthly form of this good old Christian lady.

BOX SUPPER

There will be a box supper at Baker schoolhouse, three miles west of Clanton, on Wednesday night, Nov. 25. Young and old are invited. Girls bring boxes—boys bring money, with the intention of enjoying yourself. Don't forget the date and place. Proceeds go for benefit of the school.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

At Lightwood Junior High School of Elmore County, Beat 14, a Fiddlers Convention will be held Saturday night, November 21, under auspices of the P. T. A. Competent judges will be provided and substantial prizes will be awarded. All fiddlers are invited to participate.

COLDER THE DAY, BETTER THEY BITE

Mrs. J. M. Robinson of Beat 16 was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday. It was interesting to hear her tell of a fishing trip which she made Monday down on the river pond. Her party consisted of herself and Mrs. J. W. P. Murphy and Mrs. Willie Murphy. We suppose that Uncle Jim was along too, as Mrs. Robinson said they caught 19 fine bream and killed 2 fox squirrels. The squirrel part of the story indicates that Uncle Jim was there. They made a camp fire at noon and fried squirrels and fish. One who has never been on a fishing party with Mr. and Mrs. Robinson can hardly imagine what a good time they can have on such occasions.

Friends of the late J. E. Robinson, former postmaster of Clanton will always remember what an ardent fisherman he was, and it is no wonder. He was the son of "Aunt Mahala," than whom no better one ever went fishing.

CEMETERY CLEANING AT LIBERTY HILL

Everybody interested in the cemetery at Liberty Hill are requested to meet there on Wednesday, November 18th for the purpose of cleaining off same. There is lots of work that needs doing badly, and our people are urged to come on the above date and help get the cemetery in good shape. Don't forget the date—Wednesday, November 18th—and bring tools to work with.—Frank Massey.

BARNES-EDWINS PLAYERS HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

The Barneses are going to play in Clanton again. Everybody here knows Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, as they have been to Clanton and played for us several times before. Heretofore they have been with the Cooke Show but this year they are here with a company of their own, and will play at the Wadesonian Theatre all next week. Barnes-Edwins has a splendid cast of artists this season and their repertoire consists of a lot of splendid plays. They open Monday night, Nov. 16th, with "The Flapper Wife," which is a very beautiful classic attraction.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes in Clanton will be pleased to lean of their return to Clanton, and will no doubt turn out in large crowds at the Wadesonian Theatre to witness their productions. Fifteen minutes of music and quartetts will be given before the curtain every night. There are nine people in the cast.

W. H. WYATT MAKES BIG TURNIP YIELD

Mr. W. H. Wyatt, who lives one mile east of Clanton, made a very exceptional yield of turnips this year. He had only one acre planted to turnips and from it he has already sold $300.00 worth of turnips and still has in the patch about $50.00 worth. Will says that he has made 16 bales of cotton this year and that he cleared more off the one acre of turnips than he did off the 16 bales of cotton. He says that he has a nice crop of collards which will be ready for the market within a few days. His corn crop this year will run up to over 800 bushels after it is all gathered. About half the turnips were marketed in Clanton and the other half shipped to Selma and Birmingham.

WORK WILL START ON DAM RIGHT AWAY

The Federal Power Commission has granted a permit to Alabama Power Co., to erect the proposed dam on Coosa River near Wetumpka, at Lock 18. The new dam will cost 13 million dollars. Work on the project will begin right away, it was announced Monday by President Thos. W. Martin. Two thousand men will be ordered to the scene of operations at once. It will require three years to build the dam.

The new work at Lock 18 will raise the water level of the river 95 feet and cause the back water to reach 18 miles up the river to Mitchell Dam. This, together with other dams of the company will make a distance of 65 miles of the Coosa River navigable.

L. C. HARTZOG VISITOR HERE

Mr. L. C. Hartzog of Montgomery, representing Patterson & Ingalls, was in Clanton a few days last week. Patterson & Ingalls are representatives of Dodge Brothers in this territory, selling Dodge Brothers motor vehicles.

Grand Jury Found 28 Bills of Indictment

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
To the Honorable George F. Smoot, Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of the State of Alabama:

We, the Grand Jury empannelled at this, the July Term, 1925, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, beg leave to make this, our final report.

We have examined 59 cases and 230 witnesses and have returned 28 true bills.

We have examined the bonds of the County officials, and find the same with sufficient security to amply protect the County. We have examined the books of the County Superintendent of Education and find them neatly and correctly kept as far as we could ascertain. We find the books of the County Treasurer, as far as we understand, to be in good condition. We find the fee book of the Probate Judge has been kept as provided by law. We have examined the feed book of the Sheriff and find it neatly and correctly kept. We have examined the poor house of our County and find the same in good condition. There are six males and twelve females, and one colored person. The inmates reported to the committee from the Grand Jury that they had plenty to eat, sufficient clothing and good beds. We have examined the jail of the County and find it in good condition and the prisoners well cared for. We found one white man and five negroes in jail.

The Grand Jury is informed that the public roads of the County are in good condition. We recommend to the Commissioners Court that they have the obstruction over the road at Ramblers' Rest removed at once.

The Grand Jury desire to condemn mob violence in any form, and we implore all good citizens of our County to use every effort to suppress such action. We appreciate the able charge of our Court, and fully agree with him that we have in this country, a Government of laws and not of men, and when our laws are trampled under the feet of men, we are on a downward road.

We want to thank the Court for his able charge, the Sheriff for his courtesies extended to us, and the bailiff for his assistance. We also wish to thank our Solicitor for the help he has given us in our work.

Dated this, the 5th day of November, 1925.

D. M. APPERSON, Foreman.

No Indictment in Curry Flogging Case

The grand jury of Chilton County last week is said to have made investigation of the alleged recent flogging of Mr. Thomas A. Curry by a band of unmasked men, and failed to return an indictment against the accused parties.

Mr. Curry has been reported as saying that he was taken from his home on the night of September 18th and carried into the woods where a severe whipping was administered to him.

JUDGE SMOOT CONDEMNS MOB VIOLENCE IN CHARGING JURY

At the opening of the Circuit Court of Chilton County on Monday, Nov. 2nd, Judge George F. Smoot issued a very able charge to the grand jury. In the course of his remarks he dealt with the subject of mob violence in very forceful terms. He said to the grand jury in part, as follows:

"A crowd of men took from his home in this county one of your citizens and administered to him punishment in the form of whipping. Now for more than 700 years it has been the cherished ideal of Anglo-Saxon liberties that no person should be deprived of life, liberty or the pursuit of happiness except by due process of law.

"That guarantee," continued Judge Smoot, "was first obtained in Magna Charta, the great charter of English liberty. From that document and the ideals of the English nation the American government has included in both its federal and various state constitutions that guarantee. There was hedged around the guarantee that peculiar system of checks and balances designed to protect in its integrity that principle and also the principle that there shall be a government of laws and not of men. That peculiar system of checks and balances deserves to be known as 'Americanism' if anything can be so-called.

"Mob violence is diametrically opposed to such a system of government or to any other system of government. It is a most hateful form of lawlessness because it not only strikes at the law but it strikes at the government which institutes laws and in a measure substitutes judgment of men for the judgment of laws, which should follow a day in court. All of the available evidence with respect to the offense will be submitted to the grand jury and it rests with you, if the evidence is sufficient, whether the person or persons guilty of the offense shall be indicted and I am sure that this grand jury as well as all other patriotic citizens will not condone such an offense."

While no names were mentioned, it is generally known that Judge Smoot had reference to the case in which it is alleged that a band of unmasked men took Mr. Thos. A. Curry from his home and whipped him on the night of September 18. It is generally asserted that the grand jury is investigating this case this week, and the outcome of their deliberations is being awaited with much interest.

They Called In A Surveyor To Measure Him For A Coat

THESE two extremes in avoirdupois appeared in a Chicago clothing store the other day to purchase some new togs. And what a dizzy time they gave the salesmen!

Seeing the puzzled look on the tailors, they volunteered to measure each other. But at that—somebody else had to finish the job. The little fellow couln't reach up to survey the big one and the big one couldn't stoop over to measure the little one. So a seurveyor was called in on the big fellow and the little individual was lifted to the top of a table. Then—all went well!

These two are considered the largest and smal'est men respectively in the world. The taller fellow is Tom Ton. He is 21 years old, has a chest measurement of 68 inches, a waist of 78 inches and weighs 640 pounds. The little fellow is Major Mite—18 years old, 23 inches tall, weight 21 pounds.

McSWAIN SHIPS SOLID CARGO LUMBER TO MIAMI

Largest Single Shipment Ever Assembled by a Montgomery Wholesaler

Realizing the possibilities of marketing their products and supplying an evident demand, E. S. McSwain, accompanied by one of his assistants, W. H. Dean, have just returned from an extensive motor trip through Florida, investigating first hand the need for lumber in that section, with a determination to relieve that condition.

Facing impossibilities of doing so on account of continued embargoes on railroads, he has chartered and placed into the service a steamer to carry lumber to Miami and other distressed sections of Florida, where it will be distributed through their own yards. By this means, they will be of material assistance in relieving the distressed conditions caused by housing shortages and enable contractors to resume work on hotels, apartments, residences, as well as office buildings which have been stopped for lack of material.

First sailing of this vessel will be made during next week, with a cargo of lumber valued at about $75,000.00—the largest ever assembled by any Montgomery wholesale firm—which will be followed by regular trips at the rate of about two per month, since the boat has been chartered to run in this service for the McSwain Lumber Company regularly.

The McSwain Lumber Company, who have offices in the Bell Building, have been in the business since the first of January, 1920, entering it just prior to the disastrous slumps caused by the deflation following the war but under the generalship of E. S. McSwain, owner and manager, with his efficient co-workers forming the organization, has weathered the storm and not only made a success of their venture, but have now successfully engineered the largest wholesale lumber deal ever undertaken by any Montgomery wholesale firm.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Better Than Believing in Santa Claus

Two typical wayfarers of the Bowery, penniless and tattered and with their feet half out of their wrecked shoes, were limping through one of the crooked streets of Chinatown. One of them found a small vial containing cocaine which, presumably, had been dropped by a dope fiend.

The tramps had heard many times of the stimulating and invigorating effects of this drug. Also, from association with habitues they knew the common method of taking it. They decided to experiment.

The finder uncorked the vial, poured a quantity of the white crystals into the palm of his hand and sniffed the stuff up his nostrils. His companion finished the bottle.

The effect was magical and almost instantaneous. They straightened their bent figures, drew their rags about them and stepped out briskly. Presently one of them spoke. There was a bloom in his cheeks and his eyes glistened:

"I've about decided," he said, "to make a few investments. I'm going to buy all the diamond mines in South Africa and after I've done that I'm going to buy all the gold mines in Australia."

His transformed partner made answer:

"Hold on," he said, "I don't know that I'm prepared to sell 'em!"

A Dependable Family Income

Formerly in one of the southern states the insane were not always sent to an institution. Sometimes they were formally awarded into the custody of someone, usually a parent or a guardian, and for the keep of such an unfortunate the state paid one hundred dollars a year. This amount, in certain sections, was regarded as a handsome addition to the family income.

One summer, a citizen from the lowlands was up in the hill country of his native state taking title to coal lands for an eastern syndicate. In a canoe, with a native to guide him, he was proceeding along a creek that penetrated into one of the wildest and most desolate recesses of the mountains.

They came to a homestead that was infinitely better looking than any they had seen for days. The house was of clapboards instead of the customary logs, and it was painted. The fences were stout and newly whitewashed. The stock in the barn lot had a well-nourished look.

"Who lives here?" inquired the stranger.

The guide told him.

"Judging by the looks of his place," said the lowlander, "he must be a forehanded man."

"He certainly is," said the native. "He's forehanded, but he's had a sight of luck in his time, too. He's got 'leven children and all of 'em is idiots."

Retherford Furniture Company

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Things and folks appear to be moving in Thorsby this week. The Alabama Power Company now has a gang of about twenty men working on the construction of their transmission line from horsby to Jemison, and another gang about the same size doing the same kind of work between Thorsby and Clanton. The line consists of a 5-8 inch aluminum wire cable, wound a steel wire core, for strength. This cable is not subject to corosion and is of a capacity to furnish all the electric current this section is liable to reqquire, by day or night, for many years to come.

Miss Bertha LIittleton and her sister, Vercie, Mrs. Emmett Billingsley, have purchased from F. A. Gulledge the large house and grounds located about 200 feet north of the hotel building. They moved in Wednesday and are offering their small house and lot on the highway for sale.

Grover Bice, our postmaster, has bought the Snyder place at Strasburg, and moved in Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The house vacated by Mr. Bice, adjoining the hotel property on the north, is to be occupied by Tom Burdett, who moves from John Winslow place south of town.

The Misses Burnett are building two bungalows on the site of the old ublic school building, using for the most part material obtained in wrecking the old building on the site.

W. H. Goodgame has purchased of J. D. Cleckler his cottage near the gin, which will probably be occupied by Webb Parrish and wife about January 1st.

J. D. Cleckler is building a new house on the lot adjoining the place he recently sold to Mr. Goodgame.

We are pleased to say that the first unit of the new building for Thorsby Institute is now practically completed inside and outside, and most of its equipment is installed. Everything about it is new, modern and admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was intended, and the best part of it is that it is all paid for, or fuds in hand to meet any outstanding bills that originated in connection with this enterprise. The latest installations are a steel cabinet for filing valuable papers, records, etc.

Mrs. C. Perry of Massachusetts has donated a fine lot of hymn books, "American Youth," duplicates of the ones in use before and destroyed by the Bates Hall fire, presented to the school by the same lady. These books are especially adapted for schools and young peoples' societies.

Another important item, presented by Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland and her mother, and set up last week, is a "Master Clock" operated by electric current. This hangs in the office and rings, automatically, a gong at either end of the building five minutes before and again at the end of each class period, or at any time it may be set, somewhat after the manner of an alarm clock. Mr. Clark Kusterer, with The International Clock Co., had charge of the installation, and a Mr. Dent did the mechaical work. For the present, this clock simply works like any other, and is awaiting the advent of electric current, that will give day and night service, before it will be fully available for the purpose intended.

Fred and Charley Howard returned Wednesday night from their fishing trip in south Alabama and Mississippi. Owing to unfavorable weather conditions they really had but one day of good sport, when they caught a lot of fish and sent them to Thorsby. They brought with them some Satsuma oranges, kumquats and pecans, all of which are plentiful in the section they visited.

Rev. J. E. Each, Mr. and Mrs. Butler and Harris Turner returned Tuesday from Tallassee, where they went Saturday as delegates to the Congregational State Conference. They report an interesting time.

Mrs. Martin Petersen had as her guest the past week Mrs. Margaret Watson of Birmingham. They spent Monday and Tuesday of this week visiting in Montgomery and attending the state fair there.

Mrs. S. C. Wood returned to her home last week from Birmingham, much improved from a very serious operation.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Lowery last Monday afternoon, to elect new officers for the ensuing year.

The Baptist Y. W. A. met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Billingsley Tuesday afternoon. The program in "The Royal Service" was carried out.

The Girls Auxiliary met with Helen Lowery Monday afternoon. The program in "The World's Comrade" was followed. The subject was "Preparing for Tomorrow." Refreshments were served by Helen Lowery to 16 members, Lola Mae Hayes, President.

On Friday afternoon, November 6, Mrs. Ben T. Franklin entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Curtis Billingsley (nee Martha Martin). The guests were received at the Bride's Book by Miss Lucile Mims. Preceding the registration the guests were entertained by music. The gifts were presented to the bride from a decorated wagon drawn by little Dorothy Von Franklin and Myradie Martin. The bride received about 40 useful gifts. The home was decorated in white and pink, and a white wedding bell, decorated with pink cupids, hung from the center of the room. Late in the afternoon refreshments were served from pink and white plates, by Misses Lucile Mims and Mattie Scott.

Misses Lois Hawkes, Odie Lee Arthur and Elizabeth J. Robinson of Thorsby Institute faculty have been on the sick list for several days. None of them ae considered seriously ill.

Miss Mary Lindley, a senior at Thorsby Institute, was confined at her home by illness for several days last week.

Mrs. Robert L. Primm and Mrs. Joseph E. Each are both ill at this writing.

On Sunday, November 1, the new officers of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational Church were installed. They are as follows: President, Plato Deason; Vice-President, Isabel Gilbert; Secretary, Lois Primm; Treasurer, Thelma Stuart; Chairmen of Committees—Lookout, Isabel Gilbert; Prayer Meeting, Miss Sue Muttay; Missioinary, Boona Lee Wood; Junior, Bernice Kelley; Music, Miss Parker; Social, Betty Lakeman; Flower, Eva Mae Lynch; Press, Lewis Kelley; Whatsoever, Sixten Hall.

NEW Self-Heating IRON

PROVIDES COOL, COMFORTABLE IRONING

This wonderful new Self-Heating Iron makes ironing a pleasure because it relieves the housewife of the exhausting heat; it permits her to take her ironing away from the hot kitchen—away from the over-heated stove—to the shaded porch or yard in the summer time. The Diamond Iron is self-contained; it has no wires nor attachments and can therefore be carried anywhere—indoors or outdoors—to any place where the ironing can be done in comfort.

COSTS ONLY 1c PER IRONING—CUTS IRONING TIME IN HALF

The Diamond Self-Heating Iron costs only one cent for three hours' use—does better work and is much less expensive to operate than a whole set of old-fashioned flatirons, or even an electric iron. It is clean to use, heats quickly and evenly and can be adjusted easily to give just the right temperature for heavy or light fabrics. It saves miles of steps every ironing day. There is no hot fire to trot back and forth from; no waiting for one iron to get hot when another one has cooled. You use and need just one iron when ironing with the Diamond Iron. It is always ready; there is no waiting to get up a hot fire. It actually cuts ironing time in half. It keeps its heat in the bottom plate where you need it until you are ready to turn it off. The Diamond Iron is handsomely finished in heavy nickel plate and requires no waxing or polishing.

DOES BEAUTIFUL WORK

Let me demonstrate this wonderful new Iron in your home; let me show you what beautiful work it will do. There is no obligation. Just send me a post card asking to see the Diamond Self-Heating Iron.

REPORT GOES UP AND PRICE COMES DOWN

The government report on the cotton crop for November 1 added another 160,000 bales to the figures of the former report, and when the new total of 15,386,000 bales was made public Monday the price dropped $6 a bale. The new report estimates that the total production for Alabama this year will be 1,290,000 bales. The total production for Chilton County will be above 18,000 bales, according to opinion of those familiar with conditions and amounts already ginned. The amount of cotton not yet ginned in Chilton County is negligible.

PROMINENT VISITOR PRAISES CLANTON

Hon. Joe Green, prominent citizen of Dallas County, who lives at Selma, was among the visitors to Clanton last week. Mr. Green said he felt when coming to Clanton like it was his old home, and in fact that is true. Mr. Green never lived in Clanton, but he grew up as a young man in what is known as Dry Valley, in the northwest portion of Chilton County.

Mr. Green has been a more or less frequent visitor to Clanton for many years. According to the enthusiasm with which he discussed the growth and appearance of Clanton, this trip must have been an eye-opener to him. Like all other visitors within our gates now, Mr. Green expressed delight with the excellent appearance of our paved streets.

"Clanton is a good town, and a good looking town," said Mr. Green. "I expect to hear much more of your growth right soon, as you are so situated that you can't keep from having a real live hustling little city."

Thos. W. Millican, the famous auctioneer of the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co., was in Clanton last Friday and Saturday. He contracted a sale with Dr. R. J. Eiland to dispose of his property on the Lock 12 road one mile northeast of Clanton. The sale will be held on December 1st. Watch for further announcement.

Mr. M. D. Foshee, editor of The DeKalb Republican at Fort Payne, was a visitor to Clanton Friday and Saturday of last week. Mr. Foshee was formerly Circuit Court Clerk of Chilton County. His many friends were glad to see him again.

Mr. Lewie Crew of Goodwater spent Sunday in Clanton visiting Aunt Patty Smith and Mrs. Nannie Crichton.

T. G. Lake of Mt. Creek was in Clanton this week attending Circuit Court.

Facing East!

CLANTON, ALABAMA—WATCH IT GROW

Things are beginning to happen now that indicate a season of growth for Clanton. There are some "additions" on the edges of the city that threaten to boom into nice suburban residence sections.

W. A. Reynolds is announcing the opening of 36 lots on the northeast side of the city which will be known as Reynolds Addition. The property is the old Garner place. Sale of the lots will be held on Friday, November 20, under direction of W. W. Fox, auctioneer.

A little further up the Lock 12 road Dr. Eiland is laying off some nice lots which he will offer for sale as home sites on December 1. This sale will be in charge of Col. Thos. W. Millican, the world-famous auctioneer of the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

A few days ago the old Tom Weldon place on the western edge of the city was sold at auction by Mr. Fox, and about half a dozen people were purchasers of small tracts of the place.

In the business section of the city there is some fine indications of continued growth. Mr. W. I. Mullins is building a new store next to Exchange Hotel. Dr. Sam Johnson is building three buildings back of Upchurch's on Seventh Street. A new store is soon to be opened by Mrs. W. C. Robinson in the old Broadhead place. V. J. Elmore is making final arrangements to open his 5c, 10c and $1.00 store next to Upchuch's on Second Avenue.

Not far in the future there will be something built of brick to take the place of the old W. I. Mullins building on the corner of Seventh Street and Second Avenue.

It is expected that the Clanton Motor Car Company will within the next year erect a new place on the corner of Seventh Street and Third Avenue.

Clanton is going to grow much in the next two years. Watch it and help it!

O. O. Calfee of Mulberry was in Clanton Monday with a load of good sugar cane syrup. He was selling it like hot cakes.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES

The word rayon has been approved by the Federal Trade Commission as properly designating artificial silk products, the chief ingredient of which is cellolose.

In 1924 the value of milk and milk products in the United States is estimated to have been $2,586,000,000, or almost equal to the combined value of all lint cotton, wheat and potatoes produced in this country the same year.

Milk drawn from a cow in San Francisco on a recent Friday evening was carried in an airplane to Atlantic City and served for breakfast the following Sunday. This was the first time milk was transferred to market by air, if we discount the mythical moon-jumping cow that probably carried her own product with her.

Recent press dispatches from Washington say that President Coolidge has changed his mind regarding agricultural legislation, due to more discontent among famers of the Middle West and West. Although the President is not as yet prepared to outline the recommendations he will make to Congress, he has stated that specific recommendations for legislation will be made when Congress meets in December.

A news dispatch from Birmingham during the recent conference of southern governors said that resolutions were passed asking Congress to amend the immigration laws so that large groups of farmers may be brought from Europe to fill the soil in this country.

No reason was assigned for the action. The fact that the farmers of the United States are now suffering from low prices due to large production of the important staple crops would indicate that there is no reason for importing farmers at this time. The American farmers are meeting the needs of the country and will continue to do so.

SEVEN MILLION PEOPLE WILL BE HUNTING THIS SEASON

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 10.—Over seven million people will be in the woods of the United States during the next few weeks, says the Alabama Commission of Forestry. This represents the approximate number of sportsmen who will enter the forests for hunting during the open season. More people in the woods mean greater relative danger of forest fires, and more forest fires means less game.

It might appear from these prospects that the forests of Alabama are in imminent danger of severe damage. However, much depends upon the kind of people represented by the hunters. If all of the persons in the forest are exceedingly careful, they may not only completely refrain from starting fires but also may be of great assistance in suppressing such fires as occur from natural causes or through unavoidable accidents.

While certain classes of hunters may be very careless, such as those who formerly were accustomed to seting fire to the woods in order that game might be driven within shooting range, nevertheless the general tendency in Alabama is decidedly toward fire prevention. Last fall, during the peak of the fire season, over two hundred hunters spent a couple of days on about a township of land in western Alabama without starting a single fire. The example of these man has been of exceedingly great benefit to the entire state, and forest landowners have very little to fear from this class of sportsmen.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of November 22, 1900.

S. R. Hall of Stanton died Friday morning.

Death of Dr. J. S. Johnson.

On Tuesday night Dr. J. S. Johnson, Sr., after many years affliction, breathed his last at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Tipton Mullins, in Clanton. The doctor was one of the best known physicians of this section, but has been unable to practice for several years. The funeral took place Thursday morning at Isabella.

While out riding last Sunday afternoon, the horse driven by Mr. John C. Dennis ran away. Mr. Dennis was thrown out of the buggy and had a rib broken, besides being severely bruised and shaken. Mr. Will Johnson, who tried to stop the runaway horse, was also badly bruised.

Several families have recently arrived at Thorsby, coming from the North. Some have come to make the "sunny South" their home, while others are just here to spend the winter.

Mr. Will Kemp has moved into the John Garner residence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Evans visited Birmingham last Monday.

Jim Hester visited Prattville last Tuesday.

Mrs. W. T. Callen is visiting Stanton this week.

Married—I. P. Pate and Miss Neale Barnett; A. L. Foshee and Miss Mary R. Williams; James Baker and Miss Mary J. Moates; David Lodge and Miss Emma Wells.

COTTON PRICES NOT BASED UPON SUPPLY

Auburn, Ala., Nov. 9.—A study of the present cotton situation by extension specialists and agricultural statisticans at Auburn reveals that there is no good statistical reason why the price of cotton should be as low as it now is. It is approximately 5 cents below the average for the 1924 crop, which was 23.11 cents per pound, basis middling.

The best available statistics indicate that the present supply of American lint cotton is 17,940,000 bales which includes the 1925 crop plus the carryover. This is about 2,200,000 bales more than the American cotton on hand a year ago, but consumption last season was 3,000,000 bales larger than the preceding year. British imports thus fas have been about the same as a year ago, but Japan and central Europe have taken about 400,000 bales more than last year. World spinners takings are now about 500,000 bales in excess of last year.

What the world consumption of American cotton will be this year is little more than a guess but assuming that it will be 14,500,000 bales, there will be 3,400,000 bales surplus in all the world at the end of this season, which under the changed conditions, would be relatively no more than the 2,715,000 bales of last year.

But despite this statistical position the price is now approximately $25 per bale under the average for 1924-1925. One reason is that the speculative interests have taken advantage of the panick state of farmers because of a larger crop, causing cotton to sell much below what it actually should bring. No doubt the price would strengthen immediately if the farmers with the help of the onsihw bgkfm b mfwgb m b gmb bankers of the South would combine in marketing the remainder of the crop orderly through the well established co-operative marketing associations.

FARM AND HOME FACTS

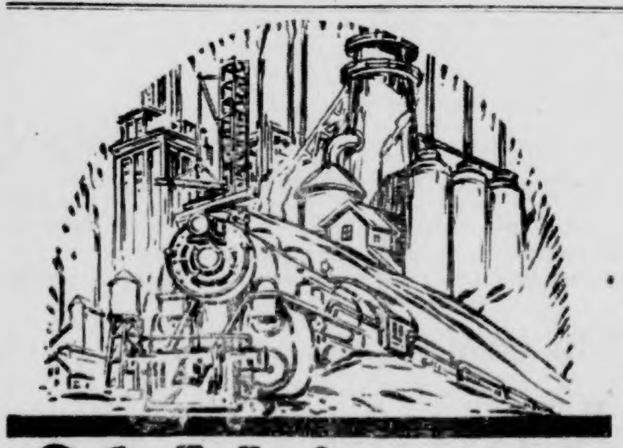
The man who develops a high producing herd of cows is doing something for humanity.

There are now 2,083 counties in the United States employing agricultural extension agents and 930 counties which have home economics extension workers.

It costs nothing to put farm implements in a shelter, but it is xery expensive to leave them out in fields and fence corners.

Not more acres, or more cows, or hens, or sows, but greater yields and profits from each acre, each cow, each hen, and each sow, is the slogan of the modern farmer.

If 75 per cent of all cotton growers in the South were selling their cotton co-operatively the price would not be 5 cents per pound below the average of last year.



The Mainstay of Business in Good Times or Bad

The steam transportation lines of the United States deliver the goods in fair weather or foul, under good business conditions and in seasons of less activity.

Where the merchant or jobber buys in small quantities necessitating frequent shipments (a condition prevailing largely in times of dull business), the railroads make it possible for business to continue and the public to be served. In times when merchandise is moving fast and business booming, peak loads of freight are transported without delay.

Just now the great trunk lines of the Nation are handling the greatest volume of freight in their history. The total carloading for the 36 weeks ending with September 5th amounted to 34,652,418 cars, an increase of 6.7% as compared with last year, and of 2% as compared with 1923. In the same 36 weeks, the L. & N. handled over 1,270,000 cars of freight, or an increase over 1924 of 8.3%. Ask any shipper if they are doing the job efficiently.

HE'S WITH US AGAIN!

Now that the house-party season's
Schedule has commenced—we again
Have that traditional pest known as
"The Life Of The Party" thrust upon
Us. You know—that bird who greets
Everybody when he comes in with
"Now that I'm here, let the Riot get going!"
He may be a perfect stranger to you
But, inside of five minutes, he's Making "wise cracks" at your expense.
He delights in nudging you in the Ribs and, speaking close with his Onion-perfumed breath, whisper—
"Didja ever hear that one about the
Two Irishmen, etc."—a joke that
Had whiskers on it when you kicked
The bumpers off your cradle. And Usually it's this pest who laughs
Loudest at his own jokes.
He's the same guy who hauls out a
Broom from the kitchen, gives an Imitation of a banjo player and then Cracks his voice on all the high
Notes in—"The Shade Of The Ol' Apple
Tree." And you're supposed to applaud.
Gr-r-r-r. Tiring of that, he gives the Old maids at the party a thrill—but Nobody else—by suggesting "let's play
Post-office." Not so good.
At the table, he delights to put olives
In your ice cream when you're not Looking. Or—slip some of the hostess'
Silverware in your pocket and then—
Embarrass you with "Look what I found
In Jones' pocket."
When called upon to make a toast, he Flatters the ladies and tells the men
What "boobs" they are.
The dinner over, he sits there doing
His own dental work with a toothpick.
A thought strikes him and he offers
To—"recite some of Shakespeare's poetry."
Nobody says "go ahead" but he does just
The same. For emphasis, he knocks a Glass of water over your best clothes
And then, instead of apologizing, he Tries to get a laugh out of everybody
With this line:
"When it rains, you can always

Life of the Party? Blah!
Compared to that bimbo - - it's
A shame they drown perfectly

POOR

HERMAN EUBANKS AGAIN IN BUSINESS

Mr. Herman Eubanks, proprietor of the Chilton Bakery, opened his place for business again Monday morning, after a lapse of several weeks. Mr. Eubanks has been in a hospital for quite a while following an operation for appendicitis. While he was sick his place of business was closed because there was no one who could take his place.

We are glad to see him able to do business again. His bakery is a distinct asset to Clanton, and we hope our folks will give him the patronage which he deserves.

Alabama Happenings

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Charles D. Lane, sheriff of Madison county, recently resigned by wire when given his choice of quitting or facing impeachment. The demand for his resignation, made by the Huntsville Bar Association, grew out of a personal difficulty between the sheriff and Attorney Ed Johnson. D. M. Gardiner has been appointed sheriff.

Governor Brandon's course in removing State Highway Commissioners Suttle and Scruggs, was commended, as was the work of the commission, and the proposed $75,000 road bond issue at a good road meeting at Montgomery state fair. There are said to have been something like 40 well-known Alabamians in attendance.

J. D. Salmon, for five years manager of the Jasper waterworks system, for the Alabama Power Company, has been promoted to district superintendent and transferred to Attalla. He will have charge of the Attalla, Russellville and Boaz plants of the company.

Laying of nearly five miles of mains and service pipes in Atalla, part of improvements planned for that city, by the Alabama Water Co., has been completed. The construction crew will immediately begin work upon a million-gallon reservoir, it is announced.

Sheriff W. C. Carroll, of Pike County, denies charges recently made by a gand jury as to his conduct in office. Among other things, he was charged with failing to have on hand as much confiscated liquor as he should.

Birmingham's newly-elected city commission has decided to repair the burned city hall at a cost of $85,000 instead of spending $2,000,000 for a new building, as its predecessors it office considered doing.

The price of sour cream has advanced to 53 cents per pound at Jasper. There are between 50 and 60 Walker county farmers now selling the product, it is said.

Permission has been asked of the public service commission for the merging of the Mobile Electric Co. and the Gulf Electric Co., which is a subsidiary of the Alabama Power Co.

The Mongomery Ku Klu Klan charges that the state laws against gambling were "flagrantly violated" by many games of chance at the Montgomery fair.

The River Falls Power Co. has been granted permission to build a power transmission line from Brantley to Luverne for the purpose of supplying the latter city with lights and power.

Gen. M. B. Houghton, lieutenant general of the Army of Tennessee, U. C. V., died at his home near Montgomery recently. He was one of the best known surviving veterans.

J. J. Meadows, one of the most widely known residents of Lowndes county was found dead in his bath room. Heart failure is believed to have caused his death.

Sylverter Agee, former teller of the First National Bank of Mobile, but now under indictment for embezzlement, has been surrendered by his bondsmen, and is in jail.

The Troy State Normal School has already begun its extension work for the 1925-26 season, Dr. C. M. Farmer director of this branch of activities has announced.

The United Overall Company, of Gadsden, has broken ground for an addition to its plant which will increase the company's output by 1,000 dozen pairs of overalls per week, it is said.

A scale of rates for river packets operating between Mobile and other river cities in Alabama has just been issued by the public service commission.

The Selma Chapter, U. D. C. will devote itself this year to providing a marker for the spot in Selma where the Confederate arsenal stood.

Two negro men and Ben Shaw, a 17-year-old white youth, were drowned in the Tennessee River at Guntersville.

Upwards of 100 dogs took part in the annual meet of the Alabama Fox Hunters' Association, which was held at Talladega recently.

An incipient epidemic of smallpox was reported in Northport recently.

Notice is hereby given that the following described personal property was levied on by me on the 29th day of October, 1925, under a writ of attachment issued out of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, on the 28th day of October, 1925, and that I, T. J. Littlejohn, as Sheriff of Chilton County, State of Alabama, will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at W. C. Roper's farm, near Fariview Schoolhouse, in the County of Chilton, State of Alabama, on the 14th day of November, 1925, between and during the legal hours of sale, the following described property: About 115 bushels of corn, two spring tooth cultivators, one B. F. Avery planter, 8 sacks of cotton seed meal, about 90 bushels of cotton seed, one Chevrolet truck 1924 model, about 300 pounds of pea vine hay, 1,000 bundles of fodder, 2 sets of mule gear, one John Deers stalk cutter, 5 steel-beam plows, 2 guano distributors, 4 Grass-Hopper plow stocks and a lot of plows, as the property of H. B. Chapman, defendant in the case of W. C. Roper vs. the said H. B. Chapman. This property is to be sold under and by virtue of said attachment and the requirements of Section 6198 of the Code of Alabama, 1923.

This, the 5th day of November, 1925. T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
1t Sheriff Chilton County, Ala.

Mrs. A. W. Powell of Pensacola, Fla., is visiting friends and relatives in this district now. Mrs. Powell says she still likes her Florida home for a number of reasons, but one especially—that for convenient fishing, which is her great sport.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Study Club Meets.

A most delightful meeting of the Clanton Study Club was that held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sam Johnson.

In the absence of both the president and vice-president, the secretary, Miss Kathleen Mullins, presided over a short business session and she also had charge of the program for the afternoon.

Mrs. L. F. Gerald read Mrs. Hugh Jones' splendid paper on "The Composition of the Legislature."

Mrs. B. M. Roberts made an interesting talk on "How the Legislature Does Its Work."

Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mesdames Harper and Arthur Johnson, served a delicious salad plate with coffee, to Mesdames N. S. Johnson, Hugh Jones, Oscar Jones, John C. Page, B. M. Roberts, L. F. Gerald, J. Hance Alred, Arthur Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Eric Hart, P. D. Wilson, Grady Broadhead, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Gibbs-Rasberry.

A pretty wedding of the season was that of Miss Leauna Rasberry and Mr. Paul Gibbs, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lucy Rasberry, in Woodlawn, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the presense of a large group of friends and relatives. The vows were spoken by Rev. J. O. Williams of Bessemer, before an improvised altar of palms, conventional greens and burning tapers.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Audrey Leonard sang a group of songs accompanied on the piano by Miss Mary Montgomery, who also played the Wedding March.

Mrs. Hayes Hostess At Luncheon.

Last Thursday Mrs. J. P. Hayes delightfully entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club at a luncheon.

Roses and carnations adorned the living rooms.

The centerpiece for the luncheon table was a bowl of yellow and bronze marigolds with fern. Covers were laid for eleven. The place cards also bore tiny yellow flowers.

Around the table were seated Mesdames M. L. White, T. C. McSwain, Bama Cox, V. J. Gragg, E. E. Upchurch, J. Lee Smith, John Armstrong, J. Watts Moore, J. W. Hayes, and Grady Broadhead.

The afternoon was spent in doing various kinds of fancy work.

Mrs. Reynolds Hostess.

Mrs. Grady Reynolds was hostess to the members of her card club and a few others on last Wednesday afternoon.

The home was decorated for this occasion with cut flowers and potted plants.

Bridge was played at three tables. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. N. S. Johnson held high score and was presented the club prize.

Little Miss Williams Celebrates Birthday Anniversary.

Little Miss Elizabeth Williams entertained a number of her young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Williams Tuesday afternoon, when she celebrated her seventh birday anniversary.

The home for this occasion was decorated with autumn leaves and fall flowers.

Games of various kinds were enjoyed by the little folks.

Late in the afternoon the guests were invited into the dining room, where delightful refreshments were served. The table was beautifully decorated. A birthday cake formed the centerpiece.

Those enjoying the celebration were Mary Courtney Jones, Ruth Gowan, Louise Mims, Mary Edith Jones, Frances Jones, Ardelia and Vonceil White.

Messrs. Will White and S. J. M. Webb of Mulberry were visitors to town Monday.

Mrs. Simpson Hostess At Bridge Luncheon.

A pretty affair was on Tuesday, when Mrs. H. M. Simpson entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at a luncheon.

Bud vases of roses formed centerpieces for each of the three bridige tables. Place cards of patriotic ideas were used. A lovely four-course luncheon was served, after which a series of bridge games were played. Mrs. Arthur Johnson held highest score and was presented two decks of Congress cards.

Those included in this gracious hospitality were Mesdames Frank Callen, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, Sam Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Hugh Jones, J. Watts Moore, N. S. Johnson, John Browder, Grady Reynolds, V. J. Heard, Hance Alred, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

JUST how to make motherhood a joy is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Learn the great truth: use the simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used Mother's Friend. Great has been the praise of Mother's Friend for over three generations!

Mother's Friend possesses the qualities to penetrate beyond the skin and soothe the network of ligaments across the abdomen, hips and back and lubricate the skin, nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally, it makes motherhood a joy! Mother's Friend is safe—it contains no harmful drugs. Right now, from this day on, and right up to the day of childbirth Mother's Friend should be used!

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 32, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

AUCTION SALE

36 RESIDENCE LOTS IN REYNOLDS ADDITION
JUST OUTSIDE CITY LIMITS OF CLANTON
TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Friday, November 20

AT 10 IN THE MORNING, RAIN OR SHINE

These are the most desirable building lots around Clanton. In fact they are the only property now available close to town where such splendid advantages are possible. Twenty-four of the lots are 50 x 140 feet, and 12 of them are 2 1-2 to 5 acres. Everyone of them faces on a 30-foot street which I have just built through the entire tract. They are located on what is known as the old Garner place and are only about 8 block from the court house.

These lots are very desirable for building suburban homes. Electric lights are available at every one of the places, and a home on any one of these lots would enjoy the exclusiveness of the country and at the same time afford the modern convenience of electric lights and all advantages of living near a fine fast growinig little city.

For the man who works in town and wants to keep his home in the country, this is the best opportunity ever offered close to Clanton. You can have garden, pasture, and everything you enjoy by liviing in the country.

There are now two nice homes being built on two of these lots. You can't make a mistake in buying one of them, as it is certain that in a few months this addition is going to be filled up with homes, and will be the best suburban addition in Clanton.

If you want one of these lots to build a home on you can have it. They are going to be sold at public auction with one-third of the price payable in cash and the balance in one and two years time. These liberal terms make it possible for you to buy one of the lots.

Remember they are going at absolute auction, where you come and buy what you see and see what you buy, and make your own price.

The lots are close to the Lock 12 Highway just outsidie the city limits of Clanton. The street upon which all of them are situated leads off east from the highway, and the truck coming to and from the Clanton Grammar School passes along the highway by the end of the street every day.

Now is the time to act. These lots are going fast when the auctioneer rings his bell. Mr. Fox will have charge of the sale. If you are interested you can go to see the property yourself at your convenience, or call on Mr. Fox and he will tell you all about it.

There is no other chance like this to be had near town. Clanton has doubled in population in the last five years, and it is just now started to grow. The man who gets property like this is making an investment that will double his money quicker than any other way.

The school advantages in connection with this property is sufficient to make it highly attractive. The lots are within a few blocks of the Chilton County High School, and as stated above, the facilities for sending children to the Grammar School are excellent.

LAND FOR SALE

At Auction

Friday, Nov. 13--10 A. M.

183 acres of Land on Mulberry, one mile from Isabella School, known as the Maud Veazey Place, will be sold to the highest bidder for cash on the above date.

There is about 120 acres of level land on the place; about 3000 cords of wood and some good saw timber. Two houses on place; a creek that runs 12 months in the year goes through the tract.

The place is four miles east of Maplesville and can be made one of the best stock and dairy farms in the county.

This is going to be a bona fide Sale—no by-bidders. It will be sold as a whole or in parts. I am going to sell it no matter what it brings. You make the price.

If you are interested, meet me at the Cross Roads at Will White's Store at 9:30 on Friday, November 13. The sale will be held rain or shine.

NEWS FROM TEXAS

Will you please allow me a space in your valuable paper to say a few words from old West Texas?

The farmers are awful busy around here gathering their crops. They are behind with their cotton picking on account of so much rainy weather.

Peanut thrashing is all the go. One can hear the echo of the thrashers both far and near.

Misses Ima, Hazel and Pierce Hart, Opal Thomas, Vesta Gray, Messrs. Archie Raley, Willie, Frank and Joe Shoemaker, and Ralph Duke, motored to Cisco Dam Sunday and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Merritt of Deleon, Texas, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gray.

Best wishes to the dear old Union-Banner, from a little brown-eyed girl away out West.

No Wonder Adam Fell.—Sir John Lavery, the famous painter, tells a story about an old Scottish gardener in the employ of a friend of his, who went one day to an exhibition of pictures in London. Among them was one labeled "The Fall." The gardener surveyed this so intently that his employer was moved to ask his opinion of it. "I think no great things of it," was the reply. "Why, sir, Eve is tempting Adam wi' an apple of a variety that wasna known until aboot twenty years ago."—Baptist Banner.

Winter Comfort at Low Cost

To drive in comfort this winter you should have complete protection against rain, sleet, snow and wind. Only the finest closed car construction can give you that.

Doors and windows fit and stay tight to keep out wind and water. Rain or snow cannot penetrate the Fisher V-V one-piece windshield which gives you perfect vision and ventilation. Long semi-elliptic springs and balloon tires take the jars out of frozen roads.

Add to bodily comfort the safety of semi-reversible steering and equalized brakes and the assurance of a motor that always starts easily, and you can realize why Chevrolet spells winter comfort.

HOW TO MAKE CANE SIRUP

All phases of the production of sugar cane sirup from the growing of the cane to the marketing of the sirup are discussed in a new bulletin prepared by the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture.

The various methods of clarifying the juice are described in detail, these descriptions being supplemented by cost data and a discussion of the relation between the method of manufacture and the quality of the sirup. Descriptions of model plants and equipment are given, accompanied by drawings and a complete discussion of the cost of making sirup by different methods.

The bulletin discusses the relation between the cultural conditions under which sugar cane is grown and the quality and yield of sirup. The factors which determine the most economical size of a new sirup plant are set forth in detail. The prevention of sugaring by the use of invertase, a process developed by the Bureau of Chemistry, is fully described. Data on the composition, food value, and keeping quality of cane sirup are also given, as well as information regarding the production of uniform grades, the canning of sirup, and the question of marketing.

A copy of Department Bulletin 1370, Sugar Cane Sirup Manufacture, may be had as long as the supply lasts by writing to the Office of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"I DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure."

Of course you do. You want a figure that you can drape your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what's the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your appetite increase—strength come to flabby muscles and vim and vigor fill your whole system. It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. surely helps Nature build that red blood.

Rules of the Campaign

Vote certificates will be issued to candidates as subscriptions are turned in, and may be either cast at once or reserved at the discretion of the candidate. Vote certificates will also be issued in exchange for merchants votes, and will have the same value, and be under the same conditions as subscription votes. Vote coupons clipped from The Union-Banner must be sent in within one week from date issued to be counted.

Voting shall be absolutely secret during the last period of the contest. To insure this the following method will be used. No vote certificates will be issued after Saturday, November 14. A securely locked ballot box will be provided which will not be opened until after the close of the contest. Merchants votes for any candidate will be sealed in an envelope bearing the name of the candidate to whom they are to be credited and deposited in a box through a small opening. Subscriptions with the money therefor will likewise be sealed in an envelope bearing the name of the candidate to be credited and deposited in the ballot box.

On the afternoon of Nov. 24 the box will be opened and the votes counted, giving each candidate credit as may be shown by the contents of the envelopes bearing their names. The respective totals shall be added to the totals of vote certificates already cast and the winners shall be announced in accordance therewith. Any candidate who desires may have a representative present during the count of vote.

Any active candidate who fails to win the automobile or a diamond ring will be awarded a cash prize equal to ten per cent of the total subscriptions sent in by her. An active candidate is one who sends in at least one yearly subscription each period from the beginning to the close of the campaign.

BAPTISTS OPEN CONVENTION IN SELMA TUESDAY

Three-Day Program Held For State Gathering of Baptist Ministers And Laymen.

Selma, Ala., Nov. 18.—Selma was overrun with Baptists who were here attending the one hundred and fourth session of the Alabama Baptist State Convention the first three days of this week. The Baptists owned the town as all denominations were aiding and abetting in making their stay pleasant and profitable. The advance guard of preachers arrived on Monday to attend the ministers meeting which opened in the afternoon and adjourned after the night session.

Tuesday, Nov. 17, First Baptist Church, morning session: 9:30, Devotion, Dr. J. P. Boone; 9:45, organization; 10:00, report of program committee; 10:05, address of welcome and response; 10:15, distribution of reports which shall be presented in printed form; 10:30, report on foreign missions, W. Night session: 7:15, devotions, D. M. Gardner; 7:30, address, "The Outlook for the Southern Baptist Cooperative Program," Dr. John L. Hill; 8:15, address, "The Outlook for Denominational Education Among Southern Baptists;" 9:00, adjournment.

The following interesting historical facts relative to the early work of the Baptist denomination in Alabama is taken from a recent article on the subject by Dr. Frank Willis Barnett in The Birmingham News:

First Church.

The First Baptist Church constituted in Alabama, which we have any trace of, was the Flint River Church, a few miles northeast of Huntsville. Its story was given much publicity through the work of Rev. R. S. Gavin nearly a score of years ago, while pastor of the First Baptist Church, Huntsville. The Hon. R. E. Pettus has more of the documents connected with the body than anyone else. The church was constituted in the private home of James Deaton, on Oct. 2, 1808, with about a dozen members. The credit of its organization is given to Rev. John Nicholson, who had as his colleagues in the ministry, Revs. John Canterbury and Zadok Baker. This triumvirate of pioneer preachers spread the Baptist faith throughout north Alabama more than a century ago.

The Flint River Association which was constituted on Sept. 26, 1814, was the first in the state, with its 17 churches, and 1,021 members, but as some of the churches were located in Tennessee, the honor of being the first made up exclusively of Alabama churches was the Beckbee (Bethlehem), organized in 1816. Even at this early date it was found advisable for the scattered Baptist churches to come together for counsel in order that a proper program might be worked out. The seeds of the missionary spirit were at work in the virgin soil.

Interested In Education.

Baptists have always believed in education. It was Henry Dunster, a Baptist, who was the first president of Harvard University. When the trustees of the University of Alabama met to elect the first president of that institution, after canvassing the field for a desirable man to put at its head,

AUTOMOBILE TAG RUSH CONTINUES

Delinquents Must Pay $1.50 and 15 Per Cent Penalty.

Although automobile license tags became delinquent Saturday night and 1,700 tags had been issued Saturday night since the first of the fiscal year, October 1, there was a rush at the probate court Monday. The issuance of a tag now carries a penalty of 15% of the cost of the license plus $1.50.

More than 550 tags were issued Friday and Saturday, the latter day breaking a record when 350 tags were issued. There were 2,000 tags issued in 1924 and while it is estimated that there are several hundred more automobiles in the county there is no way of calculating the number for which tags have not yet been obtained. Many new automobiles or used cars probably will be put into use this year; some left the state during the year and others will be stored for the winter, according to past experiences of county officials.

Some car owners are asking the Probate Judge to relieve them of paying this penalty, but the Judge has no power over this matter but it is a state ruling and this fund all goes to the state, and the extra $1.50 and the 15% must be paid by the owner.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES AT NOON NEXT TUESDAY

Who Will Win The Ford Car And The Four Diamond Rings? Next Tuesday Will Tell.

The much-discussed question of who will win the prizes in the Union-Banner Subscription and Trade Building Campaign will be finally settled on next Tuesday at noon, when the last voting period shall end and the final count made.

There is perceptible now a sharp competition among all the candidates to turn in every bit of business possible during the last few days, in order to hold the positions given them on the last count published in the paper. Some of the contenders evidently have hopes of not only holding their positions, but also to flash out ahead when the final standing is annouced.

The Ford car which is to be given to the winner, will be on display at The Union-Banner office next Saturday. Also the Diamond Rings which will go as district prizes, may be seen at Hayes Drug Store and Johnson Drug Store in Clanton. The rings are lovely enough to make any young lady happy.

All candidates may work right up to the last minute of the campaign with the assurance that they will be paid for their work. Those who do not win a prize will be paid a cash commission of 10 per cent on all money which they have turned in, provided they have stayed in the race and remained active workers throughout every period of the contest.

We want every candidate to be present at the close on next Tuesday. Each candidate, or a designated representative, may be present and witness the count of votes.

Campaign Rules.

In order to insure fairness to all concerned, the following rules will be observed. The campaign management reserves the right to make any necessary ruling to interpret the rules or cover any question which may arise:

Any lady or girl in Chilton County may enter, except members of the family or relatives of any person connected with The Union-Banner or the campaign managers.

After entry no candidate may transfer her votes to any other candidate, under any conditions whatever.

The campaign shall close at noon November 24th, 1925, and no votes shall be issued to any candidate after that time.

The Union-Banner will give votes on subscriptions only, either new or renewals, which shall count the same. No advance subscription shall be taken for any one person for more than five years. Votes on subscriptions will be given in accordance with the schedule as published below, which shall not be changed; however, special offers for clubs may be made from time to time.

Co-operating merchants and business men will give votes at the rate of one vote for each cent cash spent with them. It shall be discretionary with them to give votes for prompt payment of accounts.

No private or secret information as to the standing of any candidate will be given out. Candidates who endeavor to win by unfair methods will be dropped from the race.

Vote certificates will be issued to candidates as subscriptions are turned in, and may be either cast at once or reserved at the discretion of the candidate. Vote certificates will also be issued in exchange for merchants votes, and will have the same value, and be under the same conditions as subscription votes. Vote coupons clipped from The Union-Banner must be sent in within one week from date issued to be counted.

Voting shall be absolutely secret during the last period of the contest. To insure this the following method will be used. No vote certificates will be issued after Saturday, November 14. A securely locked ballot box will be provided which will not be opened until after the close of the contest. Merchants votes for any candidate will be sealed in an envelope bearing the name of the candidate to whom they are to be credited and deposited in a box through a small opening. Subscriptions with the money therefor will likewise be sealed in an envelope bearing the name of the candidate to be credited and deposited in the ballot box.

On the afternoon of Nov. 24 the box will be opened and the votes counted, giving each candidate credit as may be shown by the contents of the envelopes bearing their names. The respective totals shall be added to the totals of vote certificates already cast and the winners shall be announced in accordance therewith. Any candidate who desires may have a representative present during the count of vote.

Any active candidate who fails to win the automobile or a diamond ring will be awarded a cash prize equal to ten per cent of the total subscriptions sent in by her. An active candidate

MRS. ROBINSON TO INTRODUCE "NEW WRINKLE" IN CLANTON

A nice rest room for the ladies, a place where they can have the conveniences and privacy of home to rest and doll up a bit and powder their noses, etc., and change the baby's clothes, all right in a store in the business part of Clanton.

Oh, how nice it seems to think of such, and it is to be a reality right soon. Why, we have heard it hinted for decades that such a place ought to be provided for the ladies who come here to shop. But it has always ended with just a thought of how nice it would be. No club, business or civic odganization has ever provided such a place.

Now comes Mrs. W. C. Robinson, establishing her store which she is going to call the Robinson Bargain Store in the old Broadhead building on Main Street. In connection with this store she is providing and furnishing the long-wanted rest room for ladies.

Mrs. Robinson is going to make a success of her business. She has started out "on the right track," so to speak We know the ladies who come to Clanton to shop will appreciate the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Robinson in so providing for their comfort and convenience. And they will show their appreciation to her in many ways.

The Robinson Bargain Store, rest room and all will open on Nov. 21. The ladies, especially, are invited to attend. In her store Mrs. Robinson will carry a stock of things particularly interesting to the ladies. Also there will be many nice offerings in men's wearables.

We hope the Robinson Bargain Store will be a big success, and we believe it will. Such a place in Clanton surely deserves to succeed.

JACK COBB ARRESTED FOR PISTOL TOTING

Deputy Loss Robinson arrested Jack Cobb at Union Grove last Saturday night on a charge of carrying a concealed pistol. He was brought to jail and later released on bond.

MRS. ZEDDIE DAVIS DIED

Mrs. Zeddie D. Davis, wife of Mr. Andrew T. Davis, died at her home in the Maple Springs Community on Tuesday, November 10th, and was buried in the Maple Springs Grave Yard on Wednesday following. Mrs. Davis was 34 years old and leaves her husband and five children.

The tax paying season is now in full swing, and while we go along, it is particularly appropriate to urge all who would vote in the elections to qualify by paying their poll tax. Next year is going to be one of interest politically, as there will be a number of county and state officers to elect.

Mr. Robert Evans made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

DR. WILKERSON REMAINS WITH METHODIST CHURCH HERE

According to the announcement from the Methodist Conference made Tuesday, Dr. C. C. Wilkerson is returned to Clanton as pastor of the Methodist Church for another year. The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Wilkerson will be glad to learn that they are to remain here. It is indeed very fortunate for the Methodist congregation that Dr. Wilkerson is returned to Clanton. His church here is in the finish of the work of constructing one of the finest church edifices in the State, and he, as pastor, has a work at Clanton that could not be picked up effectively by a new man on the field. Dr. Wilkerson led his forces in beginning and building the new church, and it is only fitting that he should remain here until the job is finally done.

We congratulate our Methodist friends upon having him back in Clanton.

IN MEMORY OF OUR MOTHER

Mrs. Mattie Owens died at her home near Shiloh church, after a brief illness. She was the mother of seven children—Albert Wilson (of her first husband); Walter Poole, Fonza Poole, Mrs. Nora Childers (of Laurel, Miss.), Mrs. Lula Pierce, John Poole, and Mrs. Ida Piquette, (all of Chilton County).

All of her children were at her bedside at the time of her death. If she had lived until the 16th day of December, she would have been eighty years old.

She had been living at the same old home near Shiloh church, about 53 years, joined the church at the age of 16, and was a member at the Shiloh church, where she was laid to rest by the side of her second husband, Mr. A. C. Poole.

MAN DIED ON DAY SISTER WAS BURIED

While sorrowing relatives and friends were at New Salem church last Saturday burying the body of Mrs. Arvezona Littleton, they were informed by a message from Bessemer that William J. Bean, a brother of Mrs. Littleton, had also died during the time of the funeral which they were attending.

Mrs. Littleton lived with her family at Bessemer, which place was also the home of her brother. Several days ago Mr. Bean became ill with pneumonia and Mrs. Littleton nursed him until she was stricken down with the same ailment.

Her death came Thursday and her brother's life held out until Saturday about the hour when the body of the sister was being buried.

The body of Mr. Bean was also brought to New Salem and buried Sunday. Mrs. Littleton, we are informed, was 50 years old leaves a husband, Joseph Littleton, and two sons, Roy and Monroe Littleton; two sisters, Mrs. Anderson Monroe and Mrs. Lucile Cleckler; five brothers, Robert, John, Elbert, Oscar and Jadie Bean.

JUDGE REYNOLDS WILL OPEN STORE IN CLANTON

Judge L. H. Reynolds is preparing to open a wholesale and retail grocery store in his building on the corner west of the railroad crossing. He will handle a wholesale line of feed stuffs of all kinds, as well as flour, sugar, coffee, lard, etc.

Judge Reynolds will be lined up for buying goods so that he will be able to make good offers to merchants who wish to secure their stocks from a wholesale house in Clanton. He will buy his goods from mills in carload lots, and can therefore offer it to his trade at the best possible prices.

In connection with his store he will have a gasoline station where he will retail "that Good Gulf" gasoline and oils.

ROBERT EDWARDS IN JAIL

Robert Edwards of Fairview failed to appear in Circuit Court last week to answer to the charge against him for having a still in possessioiin. The court therefore issued a forfeiture and alias warrant for him.

Saturday afternoon Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee went to his home and took him into custody, and brought him to jail.

FRANK MURRS ARRESTED IN JASPER, TENNESSEE

Frank Murrs, who formerly lived near Clanton, has been arrested in Jasper, Tennessee, after a succession of experiences in courts and convict camps. The man married in this county some years back. He deserted his wife and went to Elmore where the law took hold of him and sent im to a convict camp down about Troy.

From the convict camp he escaped and went up in Tennessee. There he married another girl. After a time his past record caught up with him and again the fat was in the fire.

He is now in jail at Jasper, charged with bigamy and some other things.

Mr. Pud Walker has retured from a business trip of several days to Montgomery.

EIGHT MEN SENT TO PEN AND HARD LABOR

As a result of the convictions obtained in Circuit Court of Chilton County last week, eight men have been sent to the penitentiary and hard labor under sentence of the court or to work out a fine for the county. The names of those sent away are as follows:

Burnie Martin, white, convicted for manufacturing liquor. Sentenced to penitentiary for 1 year and 1 day to 13 months.

Johnsie Harris, negro, convicted for burglary and grand larceny. Sentenced to penitentiary for 2 to 4 years.

Mack Martin, white, convicted of manufacturing liquor. Sentenced to penitentiary for 2 to 4 years.

Arthur Whatley, white, convicted for assault and battery. Fined $400 and sentenced to hard labor for the County for the amount of the fine and cost, and an additional sentence of five months.

Will Shepard, negro, convicted for petit larceny. Fined $50 and sentenced to hard labor for the county for the amount of fine and cost, and an additional 4 months.

Samuel Harmon, negro, commonly known around town as "Sambo," convicted for burglary. Sentenced to 2 to 4 years in penitentiary.

Rufus Kyser, negro, convicted for grand larceny. Sentenced to penitentiary for 18 months to 2 years.

FRIENDSHIP

Next Sunday is regular preaching day at Friendship, and Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby will be present to preach, both morning and evening. Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock as usual, followed by preaching at 11. Preaching at night will begin at 7 o'clock. The public has a cordial invitation.

There will be singing in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. All singers and lovers of music are asked to come out and help us in the singing. Visitors are always welcome at Friendship.

CECIL McLELLAND IN JAIL FOR STEALING MONEY

Cecil McLelland, a young white man, is in jail at Clanton to answer a charge of grand larceny, in which it is alleged that he stole $122 in money from Mr. William Dorminey, of Union Grove.

After committing the theft the young man got away and went to Birmingham, where he was arrested and lodged in the city jail. Deputy Will Culp went to Birmingham and brought the prisoner back to Clanton.

OCIE BARNETT ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Ocie Barnett was arrested last Sunday at Union Grove by Deputy Loss Robinson, on a charge of violating prohibition law. It is claimed that Barnett had a pint of whiskey in his possession when arrested. He was immediately brought to jail.

Barnett was tried in the Circuit Court last week on a liquor case in which he was acquitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Span Jones and children of Mulberry visited relatives in town Friday.

Mrs. Dama Cox delightfully entertained the members of the Sewing Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. L. White. Fancy work was enjoyed throughout the evening. Later, the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Grady Taylor, served a salad course. Those present were: Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, M. L. White, V. J. Gragg, John T. Ellis, Lee Smith, Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Mrs. John Armstrong, and Mrs. John VanDerveer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor spent a couple of days in Montgomery last week.

Child-Birth

FOR the expectant mother's comfort and well being, there is nothing that equals Mother's Friend. Its highly refined oils and other ingredients quickly commends it to the thoughtful mother. It is known that plain oils only penetrate the skin, whereas Mother's Friend penetrates deeper and soothes the broad muscles and ligaments; making them soft and pliable—thus aiding Nature to do her part without the unnecessary discomfort and pain. This is why Mother's Friend has proven such a blessing to expectant mothers for over three generations. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is safe and free from harmful drugs.

"I will tell all my friends about Mother's Friend." Writes Mrs. Ben Sbraham, Princeton, Ill. "It is a wonderful help all through the period."

Needless to say the mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most, are those who did not use it with their first baby and through its use with the second, realized its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 35, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

P. T. A. Meets.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Grammar School held the regular monthly meeting at the school building Friday afternoon, with a large attendance. The pupils of the first grade, with Miss Vera Mae White as teacher, presented a splendid Thanksgiving program, including playlets, recitations, songs, and a piano solo by Nell Ross Mullins.

The usual business session followed. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. E. Gowan, vice-president, had charge of the meeting. The Playground Committee reported that a slide for the children of the first second, third and fourth grades has been bought and installed on the school yard. Mrs. Hugh Jones, president of the Hallowe'en Festival, reported that $100 was realized from the entertainment.

Miss Spiddle, representative of the Lyceum, presented three programs of the organization, and urged that the P. T. A. bring the attraction to Clanton, which was later decided to be done. The three programs will be given, beginning in January, the second to be in February, and the third in March.

At this time judges for the school fair were appointed; Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Misses Madelyn Orr and Spiddle were asked to select the prize-winning rooms. Every room in the entire school was beautifully decorated and splendid samples of handwork, etc., were exhibited. These rooms showed evidence of much work by faithful teachers and pupils. Those presented prizes were second grade, Miss Thelma Guy, teacher; fifth grade, Miss Lillian Pate, teacher; and 1st year Junior High, Miss Alexander, teacher.

Each year the patrons of the school look forward to these fairs and they have proved to be very successful.

This concluding the business, the pictures were awarded to the different grades.

NEWS FROM SHOULTS

Our community is being blessed with health, as no one is sick that we know of. This cool weather makes us think of hog-killing time.

There was a very nice entertainment given at the home of Mrs. P. M. Sewell Saturday night, which was enjoyed by a large crowd. It was given for the benefit of the church.

The cold weather is not keeping the people from attending prayer meeting which has been held every Sunday night at the Baptist church since August.

We have organized a W. M. U. and Y. W. A., which we would like to see grow more and more each meeting.

Our Sunday School is sure fine, and meets every Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Friends of Miss Fannie Lawrence will be glad to know she is at home again, and hope she will be in better health.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bearden have gone to Montgomery, where they will make their home.

Mr. Preston McGee of Maplesville was the guest Sunday of Martin Garner.

How to stop BOILS!

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils! That's common sense—isn't it? All right. Boils thrive because the blood gets so weak in healthy, red cells that it can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's not enough rich, red blood to purify the system.

Now—S. S. S. builds back the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells — builds them by the millions! Boils dry up!

S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it.

Stop boils with S. S. S. It's the way. Get it at any druggist. The large bottle is more economical.

The consumption of canned corn is increasing at the rate of about 550,000 cans, or 13,200,000 cans, annually. Last year 12,131,000 cans were packed but were not sufficient to meet the demands. Canners expect to increase their business in 1925. Eight years ago normal production of canned corn was 6,000,000 to 7,000,000 cans.

CROP REPORTS GET FARM BUREAU FAVOR

The nation-wide attack on the crop reporting board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture took a new slant when the Executive Committee of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation strongly endorsed the service, expressed complete confidence in the members of the board, and petitioned the Congress of the United States to continue the reporting service now being rendered.

For several years there has been dissatisfaction in certain quarters with the work of the board and the attacks have been more numerous and persistent since cotton began moving this fall. Realizing the importance of the service from the standpoint of farmers the Farm Bureau officials made a study of the question which ruesulted in the action named.

Contrary to the charges frequently made, the Farm Bureau found that the reports of the crop reporting board contain none of the elements of "guessing" but are based upon information received from reliable farmers. In the case of cotton, 20,000 farmers throughout the South are on the crop reporting list; and, along with these farmers, the board obtains information from bankers, merchants, and others who are capable of giving it. All that the members of the board in any state and at Washington is to compile the reports received from the growers and other sources, average them, iron out any differences, and make public the facts thus obtained.

The Farm Bureau officials found also that the dissatisfaction with the work of the board is not coming from farmers and spinners whose interests are uppermost in the cotton business, but from speculators who find it difficult to operate to advantage with frequent reports which have helped stabilize the market.

This act of the Farm Bureau officials in Alabama means that farmers recognize this service as beneficial to them and to the cotton situation as a whole, and that they will defend and support it. Without it they would be at the mercy of unfriendly interests.

CROP STATEMENT

A preliminary statement of the production of the principal field crops grown in Alabama this year was issued recently by F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, cooperating with the Extension Service, and the State Department of Agriculture, based on yields per acre reported by the local aids of the crop-reporting service, computed into the acreage grown to the various crops this year. The production figures are given in comparison with the final figures for last year, as follows:

1925—Cotton, 1,290,000 bales; Corn, 43,162,000 bushels; Hay, 572,000 tons; Oats, 4,018,000 bushels; Sweet potatoes, 6,762,000 bushels; Irish potatoes, 1,640,000 bushels; Sugar cane sirup, 2,953,000 gallons; Sorghum sirup, 2,940,000 gallons; Peanuts, 2,744,000 bushels.

1924—Cotton, 986,000 bales; Corn, 42,185,000 bushels; Hay, 590,000 tons; Oats, 2,955,000 buhsels; Sweet potatoes, 6,205,000 bushels; Irish potatoes, 2,970,000 bushels; Sugar cane sirup, 3,816,000 gallons; Sorghum sirup, 2,000,000 gallons; Peanuts, 4,000,000 bushels.

These figures for both years are subject to final revision in December at which time the values for 1925 will be fixed.

The cotton crop this year is about 300,000 bales larger than last, due, in the first instance to an increase in acreage amounting to 10%, and to a much larger yield per acre, amounting to 183 pounds this year, compared with 154 pounds last year. This increased yield was accomplished by the heavier application of much better grades of fertilizer, closer spacing of plants in the row, and the almost complete control of the boll weevil by hot, dry weather prevailing throughout the growing season. The first half of the cotton harvest yielded excellent grades, which, coupled with the fact that the crop did not promise so large a volume up to the middle of October, brought an average price very little under that obtained for last year's crop. Rains, which set in about the first of October, caused some damage to grades to about 25% of the crop, and part of this portion will doubtless be left on the ground. The last half of the crop was met by a fall in price, affected by both the increased volume of production, and the lower grades. Altogether this crop will be worth to the grower in the neighborhood of $155,000,000, and will be the most valuable crop of cotton ever produced in this state.

The production of corn is somewhat surprising in view of the severe drought which prevailed last summer. The average acre-yield is one bushel larger than last year on about 72,000 more acres grown. The yield last year was also affected by drought, and the increased acreage this year was practically all confined to bottom land, especially in the Tennessee Valley, which withstood the dry weather. A good yield was had also in some of the southern counties, where the use of legumes for several years has enabled the soil to withstand drought. In some other sections, however, the corn crop will be considerably short of farm needs, and will have to be supplemented by fall oats and other feed crops next spring.

Hay is again very light in yield, and will be wholly inadequate to farm needs for the coming winter. It is possible that the saving of legume hay during the late fall may pull up the preliminary figures to some extent, but the fact remains quite patent that not enough hay is provided for in the farm acreage scheme of Alabama growers.

Oats produced a yield of 18 bushels, against 15 last year, on an increased acreage, and served to supplement the short feed crop of last year.

Sweet potatoes have turned out some better than was expected before the rains came, and a slight increase in total production has been accomplished. The Irish potato crop was quite short both in acreage and yield.

About the same amount of sirup has been produced, sugar cane yielding less, and sorghum slightly more.

The peanut figures are entirely preliminary, yields and harvested acreage not being determined as yet, but the total production will be less than last year.

Altogether this crop has been gratifying, though not wholly efficient for the supply of farm needs in the matter of food and feed.

CHEVROLET

that make Chevrolet the world's finest low priced car

Chevrolet offers you the same type of quality features found on cars very much higher in price. More than two million people in a few years' time have purchased Chevrolets because of this quality construction.

Alemite Equipment Throughout makes Chevrolet simple and easy to lubricate.

Big 11-Inch Brakes make Chevrolet safe to drive and easy to stop.

Chevrolet Closed Models are Fisher-built, of wood and steel—the construction you will find on all America's finest cars. Flexible and strong, they stand hard going over rough roads.

Fisher V-V Windshield—used on all Chevrolet closed models. It gives the driver clear vision and full cowl ventilation under all conditions.

Still other features—a modern three-speed transmission, instrument panel complete with speedometer, polished non-rusting Harrison radiator, and a motor-driven horn—are further proofs of Chevrolet quality.

Come in and let us show you some of these quality features and explain how simple it is to become the owner of a fine new Chevrolet.

It is a good idea to clean and paint the wire of screen doors before storing them for the winter.

The local paper, a good daily, a first-class farm paper, a magazine for the children, and also one for Mrs. Farmer, should be regular visitors to each farm home.

The per capita consumption of apples, in the United States, is approximately half an apple a day, or only 60% of the age-old theory that "An apple a day will keep the doctor away."

Gutters in the roof of the house need to be cleaned out frequently during the fall when the leaves are falling. Lack of attention here may cause water to find its way into the house and damage the walls, floors, rugs, and furniture.

The price of timber has been working upward for many years with assurance that it will continiue to go higher. Farmers are finding that it pays to cut only dead and scrubby timber for wood, leaving the promising young trees for future timber.

The next annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation will be opened in Chicago, December 7, with an address by President Coolidge. It is thought that the President will take advantage of this opportunity to discuss the agricultural conditions and needs of the United States as viewed by him at this time.

Responding to a change in the consuming public's taste, beef cattle are now being slaughtered much younger than in former years. About 80% of the demand now is for cattle weighing from 700 to 1100 pounds on foot, whereas the demand not many years ago was for larger cattle. Few steers now reach the ripe old age of 3 1-2 years. Most of them go to market under 2 years of age.

Recent press dispatches from Washington say that representatives of farmers and farm organizations have agreed upon the terms of a new cooperative marketing bill which will be presented to Congress at the December session with the endorsement of President Coolidge. It is said that the bill reconciles, in a large measure, conflicting views as to what steps the Federal government should take in encouraging cooperation of farmers in marketing their products.

MORE SIDEWALK PAVING

This week the force of the city workmen are engaged in re-laying the sidewalk on the east and south sides of Block 10 in the business section of Clanton. The new work will bring the sidewalk down to conformity with the street paving and will add much to the appearance of the district affected. The project under construction extends from Retherford's Furniture store on Sixth Street south to the corner of Sixth Street and First Avenue, thence west along First Avenue to the corner of Seventh Street and First Avenue at the Post Office.

BETTER EDITORIAL PAGE

The Illinois State Press Association at its annual convention advocated better treatment of the editorial page. Sound editorials give the newspaper character and leadership in the community. Editorials that are on a variety of subjects and express honest opinion and thought are in great demand among the readers.

The country weekly or small town daily that presents a well-made-up editorial page is quoted in other newspapers and is most talked about in the community.

MORE OFFICIALS, MORE TAXES

In speaking of dangers involved in growth of bureaucratic government, the Insurance Field says:

"It was recently discovered in France—the most hopelessly bureau-ridden nation of Europe—that a soldier who had been ordered on guard at the back door of the parliament house during the revolution of 1830, for a few hours' temporary duty in emergency, had been succeeded by another and by all his interminable successors for 95 years, day and night. It was a bureau order that had never been withdrawn and three generations of taxpayers had been paying for nothing."

A LEADING QUESTION

A Middle West farmer who does not claim to be a good road engineer, recently asked a leading question. For 20 years he had been paying taxes to haul rock onto his county road. Road engineers decided to tear up this solidly packed foundation in order to build a "new foundation" on which to lay a 6-inch concrete pavement.

The farmer-taxpayer objected and said: "Why waste that foundation when a 2-inch waterproof wearing surface will preserve it and carry all the traffic that this road will be obliged to handle for years to come?"

In the long run it is the foundation that must support the pavement. If a 2-inch resilient wearing surface of an asphaltic character will protect the old base, keep out water and absorb the shock of traffic, why tear out the old base and the spend two or three times as much money for an entirely new road? As the road tax bill increases, the public demands economy along these lines.

Alabama Happenings

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Sheriff Mack Waites spent the better part of a night pinned under an automobile in a creek near Goodwater recently. He sustained no serious after-affects, although he was forced to raise the edge of the car from time to time in order to breathe.

The Dabney, Fedo and Stribilt schools, near Florence, have closed on account of non compliance of the law requiring the construction of sanitary systems. They will remain closed until the law is complied with, as there is no alternative.

DeFuniak Springs was selected as the next meeting place of the South Alabama-West Florida Methodist (Southern) Conference at its recent annual meeting at Mobile. The conference voted overwhelmingly against unification with the northern church.

Hubert Smith, young farmer of Trafford, Ala., was shot to death recently by an officer raiding a still at which Smith and a companion are said to have been at work. Smith is alleged to have attacked the officer with a club.

All three special three-mill tax elections, held for the school purposes carried in Cleburne county. The tax will be collected for a period of four years, beginning September 30, last according to M. A. Vickers, county superintendent of education.

Purchase by the state department of game and fisheries of the Alabama wild life collection shown at the Birmingham and Montgomery fairs has been announced by Commissioner T. Quinn.

J. Sewell, Jr., Birmingham man, and a guest were robbed by two unmasked bandits who entered the Sewell home after drawing revolvers on Mrs. Sewell. The robbers got $140 from the two men.

Homer Billingsley, former clerk of the state department of agriculture has been pardoned by Gov. Brandon. He was sentenced in 1924 to from one to three years in the penitentiary for stealing [illegible] funds.

B. B. Montgomery, of Birmingham "hollered" loudly when he found a five gallon can for which he had paid $160, contained water instead of liquor as he supposed. He had the seller arrested.

W. J. Wall, who admits having swindled three Alabama railroads out of $1,125 by telling the same story of an injury, has just been sentenced for pulling the same stunt at Bainbridge, Ga.

There is much unpicked cotton around Heflin, it is said. Little of it will be picked, as it is storm-damaged and not worth more than the $1.00 per hundred pickers demand.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner In Its Issue of November 29, 1900.

Early last Monday morning the office of the Judge of Probate was broken open by burglars. The safe was blown by a powerful explosion. Judge Adams says $425 in money was taken.

Married at the residence of Mr. Bryant McKee near Cooper, Sunday, November 25, Mr. A. J. Devaughn and Miss G. V. McKee, Squire J. J. McDowell performing the ceremony.

A report of the grand jury says: "Sheriff Kilgore accepted $10 from a prisoner, John Cleckler, and claimed that the money was received as partial security for the bond of the prisoner, and that the money would be returned. To accept what the Sheriff says about this matter as true, his conduct in this matter was not founded on anything akin to good sense. Should a like occurrence take place it would not be possible to say that such error is of the head alone."

Mrs. W. M. Adams has returned home after a pleasant visit to her home in Plantersville.

Mrs. W. L. Sampey and Miss Lillie visited Montgomery Wednesday.

Hon. L. H. Reynolds of Jemison was in Clanton this week to attend court.

SINGING AT REFUGE LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Although the weather was rather unfavorable, a right good crowd attended the singing which was held at Refuge church last Sunday afternoon. The Refuge singing society was in its regular monthly session.

The service was called to order by the chairman of the society, Rev. M. Lockhart, by singing, after which prayer was offered. Those directing the singing were: O. R. Robinson, Claudy Wyatt, S. V. Miller, J. E. Miner and T. E. Wyatt. Mrs. O. R. Robinson served as pianist.

The society was dismissed with prayer.

EDITOR STANLEY OF BUTLER COUNTY IN SENATE RACE

General James B. Stanley, of Greenville, editor and Confederate veteran, filed with Secretary of State S. H. Blan Monday his formal announcement of candidacy for the office of state senator from the seventeenth senatorial district, comprising the counties of Butler, Conecuh, and Covington, subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held in August, 1926.

General Stanley has a long and distinguished record of public service. Born in 1844, he left the Collegiate and Military Institute at Greenville, to join the Confederate army, serving in the 17th Alabama infantry. He served with distinction, and was severely wounded at the battle of Franklin. In the fall of 1865, upon his return from the war he began the publication of the "Greenville Advocate" and for more than half a century has successfully edited and conducted that paper. He has served as vice-president of the National Press association and was four times elected president of the Alabama Press association. He was appointed by Gov. William C. Oates as brigadier-general in the national guard.

ISABELLA-MULBERRY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deshazo entertained a number of young people last Sunday. They were Misses Nellie Martin, Glois Manning, Pauline Veazy, Kittie Conway, Vera and Jewel Wright; Messrs. Louie Smith, Emmett Conway, Harold Smith, Maxwell and Jethro Hayes. They all say that Mr. and Mrs. Deshazo's home is the place to go for a real good time.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. T. L. Lecroy, who was taken sick last Friday.

We are glad to see Mrs. W. H. Veazy walk again, as she has not been able to walk for some time on account of a fall.

Mrs. D. O. Manning recently returned from a two week's visit to her 3 daughters in Birmingham—Mrs. J. H. Wells, Mrs. R. E. Tucker, and Mrs. C. H. Oliver; and her sister, Mrs. W. R. Screws, of Jasper.

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Grooms are the proud parents of a 12-pound boy.

Mr. Guy Deshazo of Gadsden visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deshazo, recently.

Jimmie Lecroy of Thorsby visited his father, T. L. Lecroy, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deshazo visited Mrs. Deshazo's brother, Mr. Harris, near Plantersville, last Sunday.

CEDAR GROVE

The box supper given at this place last Saturday night was a success. We also had a cake voting contest and quilt selling. The cake was won by Miss Claudie Smith, and Miss Roberts Collins, having the lucky number, received the quilt.

The total amount realized from the boxes, cake and quilt was $57.41. The proceeds go for the benefit of the church.

We thank the people for their good behavior.

More for Better Service

In Addition to the Above—

The L. & N. has contracted for the purchase of 70,000 tons of new rail, for maintenance and new construction work required during the next year.

These new authorizations, together with the previous orders placed for equipment and other facilities, make a grand total of $30,000,000 appropriated during the year for better service to L. & N. patrons.

In a further effort to furnish the highest type of freight and passenger transportation, this Railroad has just authorized the purchase of the quantity of equipment illustrated above and, in addition thereto, ten baggage cars, two dining cars, two standard postal cars, sixteen coaches and twenty-five cabooses.

Mohammedan girls are barred from the stage by law, we learn. H-m-m. We had a hunch that last dancing girl we saw never was near the land of the star and crescent. The announcer said she was the "Sultan's favorite" and that her title was "Madame Fatima," but we're thinking she was some cop's favorite and that her right name was Murphy or something like that.

Why We Have So Many Rip Van Winkles!

Every barber shop, it seems, has adopted the old sea tradition—"Women and Children First"—now that they're all having their hair bobbed.

The late Russian Czar's tailor, according to reports, was a jewel. It seems he pocketed over three hundred of his former boss' best diamonds. Now he's cutting out a career for himself as a banker in Paris.

NEW Self-Heating IRON

PROVIDES COOL, COMFORTABLE IRONING

This wonderful new Self-Heating Iron makes ironing a pleasure because it relieves the housewife of the exhausting heat; it permits her to take her ironing away from the hot kitchen—away from the over-heated stove—to the shaded porch or yard in the summer time. The Diamond Iron is self-contained; it has no wires nor attachments and can therefore be carried anywhere—indoors or outdoors—to any place where the ironing can be done in comfort.

COSTS ONLY 1c PER IRONING—CUTS IRONING TIME IN HALF

The Diamond Self-Heating Iron costs only one cent for three hours' use—does better work and is much less expensive to operate than a whole set of old-fashioned flatirons, or even an electric iron. It is clean to use, heats quickly and evenly and can be adjusted easily to give just the right temperature for heavy or light fabrics. It saves miles of steps every ironing day. There is no hot fire to trot back and forth from; no waiting for one iron to get hot when another one has cooled. You use and need just one iron when ironing with the Diamond Iron. It is always ready; there is no waiting to get up a hot fire. It actually cuts ironing time in half. It keeps its heat in the bottom plate where you need it until you are ready to turn it off. The Diamond Iron is handsomely finished in heavy nickel plate and requires no waxing or polishing.

DOES BEAUTIFUL WORK

Let me demonstrate this wonderful new iron in your home; let me show you what beautiful work it will do. There is no obligation. Just send me a post card asking to see the Diamond Self-Heating Iron.

Putting Electricity to Work for Alabama

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY
Thos. W. Martin
President

WISE old Ben Franklin said: "Money makes money and the money money makes, makes more money."

That's equally true of a state's resources. Coal, iron ore, limestone and a rich farming territory are worth nothing as an undeveloped storehouse of energy. But, put to work, they create wealth.

Low cost hydro-electric and steam power has been a most effective contribution to the industrial progress of Alabama. Hydro-power has lowered production costs in many industries and brought new industries to the state. It has increased Alabama's wealth.

Alabama Power Company deserves the congratulations of all thinking citizens for the role it has played in Alabama's progress.

The interest of Jemison & Company in that progress is twofold. First, the welfare of Jemison & Company is inseparably identified with that of Alabama. Second, Jemison & Company has a direct pecuniary interest because it lends large sums on mortgages in Alabama towns of more than 10,000 population and on improved Alabama farms.

Too Much Knowledge for One Mind

Tom Wyatt was a Mississippi planter, one of the most generous and hospitable of a breed of men renowned for their hospitality and their generosity. His bachelor home, "Belmont," in Holmes county, was a haven of refuge for any down-and-outer. A stranger might come when he pleased and stay as long as he pleased.

One summer a certain brilliant and wellborn but dissipated young lawyer was Wyatt's guest. In periods of repentance and temporary abstinence this gentleman spent his spare hours poring over the Scriptures.

Wyatt, who was an outdoor man and no great shakes of a reader, said to him:

"Jim, you must have read mighty near half way through the Good Book by this time, haven't you?"

"Why, Tom," said the visitor, "I've read it all the way through, not once but several times."

"Yes sir, from cover to cover."

Wyatt slowly absorbed this remarkable statement. After a long pause he made answer:

"Jim," he said, "I'm reminded of a remark I once heard made by an old fellow down in the Delta. He said that when any man told him he knew all the multiplication table he must de a d—n liar!"

There Spoke Envy's Voice

The town drunkard of a small Scotch community went on an especially vehement tear. The village authorities locked him up until he had entirely recovered.

On the second day of his captivity, as he sat in his cell, thirsty beyond words, the minister, who was of a full habit of life, came to give him consolation and good advice.

They sat down side by side and the dominie read the parable of the Prodigal Son. The prisoner seemed to hang on the words. He nudged up closer and closer, bending forward until his face was almost in the minister's face, and listened.

"Please read it over once more," he said when the dominie had finished the chapter and started to close the Good Book.

Touched by this further sign of penitence, the minister read it again.

"Tell me, poor man," he said when he was done, "what was it held you so close the while I was reading—was it the lesson of the Scripture or was it the words?"

"Nay, nay," said the tippler—"'twas your grand breath!"

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Thinking people, both rural and urban, are deeply concerned with the readjustments needed to meet the new demands in rural living. The educational aspects are particularly urgent. Too often attention has been given to secondary and higher education without giving due consideration to elementary education. Measures to secure the return of young people of school age who have dropped out of school or to rescue an illiterate have a popular appeal, are widely heralded, and generously supported, whereas, measure to build up an adequate program of education for elementary school pupils must be most extraordinary to secure more than a passing interest among school people and the public in general.

Such questions as the following were raised at the recent meeting of the American Coutry Life Association which advocates a thorough study and understanding of them:

Why are all city schools in session each year 9 months, and some of them 10 months, whereas rural schools average 7 months, and in some states only 5 or 6 months? Is it because rural people do not want longer terms or that they can not raise the money to support them? How may well-trained teachers be induced to offer their services in rural communities? What changes should be made in the preparation of teachers for rural schools? Should not the elementary and high school courses of study include more emphasis on the economic and social principles underlying rural conditions? What steps should be taken to secure better buildings and equipment? If all the "better things" were added to schools, how would they affect pupils' attendance and progress? Ought not the state to guarantee an equity of educational opportunity to all its children?

Mr. W. M. Wyatt went to Birmingham Monday.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

We were very much interested Tuesday morning to see the erection of the first pole for the transmission of electric current by the Alabama Power Company, for their installation work at Thorsby. The speed, ease and precision displayed indicate that the company is equipped for the business. For the past week a gang of men has been digging holes 16 inches in diameter and 6 feet deep for these posts, and quite near them other holes for guy line posts. These men have passed on down the line toward Clanton.

The boss of the gang working on this job says that with favorable weather they expect to tur on the current Christmas week.

Another important item for Thorsby and vicinity is the activities of the Thorsby Institute building committee, which has had several meetings in reference to the erection of an auditorium which is an integral part of the plan adopted for the new building adopted by the Board of Trustees and committed to the care of the building committee, which is energetically pushing the matter and expect to begin clearing the site and excavating for the foundations and basement within the net few days.

Since Thorsby people are very much interested in Thorsby Institute and have and will continue to contribute to its support, it is but fair that they should be kept informed as to what Thorsby Institute is doing for the community, aside from running a first class high school.

When Bates Hall was lost, their splendid library went with it. This morning we had an interview with Miss Elizabeth J. Robinson, the efficient librarian, in her new quarters at the south end of the school building. We learned that about 700 good books have already been received to replenish the library, which is now open to the public every school day from 9:30 to 1 a.m., and 2 to 3:30 p.m. The use of these books is free to all who comply with the few simple rules governing any well conducted library.

Next Saturday night Thorsby Institute will have their annual frolic, called "Stunt Night." Having no auditorium, this affair will be pulled off in the dining hall, for lack of room only, the public will not be invited this year.

Thursday, November 26th, union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Congregational church, in which the churches and people of Thorsby and vicinity will join in appropriate exercises to which all are invited.

On Wednesday, Nov. 25th, during the forenoon, contributions of food for a Thanksgiving dinner at the poor farm, an annual affair in Thorsby, will be received at Thorsby Institute, the public school and Harper's store. From these places they will be collected later in the day, by some one from the poor farm and conveyed to their destination.

Students of Thorsby Institute dormitory and others are planning for their annual visit to the poor farm on Thanksgiving afternoon for a service of song and a short devotional service.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan expect to have as their guests for the week end Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Peterson of Birmingham.

Mrs. J. F. Peterson of Birmingham expects to return to Laporte, Ind., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Palmer.

Mrs. Ida Bradford met with a painful motor accident last Wednesday night while returning from a visit to the State Fair at Montgomery. While crossing a bridge near Elmore, her car collided with a tourist's car carrying a tent pole on one side which crashed through the wind shield directly in front of Mrs. Bradford. The impact threw the tourist car from the roadway and it was overturned. Mrs. Bradford was seriously cut in the neck by broken glass and otherwise badly bruised. She is reported at this writing to be slowly improving.

The Ladies Aid Society of Cedar Grove church held a box supper last Saturday night which netted them $55 a pretty good showing for a three-months old organization.

The Scandinavians of Thorsby assembled en-masse at the home of Rev. Thomas Bakke last Sunday afternoon for a belated birthday anniversary surprise party, which should have been held the previous Thursday but for the absence from town of the recipient.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Thorsby will hold a box social at the public school auditorium for benefit of the piano fund. Each girl and woman is urged to bring a box, and men folks to come prepared to buy boxes. Everybody cordially invited. 7:00 o'clock sharp. There will also be a cake for the prettiest girl contest.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief.

"A neighbor told me of

and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep, and could do twice the work."

Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Thedford's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks, and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

they chose a Baptist minister, Dr. Alva Woods; and as his successor, they selected Dr. Basil Manly. Not only this, but the first president of Auburn was Dr. I. T. Tichenor, a Baptist minister. The first seminary of learning for women in the state was the Alabama Atheneum at Tuscaloosa, Dr. Alva Woods being its promoter and Dr. J. L. Dagg, the famous Baptist theologian, the first president. But even more than these instances of interest in education on the part of Baptists in higher education is their love for the common schools as the first effort of a practical kind on behalf of public schools brought before the Alabama legislature by Daniel P. Bestor, a Baptist minister and acknowledged leader on the floor.

It is small wonder then that the Baptists soon interested themselves in denominational education after having had such a conspicuous part in secular education. Now comes Hosea Holcombe, preacher, educator and historian, one of the truly great men in the annals of the Baptist history of the state, a pioneer with a vision. The writer rejoices that while editor of the Alabama Baptist, he was instrumental in having a monument with an appropriate inscription, erected over his grave near Jonesboro, in 1912, at which time Dr. B. F. Riley delivered an eulogistic address. The Manual Labor School which he visioned eventuated into Howard College.

Founding Of Colleges.

The founding of Howard and the Judson by the Baptists of the State meant that the denomination was committed to the task of higher education for the Baptist young men and women of Alabama. The story of the struggles of these institutions and their present status has been told many times. The writer having, thru The Birmingham News, made the public acquainted with their scope and purposes. Here at the convention both are to have fine presentations of their needs, and a special train will carry the delegates to Marion to inspect the Judson and to receive formally the handsome new dormitory given to the institution by the Women's Missionary Union.

Naturally, with the growth of the Baptists in Alabama, it was found expedient to have an organ to express the needs and hopes of the denomination. It was here in Selma, after resigning the pastorate, in 1859, that Rev. W. C. Buck, assisted by his son, Rev. C. W. Buck, established the Baptist Correspondent. It was ably edited, and lived to serve for three years; but was discontinued during the War Between the States. (We dare not write it "Civil War" here in Selma with its rich treasure of memories of the conflict). Kind Words, a Sunday School publication of our Mome Mission Board then located at Marion, may justly be considered a creation of the Baptists of the state. It was in Marion also that the Alabama Baptist had its birth.

Woman's Society.

While the Woman's Missionary Union of Alabama no longer holds its sessions in conjunction with the Alabama State Baptist convention, but has a convention of its own, yet the two are closely affiliated and work beautifully together. The writer having written about the recent W. M. U. convention at Eufala, will only say here that at this convention are a number of consecrated women delegates whose part in the body is most helpful. It used to be a case of "help these women" but now it's a case of "these women" helping the men.

Poll taxes must be paid by the first of February. Look after that important though small matter now, and then it will be off your mind.

VARIOUS ARRESTS MADE BY SHERIFF AND DEPUTIES

During the past week several arrests of minor importance were made by Sheriff Littlejohn and his deputies. On last Sunday evening the Sheriff and Deputy Foshee arrested Robert Harris, negro, near Dixie, with a small quantity of whiskey. The negro had the whiskey, something less than a quart, in a bottle. When the officers approached him he ran into the house of his step-mother and threw the bottle into the fire place, breaking it. Harris was brought to Clanton and placed in jail, where he is still in confinement.

T. S. Peavy, negro, was arrested by Seriff Littlejohn on Monday, charged with forfeiture on bond. Peavy was placed in jail and was released on bond Monday afternoon.

Deputy Foshee and Sheriff Littlejohn routed a gang of crap shooters in Chestnut Creek swamp near Cooper, last Sunday about noon. Alphus Grant and Governor Hilyer were arrested. Buck Driver, Wiley Jones, Sam Smith and Curt Hilyer, the officers say, ran away. None of the men were brought to jail.

A young man by the name of Clyde Parsons was taken off No. 2 Monday by Sheriff Littlejohn. Parsons was wanted in Montgomery charged with issuing a bogus check in that city. The young man's home, reports say, is in Ramer, about 20 miles below Montgomery. Officers from Montgomery came up and got Parsons Monday afternoon.

CHRISTIAN HARMONY SINGING ASSOCIATION

The Christian Harmony Singing Association met with Pilgrim's Rest last Sunday, with a large crowd and good singing.

The day was enjoyed by all. Plenty of good dinner was spread. We thank Bro. Littlejohn for his good talk. We also thank the people of Pilgrim's Rest Church for the kindness shown us.

The Christian Harmony Singing Association will meet at the court house in Clanton next Sunday, November 29. Everybody come. Bring your books and dinner.—Secretary.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE COMPANY EMERGENCY FUND

All the money paid in to the treasurer of Peoples Telephone Company has been spent. We have no money left to operate the central office with. If the phone holders do not pay a little more we will have to close the central office. If each phone holder will pay 25c per phone more it will give enough money to operate the central office until the annual meeting of Peoples Telephone Company on the second Monday in December, 1925. If you desire the Peoples Telephone Company's central office to be kept up and the oprator on the job, please call at my store and pay your 25c per phone. We must not allow our central office to close. I am doing everything that I know to do to keep the office open, and I desire your cooperation, and without your cooperation the Peoples Telephone central office will be closed.—G. C. Armstrong, Clerk and Treasurer, Peoples Telephone Company.

R. T. McDAVID DIED IN MONTGOMERY

Mr. R. T. McDavid, of Hinson, Fla., died Tuesday night at 12 o'clock at an infirmary in Montgomery, after several weeks illness.

The deceased was the father of Mr. R. C. McDavid, manager of the Clanton Motor Car Co.

The many friends of Mr. McDavid in Clanton and throughout Chilton County will deeply sympathize with him in the loss of his father.

Richard Terrill McDavid, promient planter of Hinson, Fla., died in a Montgomery hospital early Wednesday morning. Mr. McDavid was born in Chumuckla Springs, Fla., Nov. 24, 1858. He was the son of James Exum McDavid and Margaret Cameron McDavid and was descended from one of the most prominent pioneer families who settled west Florida.

For several years past Mr. McDavid was engaged in growing tobacco in Gadsden county, Florida, and his plantation is considered the most beautiful in that section.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and of the Masonic fraternity, being a prominent Shriner and a Knight Templar. He was frequently urged to enter politics but preferred the life of a private citizen. The sense of loss sustained by his community and state in the death of a honored citizen is being expressed in messages from various organizations and persons to members of the bereaved family.

Mr. McDavid is survived by his widow and their nine children, five daughters, Mrs. L. L. DeJarnette and Miss Jimmie McDavid of Montgomery; Miss Ruby McDavid of Tallahassee, Fla.; Mrs. C. J. Woodbury of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Myrtle McDavid of Winter Park, Fla.; four sons, H. H. McDavid of Bainbridge, Ga.; R. H. McDavid of Tampa, Fla.; R. C. McDavid of Clanton, Ala., and H. C. McDavid of Havana, Fla.

Mrs. Kin Vinson Wins Ford Car

Contest Closes With Miss Alpha Cagle Holding Close Second in Count For Capital Award.

The Subscription and Trade Building Campaign of The Union-Banner came to a close at noon Tuesday, November 14. The final count of votes, which consumed all of Tuesday afternoon, showed that Mrs. Kin Vinson of Clanton was winner of the grand prize, a Ford car, by a margin of 46,440 votes over her close rival, Miss Alpha Cagle.

Mrs. Kin Vinson	3,356,185
Miss Alpha Cagle	3,309,745
Miss Alcie Lowery	1,090,415
Mrs. E. A. Norris	722,465
Mrs. Clyde Meade	593,505
Miss Frances Woolley	589,695
Miss Vilula Littlejohn	428,930
Miss Ruth Easterling	331,380
Mrs. Lonie Scott	242,845
Miss Jewel Minor	188,685
Miss Frauline Cobb	159,975
Miss Minnie Fiquette	155,510
Mrs. F. O. Robinson	147,830
Miss Grace Abbott	147,055
Miss Iris Hicks	145,400
Miss Franklin Parnell	134,125
Mrs. D. O. Manning	123,710
Miss Janie Allen	112,040

Miss Alpha Cagle of Mitchell Dam is the winner of a diamond ring in the southeast district. Mrs. Clyde Meade of Thorsby is the winner of a diamond ring in the northeast district. Miss Alcie Lowery of Jemison is the winner of a diamond ring in the northwest district. Miss Frances Woolley of Stanton is the winner of a diamond ring in the southwest district.

All of the other candidates who did not win one of the above named prizes will be paid a cash commission of ten per cent on all money turned in by them during the campaign.

Interest in the outcome of the count grew very keen Tuesday afternoon as it became more and more evident that the final figures would be very close between Mrs. Vinson and Miss Cagle for the grand prize.

After the count had been finished everybody accepted the result without any question and the winners went their way rejoicing.

We are glad that we can say that the campaign has been a pleasure and a success from every standpoint. The candidates have worked well and faithfully, and the best of all, in perfect friendliness for each other. Although it must be said that their rivalry, while friendly, grew very keen.

The Union-Banner is grateful to every candidate for the work done. In expression of our gratitude we have provided the prizes for the winners and will pay the cash commission to those who did not win prizes.

We are not unmindful of the voluntary help of many friends of the different candidates. Those loyal supporters have worked for the paper while working for their favorite candidate, and we thank them most heartily.

As a county newspaper The Union-Banner now occupies a position never before held by a newspaper here. In point of circulation this paper now stands a great deal higher than any paper in the county has ever reached. For all of which we hereby express our thanks to our friends who have made it possible.

GOOD NEWS

A man came into my store and said to me, "I find that you sell groceries as cheap as the biggest store in town. How is that?"

I answered that "it must be that I buy for cash and sell for cash, and therefore I am satisfied with a small profit. I own my little store and pay no rent. I am increasing my stock as I can pay, and I get a discount on all I buy."

Come and see me and be convinced. —S. M. Adams, South Clanton.

FRIENDSHIP SINGING FINE

The Friendship singing society met last Sunday afternoon in its regular monthly session. A number of visitors were present as well as local singers, and a very fine singing was had. Directors for the afternoon were I. D. Huett, O. R. Robinson, L. T. Grant, Archie Devaughn, Akins Collins, and Prof. W. M. Devaughn. One quartet was arranged by Mr. Jesse Baker. Prof. L. T. Grant and his daughters sang two quartets during the afternoon, which were splendid indeed. Organists were Misses Susie Griffin, Lena Mae Devaughn and Grant, Mrs. O. R. Robinson and Mr. Ammie Boswell. This singing was as good as was ever held at Friendship, and everyone present seemed to enjoy it.

Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby, the newly elected pastor of the church, preached Sunday morning and Sunday evening. Rev. Lowery preached two very forceful sermons. A short conference was held after preaching Sunday night, and it was decided by the church to change the time of holding conference from Sunday nights following preaching to Saturday nights previous to preaching days. The regular times for conference will be on Saturday nights before the fourth Sunday in each month of five Sundays, which will give one conference every quarter. Special conferences may be called at the will of the church.

BIG FIRE IN CLANTON EARLY MONDAY MORNING

About 4:30 o'clock Monday morning of this week the fire alarm was given, and by the time the fire department got into operation the big two-story home of Mr. Walter Calloway on Third Avenue North and Fifth Street was in a raging blaze. The fire was under such headway that it was impossible to save the building, and most of the contents were also lost in the blaze. It was only through the heroic and untiring work of the Clanton fire-fighters that the home of Mrs. Nannie Crichton, adjoining the Calloway home, was saved. Mrs. Crichton's house caught fire several times, but the big water hose was right there and outed the fire as fast as it caught. The fire seems to have originated in the second story of the building, but the cause is not known.

The house which was destroyed was the property of Mr. J. Q. Wade. The house was partially covered with insurance.

When the light of the fire at the Calloway home flashed upon the early morning darkness of Clanton last Monday, Uncle Jim Baker was the first to take up the alarm. As usual Uncle Jim was already on the streets beginning his day's work, and it is very probable that his prompt action in spreading the alarm saved some lives and many dollars worth of property.

Uncle Jim is an old "slavery time" negro and is a valuable asset to this community. He is faithful in the discharge of his duty as an employee of the city street department, and is always ready to protect and defend the interests of our citizens.

MRS. KATIE JOHNSON DEAD

Mrs. Katie Johnson, age 29 years, wife of Mr. John Johnson, who lives four miles east of Clanton, died last Saturday morning, after an illness of about 18 months. She leaves her husband and two small children. Mrs. Johnson said before her death that her only regret was having to leave her children.

Funeral services were held at Walnut Creek church Sunday morning, Revs. G. B. Golden and J. H. Lembrick conducting the funeral. Martin, undertaker, had charge of the remains.

LITTLE BOY DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

A very sad death occurred at the home of Mr. Leonard Mims, of Temple community last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when his son, little Lester Mims, seven years old, was called into the world beyond. The little boy had been sick only about two days. He attended school Friday, and was studying his lessons Friday night when he became ill. He grew worse rapidly and within a few hours developed a severe case of pneumonia, which soon took his life away.

The funeral was held at Concord church Monday morning, Rev. Bonner, the pastor, conducting the services. Rev. G. B. Golden also spoke a few words at the funeral. Interment was made in the Concord cemetery.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The biggest thing in Thorsby this week is the incorporation of Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association, and the purchase of a home for the organization. The incorporation is under an act of the Alabama legislature of 1923 and permits the organization of a marketing association, without capital stock, and allows the company to manufacture their raw material into finished product in order to sell it at top prices. This is considered of so great an advantage that the fee for membership will in the future be $10 instead of $5 as in the past. The new company has just completed the purchase from Lewis S. Howard of the property on Jones Street, near the highway, formerly occupied by Thorsby Business Men's Club, which will answer for an office and assembly room for the present. From Mr. J. Monroe Smith, manager, we learn that it is their intention to build a warehouse for storage of fertilizer, crates, etc., and eventually to open a market on or near the highway for the retail sale of products of the corporation. Mr. Smith says that for the past 30 years he has been connected with various farmers' organizations and all but this Fruit and Truck Growers Association have been short lived for want of vision and good business judgment in conducting them. This Association is now 23 years old and from the first has been a growing and going concern, with influence and efficiency increasing from year to year until now it numbers more than 250 members, scattered over an area upward of 150 square miles in the heart of a thriving and prosperous people in the center of Alabama, and dealing in so great a variety of farm products that there is something to ship almost every day in the year, except Sundays. With new life and energy emanating from activity in a broader field and confidence established among its members and their customers, there is every prospect of rapid growth and usefulness.

Rev. Knighton Bloom, National Secretary of the Congregational Sunday School Board, will spend next Sunday in Thorsby and conduct services in the morning at 11, and evening at 7:30 at the Congregational church, to which the public is invited. Dr. Bloom is a pleasing and forceful speaker, who will be favorably remembered by many who met and heard him on a former visit to Thorsby. In his present position Dr. Bloom succeeds Rev. Charles L. Fisk of Cleveland, Ohio, who has recently been appointed General Superintendent of Congregational churches in the southeast, to succeed Rev. Lewis H. Keller, recently elected President of Atlanta Theological Seminary. Each of these men have many friends in Thorsby and throughout the state. Dr. Fisk has made several visits to Thorsby and has always made a good impression. Dr. Keller has been for several years a valued member of Thorsby Institute Board of Trustees.

At 10 o'clock a. m., on Thursday of this week there will be a union Thanksgiving service at the Congregational church. Rev. R. L. Bonner, pastor of Thorsby Baptist Church, will deliver the address. These union Thanksgiving meetings are an annual institution in Thorsby, and indicate the splendid spirit of cooperation that prevails among her churches. As usual, an opportunity will be given on this occasion to contribute a thank offering to those less favored; in this instance whatever is contributed will be forwarded to aid in the work of the Near East Relief. Last Sunday night there was a union Thanksgiving service at Thorsby Baptist church, when the Congregational Christian Endeavor Society and the Baptist Young People's Union held a joint meeting. The subject was "God's Bounties," and was handled in a way to stimulate the Thanksgiving spirit and also cooperative Thanksgiving.

There will be Scandinavian services at Thorsby Lutheran church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. Thorvald Bakke. If the weather is fair there will be services in English at 7:30 p. m.

The box social last Thursday night under auspices of Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association held at the public school auditorium netted $68. In spite of bad weather a good many were present, and bidding for the attractive boxes, which included partaking of their contents with the lady who brought it, was spirited. Miss Kate McNeil, of the public school faculty, "took the cake" in a most popular girl contest.

On Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Petersen, there was a business meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, when it was voted to make another substantial payment on the piano which the Association is buying for the public school, which puts them ahead of the payments called for in the contract for the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Howard and family, and Mrs. Lewis Howard motored to Fairfield last Sunday and visited Mr. Edward Howard and family, returning Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg motored to Birmingham Sunday, returning Tuesday evening.

The Ladies Guild social will be held Friday afternoon following Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. C. E. Lucas. All ladies of the Guild are requested to be active in preparation for the bazaar and dinner to occur on Saturday, December 12th.

Mr. Frank Hart and family, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard for several weeks left last Wednesday for Florida, where they expect to spend the winter.

Following is the Thorsby Institute Honor Roll (students neither absent nor tardy) during first term of six weeks:

Dovie Atwell, Myra Johnson, A. T. Arthur, Lewis Kelly, Jewel Bean, Bernice Kelly, Addie Brown, Coy Kirkland, Dorothy Butler, Beatrice Kirkland, Ruth Champion, Bertha Kirkland, Sidney J. Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last sixty years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists all over the United States than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Pains Very Severe

"I suffered from womanly troubles which grew worse and worse as the months went by," says Mrs. L. H. Cantrell, of R. F. D. 9, Gainesville, Georgia.

"I frequently had very severe pains. These were so bad that I was forced to go to bed and stay there. It seemed to me my back would come in two.

CARDUI
For Female Troubles

"I taught school for a while, but my health was so bad I would have to stay out sometimes. This went on till I got so bad I didn't know what to do.

"One day I read about the merits of Cardui, and as I had some friends who had been helped by it, I thought I would try it. I began to get better after I had taken half a bottle. I decided to keep on and give it a thorough trial and I did. I took in all about 12 bottles and now I am perfectly well. I do not suffer any pain and can do all my housework."

How to stop

BOILS!

There's only one way to stop boils. Stop the cause of boils! That's common sense—isn't it? All right. Boils thrive because the blood gets so weak in healthy, red cells that it can't throw off the impurities that get into the body. There's not enough rich, red blood to purify the system.

Now—S. S. S. builds back the blood to fighting strength. S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells—builds them by the millions! Boils dry up!

S. S. S. is the thing. Impurities that cause boils and other skin eruptions can't stand up against the rich, healthy, red blood that S. S. S. builds. That's all there is to it.

Stop boils with S. S. S. It's the way. Get it at any druggist. The large bottle is more economical.

MIDWAY, FLORIDA

Haven't had The Union-Banner in quite a while, and we Alabama folks are anxious to read some home news. This part of Florida has several Alabama people and more coming in every day. Midway is a small village situated on the Seaboard Railway just half way between the towns of Quincy and Tallahassee. It has only a few stores, one church, post office, depot, an earth mine, a good school and a sawmill. So it's a lively place after all. Many car loads of lumber, logs, and some kind of earth from the mine are shipped out from this place daily. There is also a chicken farm here. Several thousand eggs are shipped from here.

Mr. McRae, an Alabama man, who owns and operates an electric mill 3 miles from this place has recently bought a mill here, and several million feet of pine timber.

Mr. W. P. Hicks has accepted the position of woods foreman; Mr. Charlie Ed Calhoun as mill foreman—both Alabama men.

The farmers here have made a failure with their potatoes and cane on account of the dry weather, but now it rains most every day, so I guess they will soon have plenty of vegetables.

Mrs. W. P. Hicks and Mrs. Charlie Calhoun visited Mrs. Eugene Thompson, of Prine Lumber Co.'s camp, one day last week. Mrs. Thompson has just returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jefferson of Lawley, Ala.

Mrs. W. P. Hicks received word that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Walker, and sister, Mrs. Sam Shoults, of Lawley, will visit her, and make the trip to the coast while here.

There are plenty of fish and oysters to be gotten on the bays near here, only a few hours ride.

The school teachers, Miss Owens and Mrs. Bemon, are planning some Thanksgiving exercises at the school house next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Revell went down to the west coast last Sunday visiting Mr. Revell's father. The farmers in that section are selling their lands to northern people at a very low price. There are thousands of acres now being sold, most of it at $15.00 per acre. These northern men have the money and know how to spend it.

Wishing our Alabama friends, and especially those in Chilton County, much success.—Mrs. W. P. Hicks.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their kindness during the extended illness of our dear wife and sister, Mrs. Katie Johnson. Especially do we thank Mr. J. Mell Martin for his services, and also Dr. Arthur Johnson.—John Johnson.

Alabama Happenings

The Davis-Ailcott Hosiery Company has decided to establish a plant at Gadsden. It will construct a building which will cost $20,000 and install machines which will require 200 operators.

More than 800 homes and business places in the incorporated towns of Jackson County are reported to have complied with the sanitary regulations of the county health units.

A senior yearling Jersey owned by Summerville Brothers, of Aliceville, has just completed a 365-day test, in which she produced 6,913 pounds of milk.

The Alabama Baptist State Convention, in its meeting at Selma, condemned all measures calculated to discredit state and national prohibition laws.

Cotton, corn, oats, sweet potatoes and sorghum show a large increase in yield in Alabama this year, while peanuts and Irish potatoes show a big decline.

The University of Alabama's "Million Dollar Band" gave its first concert of the season at the college gymnasium recently. A capacity crowd attended.

The University of Alabama football team has signed a contract to play Vanderbilt at Nashville Oct. 2. Auburn will not meet Vanderbilt the coming season.

The Troy Kiwanis Club observed Education Week with a special program. Dr. E. M. Shackleford of the State Normal school, was the principal speaker.

Coal mines in the vicinity of Carbon Hill are now running on full time. As a result, business in Carbon Hill is said to be exceptionally good.

Joseph E. Dorman, of Montgomery, formerly cashier of the Alabama Power Company, recently pleaded guilty to an indictment charging the embezzlement of $14,000 of the firm's money.

The interstate commerce commission has set Dec. 14 as the date for hearing the petition of the Florence, Clifton, and Paducah railroad for building a line from Florence, Ala., to Paducah, Ky.

An additional paving project for five residential streets of Opelika was decided on by the city council at its last business session.

T. C. McClesky, 66-year-old rural mail carrier of Winfield, Marion County, has not missed a day from his work in five years.

Twenty-five Tuscaloosans became Shriners during a recent visit to that city of 600 members of Zamora Temple of Birmingham.

The Aliceville Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the only one in Pickens county, will celebrate its twentieth anniversary on December 8.

Virgil Matthews, one of Coosa county's best known farmers, died suddenly as he sat in a wagon on the streets of Goodwater recently.

One hundred and forty-two "moonshine stills" were destroyed in Alabama during October, Montgomery reports.

A company of famous movie stars have been busy "shooting" scenes in and around the steel mills of Birmingham for the past several weeks.

Work on the Bankhead highway between Guin and Sulligent, will be finished in the near future, it is announced.

The Lawrence county health units has already examined 851 pupils of the public schools this term.

Dr. Kate Dale, medical missionary in Mexico for 25 years, recently addressed women at Camden, Ala.

The Florence Pilot Club has decided to sponsor a Girls' Scout movement in that city.

The Talladega High School is to issue a school paper, "The Red and White."

Ward, Stern & Co., of Birmingham, has just bought $40,000 worth of city of Gadsden paving bonds.

Two new stores opened in Heflin in a single week recently.

Huntsville is said to be preparing to pave several additional streets.

Clarence Tippins, young white man of Anniston, was recently fined $201 and sentenced to 90 days in jail for driving an auto while intoxicated.

Tallapoosa and Coosa county boys have been notified that they won a number of prizes at the State Fair at Montgomery.

National Education Week was observed by the public schools of Albany recently.

CULP-COPELAND

A marriage of much interest to Clanton and Chilton County occurred at the home of Rev. Smith at Woodlawn, in Birmingham, on Sunday, Nov. 15, at 11:30 o'clock.

The bride is Miss Nettie Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Culp, formerly of Clanton, and the groom is Mr. C. R. L. Copeland, of Georgia, though now employed in Birmingham.

Miss Culp, who for the past few months has been an employee of Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., of Clanton, has a host of friends and relatives in both Clanton and Birmingham, who will be interested to learn of her marriage to Mr. Copeland.

Mr. Copeland is a business man, for the present in Birmingham, who has many friends in Birmingham and Clanton, though his home and parents are in Georgia.

The young couple will, for the present, live in Birmingham.

OUR SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

On Tuesday of this week The Union-Banner Closed its Subscription and Trade Building Campaign, the first of the kind ever attempted by this newspaper. There has ever been some division of opinion among newspaper publishers as to the campaign method of going after increased circulation. In fact the management of The Union-Banner has in past years believed that it was good enough to risk winning subscribers by printing a first-class newspaper, and this The Union-Banner has constantly sought to do.

But many people throughout the county were not on the Union-Banner subscription list, and thus did not have an opportunity to judge of the merits of the paper. In order to reach those hundreds of people whom we beleved would become permanent readers of the paper if we could once get them on our subscription list, The Union-Banner decided to inaugurate a campaign to bring those people into our family of readers.

Now the campaign is finished. We have right about twice as many names on our subscription list as we had when the campaign started. The management of the paper is pleased with the work accomplished, and we thank every person who in any way contributed to the success of our undertaking.

Mrs. W. J. Prowell, and Mrs. B. F. Pool, of Linden, Marengo County, Alabama, were placed in charge of The Union-Banner campaign, and now at its close we want to express our appreciation of the fairness which they manifested in conducting the campaign. Their method of managing the campaign has been closely checked and we are glad to say that it has been found absolutely accurate in every detail. There has not been a word of suspicion cast upon any of the acts of the campaign managers, and their integrity, honesty, and fairness under all circumstances was impressed upon every contestant.

Mrs. Prowell and Mrs. Pool are ladies with whom it has been a pleasure to work.

The publishers of The Union-Banner want to take this means of extending our sincere thanks to every contestant for their energy and loyalty; to the large number of willing and voluntary workers throughout the county who helped in the campaign; and to Mrs. Prowell and Mrs. Pool, the able, fair, and efficient campaign managers.

We want the large number of new readers of The Union-Banner to come right in now and each feel yourselves "one of the family." We shall endeavor to give you the very best newspaper we know how to make. And we hope by the time your subscription expires you will become so pleased with your place in the family that you will want to keep it from year to year in the future.

We invite comparison with any newspaper which circulates in Chilton County, and we believe that you will find that the money you pay for this paper is the best little investment you ever made.

Spreading the Feast for the Stranger

When Sam Blythe was a Washington correspondent he went into New England to sound out public opinion on one or another of those crises which, politically speaking, are forever threatening the liberties of the American people. I forget now just what particular crisis it was, but, at any rate, for the moment it was of deep concern to the public at large and Sam's job was to get a slant on the prevalent sentiment in certain states.

Among others, he called upon the retired political leader of New Hampshire, who lived in a small but comfortable cottage in a little town. The old gentleman felt a deep concern in the vital question of the hour, whatever it was. He argued and he expounded, and he produced documents in support of his views. Noontime approached and still he was nowhere near through with what he had to say. So he insisted that Blythe should remain with him through the afternoon.

Having sampled the cuisine of the local hotel at breakfast, Blythe promptly consented. The old gentleman excused himself in order to inform his wife that there would be a guest for the midday meal and also to get some important papers bearing on the subject under discussion, which were stowed away, he said, in a room upstairs. Going out, he left the parlor door ajar.

Through the opening Blythe heard a voice, evidently one belonging to the mistress of the household.

"Samantha," the lady said, raising her tone in order that she might be heard by the cook in the kitchen, "my husband has invited a gentleman to stay for dinner. Take those two large potatoes back down cellar and bring up three small ones."

God Save the King's English!

According to a reliable Canadian authority a London firm received from a merchant in Porto Rico a letter which, properly framed, now hangs on the walls of the home office—proof in denial of the ancient libel that the English don't know a joke when they see it.

The letter read as follows:

"Why, for God's sake, you send me pump without handle? My customer holler like h—l for water.

REAL SERVICE

A national guard company in a western state had been using a loud speaker on its phonograph at company headquarters. Something seemed to go wrong with the instrument and one of the boys took it in to a local radio dealer for repair.

Upon investigation it was found the instrument had been made by the Magnavox Company of Oakland, Cal. The company was written about new parts and replied:

"If Magnavox is stamped on the instrument, we will furnish new parts free of charge, or if it is sent to us and freight charges paid, we will furnish the parts and repair it free of charge. From your description we judge the instrument has been in use about 11 years."

This is the type of service that is placing American industries in the front rank today. A manufacturer or a country that will stand behind its goods or its principles in this manner has an unlimited future before it.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Since there is misunderstanding on the part of farmers in this locality as to the usefulness of the information as to hog production and crop acreages, obtained from the cards distributed by the rural mail carriers, the postmasters of the county have requested The Union-Banner to publish the following statement furnished them by the United States Department of Agriculture.

These surveys are made with the help of the rural carriers, who either distribute the cards to a certain number of farmers along their routes, with the request that these be filled out, or the carrier fills out the card himself by interviewing the farmer. The carrier is instructed to get information from farms which will give a good average picture or sample of farms on his route, preferably by taking all of the farms along a part of his route, big and little, good and poor, owned ad rented.

If a fair sample of all farms is returned in each State, figures for these farms should show the same changes as all farms. It is impossible to take an actual census enumeration of all farms each year, so changes in production and acreage each year must be estimated from samples. The nearer these samples are to being exact, the more correct will be the estimates.

The need and value of such information for individual farmers and agriculture in general hardly need be stressed. Without dependable information as to actual production and trends of production both of livestock and crops more balanced production and better market distribution are impossible.

The Department of Agriculture is the best qualified agency to undertake such work, but the accuracy of its estimates depends upon the arsurasy of the returns made by farmers.

The benefirial effects that such information may have upon price is shown by the level of hog prices during the winter of 1924-25 compared to the previous winter. The pig surveys of June and December, 1924, showed a decided decrease in hog production in 1924 compared to 1923. Marketings, however, during the winter from the 1924 crop were almost as large as the previous winter, and in December and January were the highest on record. In spite of these heavy marketings, hog prices were from $2 to $3 per hundred higher than during the winter before. The heavy marketings were rightly interpreted as being an earlier marketing of a smaller number of hogs caused by a short corn crop and not as indicating a correspondingly larger number of hogs.

But unless these estimates can be kept dependable the trade will disregard them and will be guided either by private estimates or by actual marketings as they take place. Therefore, every farmer should help to make the reports accurate by making the report for his own farm complete and accurate.

APROPOS THANKSGIVING!
We are Thankful
THAT—

Our baby is getting so we don't average more than one pacing trip over the cold bedroom floor per night.

Our landlord has the gout.

Our mother-in-law is going to stay home this Thanksgiving.

We won't have to eat Turkey Hash more than once. (Day after Thanksgiving.)

Women's skirts are getting longer.

Friend wife is not a bridge hound. So we, at least, can keep our furniture out of hock.

So far this year we've managed to come out of every poker game with our shirt on.

We don't have to pay any more installments on our car. (They took it away from us for non-payment last week.)

The would-be opera star next door has sprained her voice and will not be able to try out her tonsils on us for a couple of weeks hence.

And that's that!

A certain town in Texas has passed an ordinance forbidding the cracking of peanuts in a movie show. Now—how do you suppose those folks down there will be able to drown out the noise of the pests behind them who read every subtitle out loud?

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Crumpton-Foshee.

A wedding of interest was that of Miss Erazelle Foshee and Mr. Fletcher Crumpton, which took place Saturday, November 21. Miss Foshee is a graduate of Chilton Coounty High School and has been teaching in the schools of this county. Mr. Crumpton holds a responsible position in Orlando, Fla., where they will make their home.

Sewing Club Entertained.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others were delightfully entertained at a spend-the-day, by Mrs. M. L. White at her home on last Thursday. The living rooms were attractively decorated with pink roses and potted plants. The dining table was beautifully appointed. A bowl of pink roses and ferns formed the centerpiece. A four-course dinner was served. Dainty place cards bore the following names: Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, Bama Cox, John T. Ellis, John Armstrong, J. Watts Moore, J. P. Hayes, J. Lee Smith, V. J. Gragg, George Trotter, T. C. McSwain and Latham. Mrs. White was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Grady Taylor.

Roberts-Johnson.

CEDAR GROVE

Our singing society met at this place last Sunday afternoon, and rendered a good program. There was quite a number of visitors, whom we were glad to see. The following directed 2 songs each: J. W. Lowery, Harrison Hayes, Marvin Champion, Kermit Lowery, and Glover Smith. Organists for the afternoon were Onzelle Eiland and Bonnie Rollins. A quartet was sung after each director. We were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Anna Collins.—Secretary.

Some days ago Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson were here. They are really fine people.

The merchants in this part seem to be doing a good business this fall. That is a good index to the fiancial status.

As per notice in The Union-Banner the Old Book Singers met Sunday at Pilgrim's Rest Church near Pletcher, Rev. J. N. Scott of Jemison presiding. The singing opened at an early hour and continued until 11:40, when Rev. Mr. Littlejohn, the pastor, gave a talk of 16 minutes, making several beautiful and striking points in his talk. Then dinner was announced. It was a bounty, rich and free for all.

Singing was resumed in the afternoon. The attendance was large and the crowd seemed to enjoy the day very much—indeed, the people seem to enjoy those Sunday singings more than any other service. They appeal to young and old, and seem to typify the great feast of "fat things" prophretically predicted for all the people in the future.

Pilgrim's Rest is a beautiful place. —Visitor.

ALABAMA'S SEA COAST

(By David Holt.)

When the Alabama Press Association held its 1925 meeting in Baldwin County resolutions were adopted declaring the Alabama Coast region to be the proper playground for Alabamians and recommending that its beauties be called to the attention of the entire country. The excellent and efficient manner in which the editors have carried out their good resolutions is greatly appreciated by the people who were their hosts in the bright month of June. Baldwin and Mobile folks will tell 'em about their kindly appreciation when the editors rally at the port for the proposed trip to Cuba, which Editors Doster, Stanley and Vail have been charged to arrange.

The Alabama Press Association recommended that the State Highway Department create a continuous highway from the Valley of the Tennessee, through Baldwin County to the Gulf of Mexico. This, also, has been generally published throughout the State and though there has been no visible response to this, it will please many of the Alabama editors that their injunction to Alabamians that they see Baldwin County before investing in or moving to other sections, outside of Alabama, has been effective in many instances. At least a fair portion of the increase in purchases and prospective development of Baldwin County land can be traced to interior Alabama sources.

On their several visits to the coast, the members of the association have acquired aquatic habits. They have had coast sand in their shoes and it is powdered loadstone to the feet. The strip of sandy beach on the open Gulf ten miles due south of Foley, which they visited last summer, is the only beach of its kind within the state which can be reached by automobile, and there is no finer surf bathing shore on the American seaboard. Should the State Highway Commission decide to follow the recommendation of the association and connect the rest of the state with the south shore of Baldwin, it will open to the people of the interior a scene of enjoyment with which many of them have little acquaintance. This road will place half of the population of Alabama within a day's "flivver-float-in" distance of the finest surf bathing beach bordering the United States. It will bring the joys of the sea to the man in the hills, and to all his family.

ANTIOCH NEWS

Dear Editor:

Please allow me space to say a few words about this place as I haven't seen any news from here in so long.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

LAND SALE AT AUCTION

Thursday, Dec. 3rd 10:00 A. M.

28 miles south of Birmingham, 5 miles north of Calera

Known as the Geo. W. Littleton Farm

240 acres of fine farm land has been cut into small tracts and will be sold at absolute auction on the above date.

This is one of the best farms between Birmingham and Montgomery, just five miles north of Calera on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway, and the main line of the L. & N. railroad.

The soil is fine for truck growing and these tracts have been cut to give each tract a highway frontage and large enough for a truck farm. Three of these tracts have dwellings on them.

Come to this sale whether you are interested in buying or not, and let's have a good time.

BETTER METHODS INCREASE YIELDS

Improved methods of production, including the use of better varieties of crops and also larger application of commercial fertilizer, were important factors in the yields of farm products in Alabama this year. Despite unfavorable weather conditions during the summer and early fall, total production of the principal crops, including cotton, corn, oats, sweet potatoes, and sorghum syrup was larger than that of 1924, when the season was considered more favorable. Only hay, Irish potatoes, peanuts, and sugarcane syrup fell short of a year ago.

After pointing out that the present cotton crop is approximately 300,000 bales larger than that of a year ago, F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, attributes the increase to a 10% decrease in the acreage, to more and better fertilizer, wider use of better varieties, and to a more general practice of improved methods of seedbed preparation and cultivation.

For several years the county agents and other members of the Extension Service of Auburn have made fertilizer a major project. By demonstrations they have shown that home mixing and larger applications per acre bring larger yields and tens of thousands of farmers put this information into practice this year.

While total production is larger, a still more important fact is that the estimated per acre yield in Alabama this year is 184 pounds of lint cotton as compared with 154 pounds in 1924. Better farming is due more credit for this increase.

Mr. Gist pointed out also that the average corn yield this year is 14 bushels per acre as compared with 13 in 1924. He said, however, that more corn was planted on land which was suitable for corn and also on land where legumes had grown.

The present apple crop of the United States is estimated to be 164,000,000 bushels, compared with 179,000,000 bushels last year. The decrease in total production is partially offset with better quality. Per capita consumption of apples in the United States is about half an apple a day.

82 YEARS OLD AND AS GOOD AS A YOUNGSTER

"7 or 8 years ago I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and although 82 years old I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Foot-and-mouth diseases which have played havoc with livestock in a few localities in the United States have become a serious menace in England. Cattlemen fear that it is spreading.

REDUCE TAX BURDEN— INCREASE PRODUCTION

Florida stole a march on other states by passing a law doing away with inheritance taxes. The result has been an influx of capital to Florida greatly exceeding expectations. The resulting development along agricultural, industrial and building lines will place new wealth on the tax rolls, which will produce revenue far in excess of what Florida could ever have collected through inheritance taxes.

The California Tax Association has published a statement that a wealthy man who wished to move to that state found that it would cost him $180,000 more to die there than it would in the state where he now resides. He did not move to California.

Florida has capitalized an opportunity open to every community, namely, by reducing the tax barden she has encouraged the investor to devtlop her resources.

No more striking object lesson can be offered to national or local governments that tax oppression kills the sources of tax revenue, while tax moderation will build up taxable assets. A first step toward scientific tax reduction and equalization is to outlaw the unfair tax exempt bond.

Nearly all the one-crop farmers we know are always having a hard time getting by, makes no difference what the crop brings on the market.

ELECTION NOTICE

Notice of Special Election to be held in Proposed Tax District "D" of Chilton County, Alabama.

Notice is hereby given that a special election will be held on the 21st day of December, 1925, to determine whether or not all districts involved are willing to unite into one Tax District to be known as Tax District "D" of Chilton County, Alabama, and whether or not a special District Tax of thirty cents on each one hundred ($100.00) dollars worth of taxable property shall be levied and collected annually on the taxable property of said proposed tax district "D" for a period of four years beginning September 30, 1926. The election to be held at Stanton schoolhouse in Dist. No. 4 and at the following other places: Riderville schoolhouse and West Chilton schoolhouse. Said levy is proposed to be made for public school purposes within said Tax District "D". The boundaries of said tax district "D" are as follows:

Things to Know
Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use a non-irritating, safe penetrating lubricant to keep the skin, muscles and ligaments soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is just such a preparation. It is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend has saved thousands of expectant mothers from much useless suffering. It relaxes those drawing, stretching pains so common during expectancy.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. H, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Dawes Strikes At Weak Politicians

Places Two Senators on Record For Amending Senate Rule; Makes Appeal to Voters of U. S.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 30.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes publicly placed two senators on record today with regard to his proposals for limitation of senate debate by majority cloture. Senators Charles S. Deneen and William B. McKinley, all eyes upon them, got on their feet when the vice-president called for a rising vote of those who favored the Dawes campaign against filibusters.

The senators sat on the speaker's platform at the meeting, which was conducted by the Women's Roosevelt Republican club in connectiin with the convention of women's Republican clubs of Illinois. When the rising vote was called for, there was a general response from the audience, but those on the platform remained seated until Mr. Dawes turned toward them.

The vice president had previously warned that senators who did not support reform of senate rules would not be reelected.

"I am not hitting the senators present," he had said, "Senator McKinley for some time has been preaching the things that I am preaching, and I thing Sen. Deneen is going to do it. If he isn't, he isn't going back to the senate from this state.

"However, if he shouldn't agree with me, my saying this would not make any difference with him." Then the vice-president's first shot into the air as he shouted: "I respect the man of courage who opposes me like Wadsworth of New York. The men I hate are the pee-wits who want to pigeonhole the issue so they can sneak.

I waste no time supplicating the members of the United States senate. I go over their heads to their constituents. The senators give each other unlimited time to talk about a cure for rheumatism. They give the vice president twelve and a half minutes in four years. That's no reason I made the most of it.

"I'm not a politician; I'm an accident. My experience is my best qualification for office in these days.

"The senate passed 100 bills in 100 minutes—not time to read their titles. And they called it a deliberate body.

NORMAL SCHOOL OF MUSIC BEGIN JANUARY 4

Arrangements have recently been completed for a normal school of music to be taught at Concord beginning on January 4th, 1926. The school will be taught by Prof. C. C. Stafford of Woxahatchie, Texas, assisted by Prof. W. M. Devaughn of Cooper. Other teachers will be employed if necessity rises.

Prof. Stafford is one of the most noted composers and teachers of sacred music in the whole country. It is fortunate for those who wish to prepare themselves for teaching music to have at their service such a splendid instructor as Prof. Stafford. The elementary part of the school will be taught by Prof. W. M. Devaughn, who is well known throughout the county as a very efficient and able teacher of music and rudiments.

Those who wish to get more of the particulars of the school may confer either with Prof. W. M. Devaughn or Mr. Jesse Baker of Clanton.

ELMORE'S NEW STORE THE "TALK OF THE TOWN"

Mr. V. J. Elmore opened his new 5c, 10c, and $1.00 store in Clanton last Saturday. The opening was attended by a great throng of folks, the number of which is estimated to have been more than ever were in one store in a single day in Clanton. The new store is a real "ten cent" store, just like you see in the cities. Everything can be bought there, and it is displayed very beautifully with the price tags telling you what each item sells for.

Mr. Elmore is to be congratulated upon bringing this store to Clanton. That it is going to be a successful business venture is a foregone conclusion. The people are glad that Clanton das such a store as has been evidenced by the liberal patronage given the place since it opened for business.

For the holiday trade Mr. Elmore has already received a solid car load of Christmas goods, which is the ladgest single shipment of its kind ever brought to Clanton.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE CO.

Annual Meeting To Be Held at the Court House in Clanton, on Dec. 14, 1925.

The annual meeting of the Peoples Telephone Company will be held at the Court House in Clanton, at 10:00 a. m., on the second Monday in December, December 14, 1925. Each line must have their line meeting and elect a Director from the stockholders of each telephone line to represent their line at this annual meeting. This is an important meeting. Every person interested in the welfare and promotion of the Peoples Telephone Co., should be present, as there is important business is to be brought up. The question of the Peoples Telephone Company consolidating with the Southern Bell Telephone Co., will be brought up and decided. You must elect the following officers at this meeting: a President, a Secretary and Treasurer, and 5 directors, to serve during the next year. The amount to be raised on the central fee for the next year must be decided upon at this time. The very life of the Peoples Telephone Company depends upon your interest and action at this meeting. The Peoples Telephone Company cannot continue to operate unless you take a personal interest in its promotion and upkeep.

Please call together at once the stockholders of each line and elect your Director to represent your line, and instruct him to be at this meeting on December 14th, and also instruct him what you desire to be done. Let him come to the meeting prepared to do something for the Peoples Telephone Company. We have the best system and service anywhere to be found. Let's keep what we have, and make it better. Let's work together for our own good. Do something—say something. It will not do to lose what we have.

Yours Respectfully,
G. C. ARMSTRONG,
Secretary and Treasurer,
Peoples Telephoe Co.

HON. W. B. CRAIG DIES IN SELMA

Selma, Ala., Nov. 27.—Hon. William B. Craig, member of the sixtieth and sixty-first congresses from this district and one of the most prominent lawyers of the state, died at a local hospital this morning following an operation performed last Monday.

EILAND SALE TUESDAY WAS A SUCCESS

The sale of Dr. Eiland's property Tuesday by the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company was very successful.

The property sold was the old Gilchrist place one mile out from town on the Lock 12 road. It brought $3,490.00 and was sold in three lots. Mr. Wiley Smith bought the lot on which the house is located. Mrs. Mollie Goodgame bought the corner lot, and Mr. Van Smith bought the third lot.

Col. Thos. W. Millican, the auctioneer, and his associates are well pleased with the outcome of the sale. They say it shows them that there is some life in property in this part of the country. They are figuring on some other sales, which they expect to announce in the next few weeks.

ALEX SMITHERMAN

Mr. Alex Smitherman, age 51, died at his home near Bice's Ovens on last Thursday, Nov. 26. The remains were buried the following day at New Harmony, Lomax, Rev. W. P. Lowery conducting the funeral.

NOTICE

I wll proceed to sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash the Mt. Carmel school building and the land on which it is located, on December 28, 1925, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

B. LAWRENCE,
County Supt. of Education.

THE BIG POTATO

Mr. E. H. Mims has brought The Union-Banner a big Porto Rico yam which weighs 8 pounds and 2 ounces.

Mr. Mims says he got it on the ragged end of the outside row. He expects to find some real big ones when he digs down in the middle of his patch.

MISS LENA DOWNS AT THE ROBINSON BARGAIN STORE

The many friends of Miss Lena Downs will be glad to know that she is now connected with the Robinson Bargain Store, where she will be glad to have them call to see her.

MRS. CURLEE AT THE ROBINSON BARGAIN STORE

Mrs. J. M. Curlee wishes her friends to know tht she is now with the Robinson Bargain Store, in charge of the dressmaking department. The ladies are invited to call and see her.

"NOBODY'S DARLING"

A play entitled "Nobody's Darling" will be given at the Stanton School building Saturday night, December 5. A good show is promised. Everybody come.

LAWRENCE MOVING

Mr. J. P. Lawrence is vacating the building which he has occupied with his garage for several years. He has discontinued his garage work and will devote his entire time to the wholesale of Standard Oil products. He will have his office in the new Wade Building on Second Avenue, with O. M. Carter's Radio Shop. He is moving this week.

The place which Mr. Lawrence is vacating is for rent by Mr. W. W. Fox, the owner of the building.

MR. FOX SICK AGAIN

The many friends of Mr. W. W. Fox will regret to learn that he is confined to his room again. He has not been out of the house for several days, but is better now than he was a week ago. If he continues to improve he will be able to get out by the last of this week.

Mr. Fox has determined to sell his store and get out of business as his health will not permit him to continue. He has a good little business which would be a good proposition for somebody who will hustle and is able to stay with it.

NO JUICE NEXT SUNDAY

Mr. Leonard Williams, local manager of the Alabama Power Company in Clanton, authorizes us to say that the current in Clanton will be cut off next Sunday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., owing to the installation of some large transformers at the city substation. The capacity of the station here is being enlarged in order to take care of the Thorsby-Jemison load which is soon to be connected on here.

Miss Helma Rasberry spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Allie Williams.

Mr. H. J. Grooms attended the Fifth Sunday Meeting at Sardis.

Mr. Thomas Woolley from Stanton was in the Mulberry community Sunday.—A Reader.

PLANTING DOLLARS FOR A SAFE HARVEST

During recent years the farmer, who had formerly devoted all his land and energies of one crop, learned the value of diversified farming. Farmers in the wheat-belt particularly, confronted in the past by discouraging crop failures or low prices, have recognized the folly of depending solely upon a single crop. Acreage reduction, rotation and diversification have had much to do with the present prosperity of agriculture. The wise farmer now plants several crops. In the case of the failure of wheat or a poor market on corn, his losses will be offset by his profits on the entire harvest. In fine, the farmer who is prospering is making every effort to reduce the element of uncertainty in his speculation.

The man who intends to plant the dollar seeds of his income in investments will do well to follow the plan of the farmer, and avoid the error that he has learned to avoid. To hazard one's fortune or small savings in one industry, railroad or utility company is neither wise nor necessary. No matter what evidence a security gives of being thoroughly sound, it may be unwise to invest the greater part of one's funds in it, since in this world of floods, fires and wars no investment is absolutely safe. The investor who places his surplus funds in a wide number of different types and classes of securities, so that he will have a variety of holdings none of which will be subject to the same possible hazards, is taking a logical step toward the preservation of his principal sum.

The end of diversification in investing is a simple attempt to minimize the element of risk. It is just as necessary to profitable and sound investing as it is to profitable farming. And it is just as possible for the man with $1,000 to invest as it is for the man who can invest $100,000.

SPECIAL AT DIEF'S SERVICE STATION

Mr. L. E. Diefenderfer, proprietor of Dief's Service Station in Clanton, is announcing a special offer to the motorists of this vicinity, beginning on December 5th and continuing for two weeks.

We urge you to read about it in his advertisement elsewhere in this paper. If you are interested in automobile goods, etc., it will be profitable for you to see Dief on December 5th.

ABOUT NEW SALEM CHURCH

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words that I am sure will be of interest to the members of New Salem chudch and to our friends throughout the county, who are interested in us.

New Salem church has served as a beacon light on the coast of time for almost if not more than a century. Today, however, we have grown until a larger program seemed to be necessary to those of us who were trying to find the will of God in the matter. The following program was the outcome of our prayers:

There will be preaching two Sundays in each month, the first and the third Sundays; also on the first Saturday in each month we will have an eleven o'clock service and a business meeting. All members of the church should attend this service.

The B. Y. P. U., Sunday School, and W. M. U. is being enlarged to meet our growing church and community. There is a place in this program for every man, woman, and child. Shall someone else fill their places and attempt to fill yours? We are counting upon you and we are sure we will have the loyal support of our members and friends. Everybody is especially invited to come and worship with us. Brethren, pray for us that we may succeed in a great way for the glory of Christ and be an inspiration to our sister churches.

B. F. Dykes, Pastor.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT AT VERBENA HIGH SCHOOL

Under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Burnside, the Glee Club of Verbena High School will put on its annual concert at the new high school auditorium on Friday night, December 4. The program w ll begin at 8 p.m. and consists of songs, medleys, readings, solos, negro spirituals and duets.

POWER COMPANY WORKMEN HERE

Workmen of the Alabama Power Company are in Clanton this week putting in high poles preparatory to connecting up their line to Thorsby and Jemison. It is expected that they will turn on the juice to these towns in the next few weeks, as the line is about finished.

MIDDLETON BACK HOME

Col. J. O. Middleton returned to his home in Clanton Tuesday, after several days spent in Montgomery and south Alabama in connection with the duties of the Federal court. He says he has been very busy getting ready for the session of court which convenes in Opelika on the 14th. After that is over he will be at home in Clanton every week end as usual.

AUTO WRECK NEAR BETHEL

A large Hudson Coach driven by a man from Birmingham hit a stump by the side of the road near Bethel church Tuesday, completely demolishing the car. The driver, who was accompanied by anothed man, was not hurt.

Walter Calloway of the Main Street Garage was called to the scene with a wrecker. The remains were carried on to Montgomery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of our good friens and neighbors of Shiloh community for their help and sympathy during the sickness and death of our husband and father. May God bless every one, is our prayer.—Mrs. Lula Pierce and Children.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Atchison entertained thirty-three guests on Thanksgiving. Turkey, cranberries, boiled ham and salad was served, which was greatly enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morris, Edward Jenkins, L. D. Atchison and Payton Browning of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bates and family of Selma; Mr. Milstead and family of Plantersville; Mrs. Beula McCary and two daughters of Maplesville. The dining room was decorated with pot flowers. An entertainment for the young folks was planned for Thursday night, but as the weather was so bad, it was postponed.

Miss Anna Mae McCary spent last week with Miss Era Atchison.

Mrs. Melean McCary and Miss Anna Mae McCary made a business trip to Selma last week.

Miss Era Atchison and Guy Milstead spent a few hours with Miss Clemmie Heagler Thursday p.m.

Mr. Bud Roebuck and family attended the fifth Sunday meeting at Sardis Sunday.

Former Clanton Boy Lone Surviver In Fishing Tragedy In Florida.

Miami, Fla., Nov. 24.—Two deaf and dumb men were drowned and another mute saved after a long swim in a fishing tragedy in Biscayne Bay.

The drowned men are Carl Henderson of Charleston, S. C., and Fred Hall of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whose names were written on a scrap of paper by Curtis Davidson, in the local Y. M. C. A. about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Davidson, himself a mute, his clothes dripping with water as he wrote, gave first details of the tragedy, as he scrawled:

"Tell the police to find my two deaf friends. They were drowned. I was saved."

Subsequent notes written by Davidson stated that the party of three had gone fishing in a small boat which had capsized about a mile from shore and three miles south of Miami, about dark. He wrote he had swum the distance to shore and walked the remaining distance to the city.

Surrounded by "Y" officials and local detectives, Davidson, shivering from exposure and hysterical, penned his fateful story. He wrote that he came to the association building because he had been attending a class for deaf mutes there weekly. He revealed the fact that he and his friends were carpenters at Coral Gables, and that he had come here from Birmingham, Ala., recently.

Davidson left Birmingham several months ago, acquaintances there state. He formerly worked as a barber in a number of shops of the city. His people now live in East Lake.

Kin Vinson went to Montgomery Monday on business.

M. D. Foshee of Fort Payne was a business visitor to Clanton this week.

Lending Freight Cars to Speed Deliveries

One of the cardinal reasons for the splendid record made by American Railroads since their return to private management, is their increased operating efficiency.

Constant striving on the part of railroad managements to facilitate the transportation of freight, has resulted in an immense saving of time, as well as money, to American shippers.

Originally, American Railroads would not permit their freight cars to leave their own lines of track, making necessary sluggish and expensive transfers of freight. This custom was later changed in certain sections of the country, so that the body of the freight car was transferred to the trucks, or running gear, of the receiving road—still a costly and slow process.

To-day, the movement of freight cars is speeded by the transfer or interchange from one trunk line to another, without disturbing the contents of the car.

During the past year, the L. & N. received over 1,500,000 cars from connecting lines, and delivered 1,540,800 to other roads. These figures evidence a close co-operation on the part of the carriers in their efforts to serve the public.

TEACH CHILDREN TO BE KIND

One of the most important things to teach children is to take good care of their household pets; to remember to feed them and to give them water to drink at regular times if possible. We are only doing right if we treat every living creature as we would wish to be treated ourselves. If you drive a horse, think how you would like to be treated if you were that horse. Treat your dog and cat as you would like to be treated if you could change places with them. Kindness on the farm—gentle treatment of cows; good bedding, good food and a stall large enough to lie down in, for the horse; shelter for the swine; proper food and care of poultry all repay the farmer in dollars and cents. Try it.

FORESTRY LETTER

To fight forest fires while standing ankle deep in water seems rather paradoxical, yet this is what timberland owners and rangers frequently find necessary, according to the Alabama Commission of Forestry. In the flatwood and savanna types of forest the ground may be very wet while the tops of the frost killed grass and other ground plants have been so dried by the wind that they are readily inflammable.

The plant moisture that prevents burning is that which is absorbed into the interior surface from the soil thru the root systems rather than that deposited directly upon the plants as rain or dew. In fact, most plants give off much more moisture than they receive from the air. The water from the soil permeates all the tissues of the plant, without which vegetation can not carry on its life processes.

After a plant has run its life course or has been killed by heat or cold, water no longer is absorbed and the vegetation becomes dry and brittle. The surface of the leaves and grass blades becomes contracted and the tiny openings through which moisture was formerly exuded into the atmosphere become practically closed. These conditions render negligible the absorption of moisture, the water running off or evaporating instead of soaking in. Thus a light wind may dry off the dead surface vegetation so that a fire will run briskly notwithstanding that the ground itself is rain soaked.

As a matter of fact, due to low moisture content of frost killed vegetation, winter and spring fires usually cover greater areas than those of the fall season. The damage done to the forest by winter fires, however, is usually much less, being confined very largely to pasturage and range. During the winter there ordinarily is a considerable amount of new grass coming up under the shelter of the previous season's growth. When the latter is burned away the young grass is destroyed causing hardship to range stock with consequent severe losses to stockmen.

MARION INSTITUTE SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

TWO-STORY BRICK BARRACKS BUILDING DESTROYED AT NOON SUNDAY

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Marion.—Fire of an unknown origin was discovered in the north barracks of Marion Institute just before noon Sunday. The building is a two-story brick structure and on account of the substantial construction making it almost fire-proof, the flames spread very slowly. Efficient work on the part of the fire department confined the fire to the attic and ceiling. Damage estimated at $10,000, fully covered by insurance. Army and navy students were quartered in this building. Most of their property was saved from damage.

Under charge of Col. Charles N. Sisson, commandant, excellent order was maintained by the cadets with the result that no personal injuries were sustained by the students or of the voluntary fire fighters.

Col. Walter L. Murfee, president, announces that ample and comfortable dormitory space is available and that class work was resumed as usual Monday morning. He also announces that repairs on the building will be begun immediately.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

Thanksgiving Day was very generally observed by the people of Thorsby and vicinity. The union service filled the Congregational church to capacity; the singing was good—a notable feture of it was a male quartette composed of Thorsby Institute students—Deason, Kelly, Sorrell, and Williams. The address of Rev. R. L. Bonner, pastor of Thorsby Baptist church, was timely and effective. Other ministers taking part in the service were J. E. Each, E. W. Butler, Thorvald Bakke, and W. P. Lowery. The contribution for the Near East Relief was upward of $15.00.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Mr. Walter Parnell and Miss Naemi Turnquist motored to Birmingham Sunday afternoon to attend evening service at the Lutheran church there. Miss Turnquist will remain there for a few days, visiting relatives and friends; the rest of the party returned Sunday night.

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Howard gave a dinner to quite a number of their friends, including Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss and children, Miss Naemi Turnquist and her father, Mr. J. L. Foss, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg, Mrs. J. M. Bosworth and children. The menu included a real turkey and the usual accompaniments.

Last Thursday night four cars of Thorsby Baptist people went to Rev. R. L. Bonner's home loaded with groceries and all kinds of nice things to eat. As pastor and wife, they appreciate these good things to eat, but much more do they appreciate that kind of spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Howard and children motored to Mars Hill Sunday afternoon to call on a family with whom Mrs. Howard lived while teaching in that section.

Next Sunday night immediately following the Christian Endeavor meeting at the Congregational church, there will be the regular monthly praise service. Everybody is invited to come and help sing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton and E. W. Butler, wife and daughter, Dorothy, were dinner guests at Thorsby Institute on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. Dowdle Ware of Dadeville, and Miss Minnie Stewart of Lafayette, Ala., spent Thanksgiving Day in Thorsby as guests of Miss Mamie Sue Stewart.

There will be a special service at the Thorsby Baptist church Wednesday night, December 9. Bro. D. F. Green of Montgomery, and Bro. Lawrence of Clanton will be with us and both will speak. Evedybody is invited but our Baptist people are urged to be present, as this will be a very important meeting.

Rev. R. A. McKay and son, James, of Tallassee, visited Rev. J. E. Each last Wednesday, on their way home from Birmingham.

The rotogravure picture section of the Birmingham News last Sunday contained the pictures of two Clanton girls who have already gained distinction at Judson College, Marion. The picture of Miss Elizabeth Duncan was entitled "The Prettiest girl in the Freshman Class." The picture of Miss Alma Robinson was entitled "The Most Popular Girl in the Freshman Class."

Miss Duncan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Duncan. Miss Robinson is the daughter of Mrs. W. C. Robinson. Both girls are deserving of the honors of beauty and popularity bestowed upon them at the college. If their home town should vote on the question, it is most certain that the same result would be declared.

The manufacture of tooth picks and matches in the United States each year requires 85,000,000 feet of high-grade lumber.

An Associated Press dispatch from New York states that cotton valued at $44,248,833 was bought in this country in the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, and delivered at Murmansk, Russia, by the all-Russian Textile Syndicate, showing a 34% increase over last year's operations.

Is politics the reason Alabama can not build good roads? No, it is not politics, but it is rotten machine rule. What this state needs is more politics but that of a clean variety. The only solution is two strong political parties. If we had these our state could build roads or anything else it wanted to, and everything would not be eaten up by graft and corruption.

A party of 96 French farmers and agricultural engineers have sailed from France for New Caledonia in the South Pacific Ocean to carry out practical experiments in cotton growing on a large scale. Other parties will follow. Frenchmen think conditions there are suited to cotton. They hope to make France independent of foreign cotton.

Some of the daily papers of the state have made a severe attack upon the state highway department regarding the cement highway through Chilton county. These papers say that the Chilton road is a failure, and charge that politics accounts for the use of inferior material in the construction of this road. Whether the cause is politics we are unable to say, but the northern portion of the road is certainly going to pieces. At the rate it is going, the highway will be impassable a year from now.

LITTLE PEN-O-GRAMS

TO HELP SOUTHERN FARMERS

What the Rockefeller Foundation stands for in the welfare and progress of the world at large, the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics is undertaking in behalf of the Southern dairy and poultry farmer, according to a news story.

Funds to carry on the work have been provided for building a greater dairy industry in the South. Emphasizing diversification on the average farm and more efficient methods with cows, hens and crops to feed them, covers the scope of the newly established Institute. The actual work is now in the hands of a staff of agricultural experts who are intimately familiar with farming conditions in the South and who have themselves been practical farmers. No phase of dairying and poultry raising will be overlooked which bears upon putting more dollars in the farmer's pockets. Since the individual farmer can not determine the market price himself, it is up to him to increase his profit and to lower his costs, and this is what the Institute of Animal Economics will work hand-in-glove with him to accomplish.

"Dairying is the logical industry of the Southern farmer," says James E. Larrowe, widely known engineer and president of the large manufacturing concern whose donations made the Institute possible, in explaining why the Institute has chosen this field for its activity. "Not only are physical conditions suited to it, but an ever-increasing market is furnished in the rapidly growing population centers nearby. No other farm effort will pay him so well as efficient dairying with poultry raising as a companion enterprise. The Institute will keep the farmer informed on ways to increase his cow and hen efficiency thru research and interpretation of the great work of the various agricultural colleges.

"It will do this in several ways. For one thing, a careful survey will be made of representative localities thruout the South to give the Institute a working knowledge of farm conditions today and what problems most relentlessly confront the farmer. An experimental farm will be operated under average farm conditions and the results of this will be made known. New methods of feeding and caring for cows and chickens, for increasing milk and egg production will be closely watched and tried out before recommendation. A bureau of inquiry will be established, giving personal service on any questions sent in."

In creating the Institute and providing largely for its maintenance, Mr. Larrowe is giving substance to what has long been a dream of his. Mr. Larrowe has a wide knowledge of both engineering and nutrition to both of which he has given a life-time study.

COTTON GINNINGS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Washington, Nov. 25.—The department of commerce, through the bureau of the census, has issued an additional report on cotton ginned in Alabama, showing a total for the state in 1925 of 1,242,260 bales, as compared with 902,979 bales in the year 1924.

The total for the state made public Nov. 14 by counties was 1,176,286 for 1925, and 815,506 bales for the year 1924.

Madison leads all counties in the number of bales ginned, and other counties high up on the list are Limestone, Marshall, Morgan, Lauderdale, Covington, Cullman, Geneva, Houston, Chambers, Coffee, Dallas, DeKalb, Elmore, Macon, Barbour, Cherokee, Hale, Marengo, Lawrence, Montgomery, Pike, Talladega and Chilton.

The Ontario Honey Producers Co-operative, Toronto, has contracts covering 85% of the honey produced in the Province. According to present estimates the association expects to market 8,000,000 pounds this season at a cost of one cent per pound.

SPREADING OWNERSHIP IN ELECTRIC COMPANIES

During the first half of 1925, electric light and power companies in the United States sold more than 1,929,500 shares of stock to their employees and customers. These shares, valued at $185,130,000, accounted for more than 23% of all the electric utilities' financing during that period.

Today the securities of electric light and power companies are in the hands of approximately 2,750,000 investors. A great number of these, through their ownership of preferred and common stock, are actually partners in this great business. This widening spread in the ownership of the electric utilities among the actual users of light and power has a dollar-and-cents value for the present and prospective bondholders in these companies. Not only does this spreading partnership increase the assets of the individual enterprise and hence the security of the bonds, but it also tends to lessen the possibilities of detrimental legislation and mismanagement, and to force wider and more enlightening publicity as to financial achievements. The wider corporations are spread in their ownership the stronger they are likely to be in the good will of the public. And public relations, especially in a business regulated by the public, often determine the success or failure of an enterprise.

Before becoming a creditor of any corporation through the purchase of bonds the investor should be certain that there is a substantial amount of dividend-paying stock junior to his securities to assume the shocks of the business. And he should seek out, if possible, those corporations whose owners are actual customers and employees, since their interest in the business is more likely to parallel his own.

A liberal application of manure will insure better flowers next year.

HOT CHARGES MADE AGAINST HIGHWAY BODY

Resolutions condemning the Alabama highway commission and particularly the chairman of the body, John Rogers, were adopted recently at a mass meeting of citizens of Samson, Geneva county. In their resolutions, the citizens protest against the apparent extravagance and unnecessary expenditure shown in some of the road projects already authorized in Geneva county.

It is further charged that the highway commission appropriated $40,000 to a side project at a meeting held before the appointed time and attended by only a minority of the Geneva county commissioners.

Governor Brandon will be asked to see that justice is done the western part of Geneva county in the matter of securing its share of road funds.

The citizens declared in strong terms that it would be better for the state if the highway commission were abolished. They also request the commissioners court to rescind its action in agreeing to construct two miles of the Coffee county-Geneva project until a road has been built from Geneva to the Covington county line.

The Montgomery Journal, Birmingham Age-Herald and Mobile Register were commended for publishing facts about the work being done on the state roads. The citizens also commended Probate Judge D. G. Roach, probate judge of Geneva county; D. G. King and Oscar Garner, commissioners.

A MERE MAN JOINS THE— "CHARGE OF THE SHOPPERS' BRIGADE!"

(A Near Pome by one who - - with nerve enough to buy his wife Gift Hosiery for Christmas - - got himself all messed up in a mob of women shoppers charging on a Hosiery Bargain counter!)

Into that Valley of Bargains I charged
With the Six Hundred
Women shoppers to the left of me
Women shoppers to the right of me
Onward I charged!

Elbows 'gainst my chest and back
Bending my ribs until they cracked—
Onward I charged;
Toward that counter where I knew
They had hosiery of every hue
Onward I charged!

Such a mob and such a din—
Someone slammed me on the chin,
Yet—Onward I charged;
Daring Death—Oh! E'er so brave,
'Twas a dollar I sought to save,
As—Onward I charged!

A husky woman on right,
Picked on me to start a fight,
Calmly—Onward I charged;
Shrieking voices came from the rear
As—Onward I charged!

My coat was one when I started
But all its seams soon were parted,
As—Onward I charged;
Then, someone grabbed me by the neck,
There went my collar—a total wreck,
Still—Onward I charged!

I lost my hat—I lost my tie
Trying that lonely Gift to buy,
As—Onward I charged;
Still not once did I really flinch
In that mob—as inch by inch
Onward I charged!

Finally I came to a sudden stop
Against that counter—ready to flop,
Ah! I no longer charged;
There was I—too good to be true—
Ready to be served—one of the few
Who no longer charged!

Said the clerk—"Sir, what'll it be?"
And openly snickered at the sight of me,
As I scowled and told her;
She turned on her heel and looked about
Flashed back and chirped—"WE'RE ALL OUT OF THAT SIZE AND COLOR, Sir!"

And then - - I collapsed!

MISS CAGLE THANKS FRIENDS FOR HELP IN BANNER CONTEST

Editor Union-Banner:

I am asking you for space in your paper to thank my friends who stood by and helped me in the subscription campaign which The Union-Banner recently put on. I can't command words which express my appreciation for your help, but this is the only means I have. Everyone who lent me any aid, great or small, has my sincere thanks. And I want to tell my friends through the paper that what votes I got I came by them honestly and honorably, and my conscience feels absolutely clear.

My friends helped me nobly in my fight for the first prize, and I want to say that had not some tricks been worked against me, I would have won the Ford. I have learned since the campaign closed that some of the other candidates united their strength together against me, contrary to the rules of the campaign, which accounts for my failure to get first prize.

I went into the game clean handed and thought all the other candidates would play fair, but I was fooled. As soon as papa told me that Mrs. Robinson had sold out to Mrs. Vinson I told him that I was beaten and that I had just as well quit the race, but he told me that I had to stay in it to the last. I never would have thought that Mrs. Robinson, a cousin of my mother, would have found a place in her heart to take advatage of me that way. If I have ever mistreated her in any way, I stand ready and willing to beg apologies of her at any time and place. And I say the same to any others of those who conspired against me.

I am real proud of my diamond ring and can wear it with more pleasure than if I had bought out some other candidate's votes and even won the car. Mrs. Vinson does not deny buying out Mrs. Robinson, neither does Mr. Robinson deny that Mr. Vinson gave his wife $3.50 for the 10 per cent on her subscriptions which she had not turned in. He does not deny getting votes from Mr. Riley Askins for Mrs. Vinson, and showing his votes to a crowd in the garage and saying that his wife was going to sell out to Mrs. Vinson. But even after they did combine against me, they both beat me only 46,000 votes.

My father and mother both advised me to treat everyone with respect, and I tried to do so. If I have made a enemy anywhere I will be glad to apologize or will gladly refund any money which they may have paid me in the campaign. I am still the same little school girl today that I was when I entered the race, only I hope that I have made friends of all those with whom I became ecquainted.

I don't want anyone to think that I am dissatisfied with the work of the campaign managers. If they cheated me in any way, I am badly fooled. I regret not understanding the rules of getting extra votes by turning in at a certain time. I am partly to blame for losing on account of not being familiar with this part of the rules of the campaign.

Now in conclusion I want to thank the people of this and adjoining counties for your support. I did not get to visit the western part of the county, but I thank the people there who helped me, especially Mrs. W. B. Cooper. The many people in Clanton and those in the court house who worked for me have my sincere appreciation and thanks.

Now I am going to close, with best wishes to everybody. I remain, the same little school girl in the eastern part of the county.

THANKSGIVING REUNION

At the old residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, near Plantersville, a happy reunion was spent on Thanksgiving day. All children and grand children were present except one son, who is in Georgia. A few close friends and other relatives were present besides the family of twenty-six.

The morning was spent in hunting, and at 1:30 a big table was heavily laden with everything that Thanksgiving would call for. The table was in the back yard, where all of the children and part of the grand children have played many happy hours. This all brought childhood memories back, and filled all with a merry heart, yet a sad one, as a few links in the family chain have been broken.

After all, each one there had so many, many things to be thankful for.

A GRAND DAUGHTER.

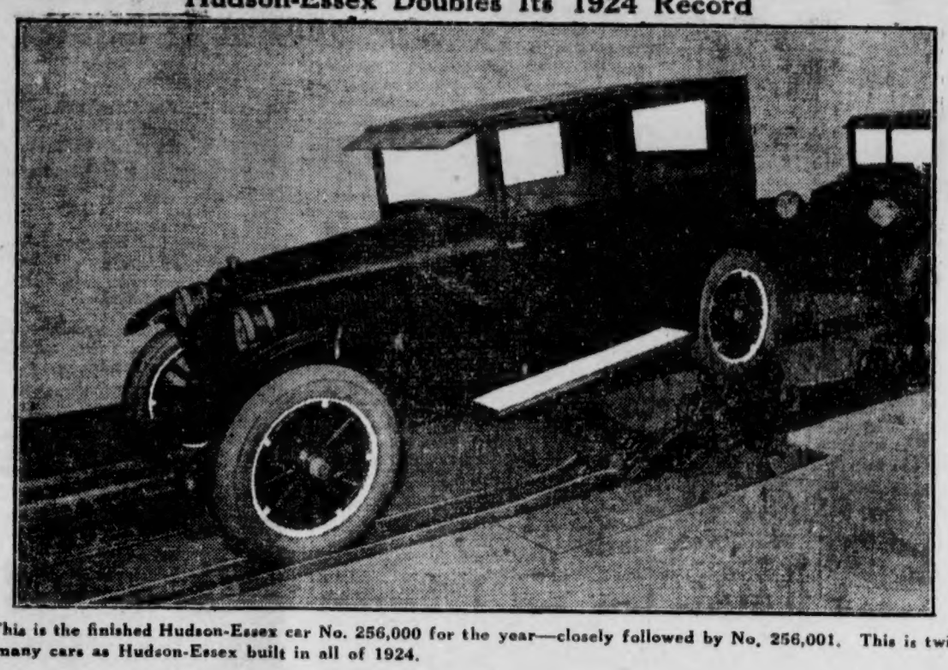
Hudson-Essex Doubles Its 1924 Record



This is the finished Hudson-Essex car No. 256,000 for the year—closely followed by No. 256,001. This is twice as many cars as Hudson-Essex built in all of 1924.

Hudson-Essex has broken another record for volume business.

Officials announce their production of motor car No. 256,000 for the year 1925—important because that is just twice the number of Hudson-Essex cars made in 1924, which was itself far in advance of any previous Hudson-Essex year.

The records of the industry, it is said, will show that no other large producer of cars has succeeded in doubling 1924 output.

What Hudson-Essex's policy of building and selling has meant in the past few years is shown by the following figures: In 1922, there were built 60,000 Hudson-Essex cars; in 1923, the total was 88,000; last year, 128,000; and this year already has run well over the quarter million mark.

What makes this all the more remarkable is the fact that Hudson-Essex confines its business to the making of a few models, about 90% of the total being coaches, and fully 98% being enclosed cars.

This specialization, together with the volume of business done, has brought about a striking degree of economy which has enabled Hudson-Essex to offer unusual value in its cars.

Next year, it is expected by the Hudson-Essex management, will show still further gains.

Alabama Happenings

The Interstate Commerce Commission has fixed the value of the Georgia, Alabama and Florida Railroad at $2,775,000 on June 30, 1917.

The Huntsville Rotary Club recently went on record as favoring a special session of the Legislature and the $75,000 bond issue.

John C. Kirk, of Anniston, died of heart failure while at work on the roof of the Jacksonville public school building in Jacksonville recently.

Senator Oscar Underwood is said to be preparing a reply, to be printed in his memoirs, to Senator Lodge's charges against Woodrow Wilson.

The minority report of President Coolidge's Muscle Shoals Commission has been placed in the president's hands, reports from Washington state.

The Florence Rotary Club was host to 50 boys at a Thanksgiving Day dinner.

Alabama doctors have lost their fight to have current used for X-Ray machines charged for at power instead of light rates. The Supreme Court has just ruled that light rates, which are higher, should apply.

FREE SPRINGS

Mr. Herbert Taylor, Miss Retha Ellison and Miss Irene McGraw motored to Oakley Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Luther Coffer was home Saturday night and Sunday.

Last Monday night the death angel visited the home of Mr. J. N. Terry and wafted away his spirit into yonder world. The deceased leaves a wife and a host of children to mourn his loss.

Mr. Virtie Brown and wife were the guests of the former's father and mother last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. McGraw are looking for their son, C. L. McGraw, this week.

Thanksgiving was pretty dull in this neighborhood.

Mr. Velton Ellison and wife and sister were the guests of Mr. Henry Ellison last Sunday night.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Norman Crumpton has not been doing so well for the past two weeks.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court, Nov. 25, 1925.

This day came Alice D. Callaway, Administratrix of the estate of said deceased, and files her account, vouchers, evidence and statement for final settlement of her said Administratorship.

It is ordered that the 21st day of December, 1925, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 25th day of November, 1925.

SARDIS NEWS

We had a fine Fifth Sunday meeting at Sardis church. Mr. John Deramus led the devotional at 10:00 o'clock. The following subjects were wonderfully discussed: "The Pastor, his Qualifications and Duties." "How to spend Sundays." The 1926 Program for Baptists. "The Home Life of Today and the Ladies' Work."

Those taking part in the discussions were Bros. Deason, Lowery, Bonner, Falkner and several laymen. Mrs. C. L. Martin told of the W. M. U. Convention at Eufala. The people of Sardis served a nice dinner at the noon hour. We had a fine crowd present; hope to have a larger crowd at the next meeting.

STANTON NOTES

Mr. Leo Langston spent Thanksgiving in Jemison.

Miss Eloise Schurter was home for the week end.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes Hosts.

On Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes were hosts at a dinner party when they entertained out-of-town friends. Roses, chrysanthemums, and potted plants were used in decorating the home. The dining table was beautifully appointed. A crystal bowl of roses formed the centerpiece, around which were seated Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kettig, Messrs. C. A. Crawford, Loyd Duncan of Birmingham, and Dr. and Mrs. Hayes.

Mrs. Taylor Hostess.

Mrs. Grady F. Taylor was hostess at a dinner of Sunday, when she entertained in honor of Mr. Taylor's birthday anniversary. The home was beautifully decorated for this occasion with fall flowers and potted plants. The dining table was centered with a bowl of yellow chrysanthemums. Covers were laid for twelve, and a turkey dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, Mr. F. H. Good Service Aids State's Progress

THE $13,000,000 telephone construction program which the Southern Bell Company is completing this year is an investment in new and additional plant that Alabama and other Southern States may have more and better service.

As a result of this program, telephone service is now better than ever before, despite the fact that the operators are handling a larger volume of calls.

The service is more valuable to the individual user, as well as to communities at large, and telephone subscribers now receive more for the money they spend for telephone service than for any comparable service or commodity.

That telephone rates have not increased anything like the cost of other services and commodities is due to economical management and efficient workers who have kept the operating expenses at a minimum despite the growing cost of everything which forms a part of telephone plant and service.

Before Baby Comes

WONDERFUL! Gloriously wonderful is the achievement of Mother's Friend in relieving suffering incident to motherhood. Its benefits are amazing! Its soothing, relaxing qualities make the months before maternity comfortable. Yes, you can rub discomfort away with Mother's Friend! Mrs. John S. Herr, Manheim, Pa., writes: "Mother's Friend did wonders for me. I can almost say my baby was born without pain."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. Mother's Friend is externally applied. It relieves the tension on nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally, it makes childbirth a joy!

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 30, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Lo the Wise Indian!

Big Chief Meyers, who caught for the New York Giants in the days when the battery of Mathewson and Meyers was famous, was—and still is—a remarkable man. Although a full-blooded Indian of one of the California mission tribes he is a college graduate and, what is rather unusual in a professional ball-player, an exceedingly well-informed lover of art and he has a keen wit. His tribal name was Tortes. One day a curious person asked him why he had taken the name of John Meyers.

"It sounds so Indian," said Meyers.

On another occasion a friend invited Meyers to tell him what his favorite pictures were.

"There are two that I particularly like," said the brawny Indian. "One is Abbey's mural painting, 'The Quest of the Holy Grail,' on the walls of the Boston public library. Whenever I'm in Boston I go to see it. And the other is that picture called 'Custer's Last Stand.'"

"Surely you don't mean that atrocious chromo showing a lot of white cavalrymen being killed and scalped—that thing which some harvesting company out West used to give away as an advertisement?"

"That's the identical one," said Meyers.

"But why, in the name of goodness, should you favor that daub?"

"I'll tell you why," said Meyers. "It's the only picture done by a white man that I ever saw where my crowd is getting as good as an even break."

The Prudent Bride

Down in Savannah a comely colored girl was preparing for her marriage. For four months before the ceremony she hoarded her wages; but immediately after the wedding she hunted up her mistress and asked her to take charge of the fund.

"I'll take it, of course," said the puzzled lady; "but, Mandy, won't you be needing your money to spend on your honeymoon?"

"Miss May," said the bride "does you think I'se goin' to trust myself wid a strange nigger an' all dat money on me?"

MRS. VINSON THANKS FRIENDS

Clanton, Ala., Dec. 2, 1925.

As it is impossible for me to see all my friends personally who helped me to win first prize in The Union-Banner subscription and trade building campaign, I wish to thank each and every one through The Union-Banner for their support.

I worked every day during the campaign, but I fully realize that I could not have been successful without the good help and support of all who helped me. I am very thankful and proud of the prize I won; but that is not all I won. I am indeed proud of meeting the many people of Chilton County and winning the friendship of so many, whom possibly I would never have had an opportunity to meet and make friends with had it not been for the work I did in this campaign.

I know I cannot remember the faces of all the people I had the pleasure of meeting during the campaign, but I shall always be grateful to each and every one, and I trust that I may have the pleasure of meeting you again.

Again thanking all for their untiring support, and The Union-Banner and trade building managers for their excellency in conducting the campaign I am,

Yours very sin erely,
MRS. KIN VINSON.

DR. EDWARDS TO LECTURE AT COURT HOUSE NEXT SUNDAY

Dr. James A. Edwards, of Birmingham, who is associated with the Bible Study Class of the I. B. S. A., will lecture at the court house in Clanton next Sunday, December 13, at 3:00 o'clock p. m. The public is invited to hear him. Seats will be free and no collections will be taken.

Dr. Edwards is a former Chilton County boy, having been reared in the Mulberry community. He is the son of J. C. Edwards. His friends will doubtless be glad of the opportunity to hear him speak on important Bible topics.

NEW SALEM

We would appreciate space in The Union-Banner, and also the kindness of the editor for publishing the activities and progress of our church. We are glad to know that our church is greatly improving and we, as the publishing committee, will publish occasionally the work and accomplishments of our church, Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., and W. M. U. We truly hope the readers of The Union-Banner will give notice to our articles and we extend to each of you a hearty welcome to our church. We hope to have a number of you as visitors and also workers with us to help build our church and keep it growing. We shall appreciate a visit from anyone and will assure you that much good can be accomplished by our services if your visit is made in the right spirit and purpose.

On last Sunday, December 6, everybody enjoyed a great service. There were Sunday school and preaching services in the morning, and B. Y. P. U. and preaching services again in the evening. Our pastor explained the purpose of a B. Y. P. U. to the church and how greatly it helped the church and individuals. We are very proud to say that a large congregation attended each service. We were especially glad to have as many visitors as we did, and we invite all who will to come and be with us in each of our services.

We have church services every 1st and 3rd Sunday mornings and evenings. We have Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. every Sunday, Sunday school in the morning and B. Y. P. U. at night. We especially urge the regular and prompt attendance of each member and the cooperation of each so that we may do our best. Our next preaching service will be December 20,; morning and evening. We urge everyone to be present, especially the members, as there is some important business to look after on behalf of the church.

We again invite everyone to attend B. Y. P. U. every Sunday night. Our Union is very young, but growing rapidly. We need your support and help to make a success. Won't you show your willingness to help by attending regularly?

Very truly yours,
CLARA VINES,
JEWEL BEAN,
Publicity Committee.

3 KILLED SUNDAY AT R. R. CROSSING

ED CARTER, 50; MISS ESTELLE MATTHEWS AND MISS ETHEL MASON THE VICTIMS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Atmore—Death put an abrupt end to the holiday guise of this community when three lives were snuffed out in a grade crossing accident. An automobile bearing three church-goers home from worship, was struck by a southbound Louisville and Nashville train No. 5, demolished and two occupants instantly killed. The third died within 30 minutes.

The dead are: Ed Carter, 50, of Excel; Miss Estelle Matthews, of Atmore; Miss Ethel Mason, of Robinsville, niece of Carter.

No. 5, driven by Engineer Cowell, of Montgomery, was 40 minutes late. The accident occured at 12:30 o'clock, at the crossing just above the station. The automobile was hurled 20 feet against a box car on a siding. Carter and Miss Mason were instantly killed; Miss Matthews lived long enough to breathe a few words to her father, J. S. Matthews, who hurried to the undertaking establishment whither the bodies were taken.

Carter and Miss Mason had been to church and had driven by Miss Matthew's home to invite her to dinner on the Cunningham place where Miss Mason lived. The invitation was accepted and the trip commenced.

No. 5, slowing down for the Atmore stop, struck the automobile squarely. The machine struck a box car 20 feet away. Carter died in the automobile; Miss Mason's head struck a box car wheel and her body was found under the freight. Miss Matthews was breathing when horrified bystanders rushed to the wreck. She lived for perhaps 30 minutes, and her father was there to say farewell.

The car was demolished. The victims' bodies were mangled, clothes torn to shreds. Two hours after the accident, children playing near the scene found Carter's watch running and in perfect condition.

The first pier of the new Tennessee River bridge at Twin-Cities has been completed and work is progressing on the second.

Major W. M. V. Robertson, Jr., of Birmingham, has just been named ordinance inspector of the Alabama National Guard.

Production in the 1000-hen national egg-laying contest at Auburn is said to be steadily increasing.

Mr. Eric Hart and little daughter, spent Sunday in Birmingham with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lanier. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Hart and baby, who has been spnding several days there.

Mr. A. L. Robinson left Monday to spend several days at Gorgas, Ala.

Mr. Herman Eubanks made a business trip to Birminghom and West Blocton last Wednesday and Thursday.

A FUNNY KIND OF POLITICAL ARGUMENT

We found the following letter in The Birmingham Age-Herald Monday. It is a most unique brand of political argument, even though it may be a kind that is common to many Democrats in the South:

To the Editor of The Age-Herald:

I noticed in your paper of the 3rd of December that the Birmingham district lost an order amounting to $600,000 because foreign countries sold the goods to Fort Worth, Texas, cheaper than Birmingham could do it. I blame this on the Republicans—they are in power and even if we do vote against it they ought to give us a tariff that would protect us against such.

I think they visit this on us as a punishment for not voting the Republican ticket, and I think our congresamen and senators ought to tell them about it. Senator Heflin ought to get busy and make them jump some more. This not only hurts the workingmen from Birmingham but also hurts us coal-miners who mine the coal that makes the iron. We ought to be treated fair, and the workman ought to be protected and not be compelled to vote with the Republicans just to get our rights.—Hezzy Cummins, Delmar, Ala., Dec. 5, 1925.

Instead of blaming the Republicans for the one instance cited, this fellow ought to thank the Republicans because they have kept just such things from happening in a wholesale way all over the United States.

Under the Republican tariff it is a rare thing to hear of a foreign manufacturer underselling an American manufacturer on the American market. But under Democratic "free trade" it is just exactly the reverse. If we had "free trade" now the Birmingham district would be losing immense orders every day because foreign manufacturers could ship their wares to this country and sell them cheaper than American manufacturers could produce them.

The funny argument of Mr. Cummins causes us to believe that he was one of those Democrats who went to the polls last election day and voted for John W. Davis, and went straight back home and prayed that Coolidge might be elected. There are lots of that kind in the South. They want the Republicans to help them hold their jobs and get good wages. But when it comes to voting the Republican ticket, no siree. Funny creatures, they are.

JIM PARRISH SELLING FORDS

Mr. Jim Parrish is now connected with the Clanton Motor Car Company of Clanton, selling Ford cars. Mr. Parrish is a hustling young man who is well known in this county and his addition to the Ford sales force will doubtless prove profitable to himself as well as to his employers.

NO MAIL ON CHRISTMAS DAY

We understand that all postoffices in the United States will be closed on Christmas Day, and that no delivery of mail will be made by rural or city carriers. Therefore it is urged that all who contemplate the mailing of packages for Christmas delivery shall do so in time for same to reach destination and be delivered on or before December 24th. Otherwise delivery will not be made until after Christmas day.

Mr. Wallace Jones of Birmingham spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Willie Jones.

LIQUOR FOUND IN PILE OF SHAVINGS

Deputy Sheriff Harvey Foshee, following a clue which he figured would lead him to some liquor, last Saturday arrived at the big pile of shavings near the gin on South Sixth Street. He began to "throw the shavings" in a desperate sarch for the hidden treasure and pretty soon had uncovered a ten-gallon keg which contained about eight gallons of whiskey.

If the officers know whose liquor it was, they have not made that information public yet.

Alabama Happenings

Mamie Baker, a Mobile negress, severely cut Jacob Reiss, merchant, and Mrs. Nellie Weeks, stenographer, when they attempted to prevent her leaving the Reiss store with stolen merchandise.

State Treasurer Geo. W. Ellis, has been advised by the attorney general's office to pay the salaries of Associate Highway Commissioners Smith and Boyd, recently appointed by Governor Brandon.

State Treasurer Ellis recently retired $700,000 worth of Series D. State Highway bonds. They were purchased by the State from the sinking fund provided for the purpose.

The plant of the Etowah Foundry and Machine Co., at Gadsden, was destroyed by fire recently. The loss is put at $60,000 with insurance of $33,500.

Violators of the State game law were convicted and punished in 13 counties, according to the latest weekly report of the State Game Commissioner.

Grady W. Kyser, 30, a farmer who lived near Troy, was instantly killed recently when a shotgun, accidently discharged, blew off the top of his head.

Capt. J. Wolfe, under bond for liquor smuggling at Mobile, has been identified as the master of the British rum schooner Marion Adams, recently captured off Biloxi.

Maj. E. H. Clifford, secretary-manager of the Sheffield and Tuscumbia chambers of commerce, died recently following an operation for kidney trouble.

Etowah Cunty club boys averaged 997 pounds of seed cotton to the acre the past season complete reports show. The highest yield was almost 1,600 pounds.

State Bank Examiner A. E. Jackson, was arrested recently on a charge of refusing to allow Arthur Chilton, an attorney, to examine certain banking records.

Montgomery's famous military companies, the Montgomery Grays and the Montgomery Blues, are to be merged with Co. A, 167th Infantry, also of Montgomery.

The Southern Alabama Older Boys' Conference held a three-day session at Alexander City recently. It was attended by boys from more than a score of Alabama towns and cities.

S. L. Taylor, Birmingham insurance man, was recently fined $150 and his driver's license suspended for 360 days, and he was sent to jail for 70 days for driving an auto while drunk.

A move has been launched in Tuscumbia and Sheffield looking to a bond issue for a hospital for the two cities.

ALL DAY SINGING AT CONCORD SUNDAY, JANUARY 3RD

Prior to the big normal school of music which will begin at Concord church January 4th, there will be an all day singing on Sunday, January 3rd. Prof. C. C. Stafford of Waxahatchie, Texas, who will be the principal of the music school, will be present and sing during the day. It is expected that practically all of the best musical talent of Chilton County will be at this singing and avail themselves of hearing and seeing one of the South's greatest composers and writers of sacred music. All the singers of the county have used Prof. Stafford's songs in their singings; now they will have the opportunity of hearing this great singer himself.

The normal school of music, which begins at Concord on Monday, January 4th and continue for six weeks, will be taught by Prof. Stafford and assisted by Prof. W. M. Devaughn of Cooper. This will be in every way the greatest school of music that has ever been taught in Chilton County. Those wishing to study advanced harmony and composition should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The people of Concord church respectfully invite the public to come out and enjoy this all day with them. They expect a great day and they want their friends to come and share the pleasures of the day with them.

The singing society met here last Sunday afternoon. Directors were S. V. Miller, Jean Wyatt, Claudy Wyatt, and Jesse Baker. After the singing Rev. Bonner preached a very forceful sermon.

LARGE HAWK KILLED

Last Sunday afternoon Messrs. Hollie Jones and Verman Robinson were out for a joy ride. Their car ran over a hawk about 3 feet in length. It had two chickens down in the road when they ran over it.—A Reader.

SHADY GROVE NEWS

Our Sunday school and church work is doing nicely. Rev. G. B. Golden filled his regular appointment here Sunday and delivered an excellent sermon. This is Bro. Golden's fourth year on Clanton circuit. The church and community in general give him a hearty welcome back, and hope this will be the best year of them all.

Sunday School Classes Entertained.

The members of the young ladies' and young men's classes of the Methodist church enjoyed an outing on last Friday evening. The party met at the court house and motored several miles into the country, where an opossum hunt was to have taken place but due to the inclement weather a rarge bonfire was made and a weiner and marshmallow toast, with sandwiches and fruit, was enjoyed. Those participating in this affair were Misses McCullar, Taylor, Erin Danforth; Messrs. Otto Jones, Frank Mullins, Julian Evans, Elwyn Gore, Henry Arthur Roper, Louis Williams, William and Moses Simpson, Reese Mullins, and Clyde Lowe. Chaperoning the party were Mr. and Mrs. George Trotter, and Mrs. M. A. Gore.

Birthday Party.

The home of Mrs. George Trotter was the scene of a pleasant party on Tuesday morning, when little Mary Wallace was hostess to a number of her little friends to celebrate her fifth birthday. Juvenile games and contests were njoyed. A Christmas tree contest was a feature of the entertainment. Little Theda Wyatt placed her star in the nearest correct position and was given a doll, after which the youthful guests were invited into the dining room. A white birthday cake centered the table and was cut by the little hostess. Mrs. Trotter, assisted by Mesdames Jasper Calloway, Percy Pitts, John Page, and V. J. Elmore, served an ice course to the following: Olive Rainer, Mildred Pipes, Percy Pitts, Jr., Guy Alred, James Catherine Crumpton, Peggy Page, Callen Alred, Jane Pitts, William Hodges, Jane Neighbors, Edith Parrish, Myrtle Pitts, Theda Wyatt, and the hostess.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson Hostess.

A pretty affair of the past week was a birthday party given Friday evening by Miss Elizabeth Johnson at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The home was decorated for this occasion with potted plants and yellow chrysanthemums. The entertainment features were games, contests and music. In a "Ring-the-Nail" contest George Calloway and Mary Foshee were prize winners. They were presented a harp and basket, respectively. In another contest Vivian Gray drew the lucky number and was given a box of candy. At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room. The table was centered with a large white birthday cake with twelve yellow lighted candles. The ring was cut by Curtis Carter. An ice course effectively carried out in the chosen color note was served by Mesdames N. S. Johnson, and T. C. McSwain. Those included in this delightful affair were Kate Welch, Vivian Sanders, Gertie Mae Fiquette, Evelyn Maddox, Mary and Louise McSwain, Mary Foshee, Vivian Gray, J. C. Maddox, Curtis and Lester Carter, George Porter Calloway, Aubey Taylor, Arthur Johnson, Jr., Jo Earl Gowan, and others.

G. A. Reorganized.

Mrs. J. A. Hester was hostess Wednesday afternoon when her home was the meeting place of a group of young girls for the purpose of reorganizing the Girls Auxiliary. Fall flowers and potted plants were used advantageously in decorating the living and dining rooms. The following officers were elected: Counselor, Mrs. J. A. Hester; President, Miss Lurleen Miner; Vice-President, Miss Lorene Murphy; Secretary, Miss Clara Ellen Calloway; Treasurer, Miss Gladys Williams; Enlistment Committee, Misses Janice Danforth, Mittice Duncan, and Bernice Williams. Mrs. Hester, assisted by Julia Ruth Hester, served delightful refreshments to Misses Lorene Murphy, Lurleen Miner, Clara Ellen Calloway, Janice Danforth, Gladys and Bernice Williams, Mittice Duncan, and Mary Foshee.

P. T. A. To Meet Friday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held at the Grammar School Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested. The pupils of the second grade will have charge of the program, under the direction of the teacher, Miss Thelma Guy.

Mrs. Johnson Entertains.

A beautiful social event of Thursday was the party given by Mrs. Sam Johnson, when she entertained the membrs of the Wednesday Bridge Club and an extra group of friends. The home presented a pretty scene, being decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums. A delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served, following a series of bridge games in which Mrs. N. S. Johnson was winner of high score and was presented a beautiful hand-made luncheon cloth. Mrs. Arthur Johnson held next to highest score and was given six pretty tea napkins, while Mrs. V. J. Heard received the booby prize, a dainty handkerchief. Those enjoying this cordial hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, H. M. Simpson, Grady Reynolds, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, N. S. Johnson, V. J. Heard, P. D. Wilson, Hosea F. Downs, and T. C. McSwain.

W. M. S. Meets.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church held the regular business meeting at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. E. E. Upchurch presided over the business session and also conducted the devotional. The Society voted to pay the insurance on the church and also the balance due The Alabama Baptist. The meeting was dismissed with sentence prayers.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. Frank Callen was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home on last Wednesday afternoon. The living room, where tables were placed for the games, was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Grady Reynolds won the top score in the series of games and was presented two handmade handkerchiefs. A delicious salad course was served by the hostess to the following members: Mesdames H. M. Simpson, Hance Alred, Arthur Johnson, J. Watts Moore, V. J. Heard, John Browder, Grady Reynolds, and N. S. Johnson.

Miss Roberta Latham of Montevallo is the guest of Mesdames E. E. Upchurch and John T. Ellis.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess.

The members of the Study Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Arthur Johnson at her home on Second Avenue last Friday afternoon. The living and dining rooms were profusely decorated with orchid and yellow chrysanthemums.

The business session and program was presided over by the president, Mrs. V. J. Heard. In the absence of the secretary Mrs. Hugh Jones acted in that capacity. The followng Program Committee for the ensuing year was announced: Mrs. V. J. Heard, chairman; Mrs. Hugh Jones and Miss Kathleen Mullins. The Educational Committee is composed of Mrs. L. F. Gerald, chairman, and Mrs. J. E. Gowan, and Elna Roberts. Mrs. John M. VanDerveer read a most interesting paper on "The System of Courts in a Typical State—Alabama." This was followed by a splendid talk on "How the Trial Courts Work," by Mrs. P. D. Wilson. Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead, served a delicious salad course to Mesdames V. J. Heard, J. Hugh Jones, J. P. Hayes, J. A.Hester, Grady Reynolds, J. E. Gowan, T. C. McSwain, G. C. Harris, L. C. Ross, B. M. Roberts, John C. Page, R. C. McDavid, T. H. Carswell, P. D. Wilson, Hall, Oscar Jones, John M. VanDerveer, Grady Broadhead, and little Miss Peggy Page.

Thursday Sewing Club.

Entertaining at her home on Eighth Street Thursday afternoon, Mrs. John T. Ellis was hostess to the Thursday Sewing Club and a few additional friends. The home on this occasion was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and potted plants. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, served a delicious salad plate with coffee. Enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames J. P. Hayes, P. T. Hinkle,, J. B. Mauney S. J. Ezell, W. M. Wyatt, J. P. Crumpton, Brown, E. E. Prohibition Fight Again To Come In Congress

Experts Say, However, That Dry Forces Will Undoubtedly Be The Victors.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—Instead of an orderly business-like session devoted to reducing taxes and passing appropriation bills, the new sixty-ninth congress gives promise, on the eve of its assembly, of becoming a veritable Donnybrook Fair, with a dozen spectacular fights in the offing and a very real one impending over prohibition.

Any doubt that the wet and dry issue is to be dragged forth and fought over was dispelled by the rapid fire developments of the week, including the announcement by Rep. Dyer, republican of Missouri, that he will introduce a bill flatly repealing the Volstead law; the vitriolic attack on the administration's enforcement policies by 20-odd reform organizations, and the announcement Saturday of the Anti-Saloon League's legislative program for the session.

While not openly indorsing the extreme measures advocated by the reform organizations, headed by Clinton N. Howard, the Anti-Saloon League nevertheless served notice that it is going to marshal its not inconsiderable strength in the new congress to put real teeth in the dry laws.

The League wants it announced, every prohibition agent put under civil service, the deportation of every alien convicted of violating the Volstead act a law to divest all intoxicating liquor of its legal status, whenever and wherever procured; another law putting nearly all violations in the felony class; use of the navy to enforce the Volstead act; extension of the search and seizure provisions; a law compelling the teaching of the constitution in public schools; continuance of the "educational campaign" by bill posters and advertising to propagandize for advance of the law, and finally "any other legislation necessary to enforce the eighteenth amendment."

The sixty-ninth congress, with nearly 100 new members of the house and 14 new members of the senate, is rated by wets and drys alike as "about 25% wet and 75% dry." The wets are all wet and the drys are of varying degrees of dryness, and therein lies the question mark.

Many ostensibly dry congressmen are not dry to the extent of blindly following the League's directions, although they were opposed to the repeal of the Volstead law and the eighteenth amendment.

To signalize the approaching fight, the Anti-Saloon League held a big banquet Friday night which was attended by many of the radical drys attending the convention here of the united committee for prohibition enforcement, and by many members of congress.

The congressmen assured the dry laymen that there is no chance of the wets making any real headway at this session and they also assured the League's officials that "President Coolidge is heart and soul behind the eighteenth amendment."

In response to these congressional assurances, Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the League, served notice that "it is the purpose of this organization to take the stump in the backwoods of America until every wet congressman is sent to political oblivion."

Representative Crampton, republican of Michigan, assured the dry leaders that he was certain of the passage of his bill to deport all aliens upon conviction of violating the Volstead act.

A score of congressional speakers spoke reassuring words, among them Senators Dale, of Vermont; Harreld, of Oklahoma; Brookhart, of Iowa; Howell, of Nebraska; Representatives Newton, of Minnesota; Kelly, of Pennsylvania; Hudson, of Michigan; Thompson, of Ohio; Timberlake, of Colorado; Hershey, of Maine; Strother and Bowman, of West Virginia; Byrnes, of Tennessee; Barkley, of Kentucky; Sanders, of Louisiana; Ratherbone, of Illinois; Brown, of Wisconsin; Tillman, of Arkansas; Abernathy, of North Carolina; Gasque, of South Carolina; and Johnson, of Washington.

The injection of some religious bitterness into the fight was envisioned by the letter indicted by the radical drys of the Howard convention to Pope Pius, appealing to him to bring pressure to bear on Catholics to observe the law.

The Rev. John J. Burke, general secretary of the national Catholic welfare council, characterized the letter as "impudent."

"The impudence of demanding that the holy father personally interfere in the domestic political affairs of our country will be patent to everyone," he said. "Prohibition is a political question; was born of politics and today is the most critical political question in America."

Howard denies that his letter to the pope was "impudent."

On the contrary, he says, the letter was subscribed to by the Catholics represented in the convention of reform societies.

"It is an unparalleled compliment to the pope," said Howard. "For the first time in history, a dominantly Protestant gathering has recognized the spiritual influence and dominance of the pope and appealed for his aid."

CHRISTIAN HARMONY ASSOCIATION

The Christian Harmony singers met with Mars Hill last Sunday with a small crowd, but the good people welcomed us there, so we had a wonderful day singing the good old songs of Zion.

The affair was saddened on account of the death of one of the good women of that vicinity, whose funeral was held Sunday at Pleasant Grove.

Dinner was bountiful and enjoyed by everyone.

We thank the good people of Mars Hill for their kindness, and welcome them to join us and help us sing God's praises in the good old books.

WHO BUILDS OUR SCHOOLS

We have here and everywhere in the South the very best of school buildings. These schools have been built with money derived from taxing our people and our industries.

One of the biggest industries we have has been sawmilling and sawmilling has paid a big part of our school building expense

When our timber is all cut this tax money will stop. But we can keep these taxes coming by using our idle lands to grow more timber.

If we take care of our own land by keeping fires off of it we may be surprised at the revenue it will produce.

Ira Marshall of Dola, Ohio, made 1600 bushels of corn on ten acres this year, averaging 160 bushels per acre, according to the Ohio Extension Service. This is said to be 25.7 bushels an acre on a ten-acre field above the world's record, established in 1922 by W. H. Gilmore, another Ohio farmer.

It is reported by the State Department of Agriculture at Montgomery, Alabama, that bee keepers ship out of Alabama each year 180,000 queens which usually sell from one to two dollars each. Some of them bring many times this amount. Most of them are shipped into the Northern States and also into Canada. Montgomery is the largest bee shipping point in the United States.

Cotton growers of the San Joaquin Valley, California, plant only one variety, the Acala. The quality and staple of it are both good, and the yields are large. As a result of growing a single variety the farmers have become more skillful in handling the crop. Better prices are recieved for it, because of high quality and uniformity. It is said that yields of 1½ to 2 bales per acre are becoming most frequent.

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH YOUR TELEPHONES?

Again we remind you that December 14 is the day for the annual meeting of the directors of the Peoples Telephone Company in Clanton. You have been fully warned heretofore that something must be done on that day if the Peoples Telephone Company is to continue to operate during next year.

When we say something must be done, we mean something real. This is the time when a meeting like some we have had in the past is not going to get the answer. If there are any men in the Peoples Telephone Company who are able to prescribe a sound business course to pursue, December 14 is the time for them to come forward and shell down the corn. Then when the solution has been prescribed the people who compose the organization must rally around and carry it through. If this is not done on Decmber 14, it will be up to you to get you a Bell phone after January 1 if you want any kind of telephone service.

What will you do with your Peoples Telephone Company? Who is able to offer the proper solution? December 14 is the day the thing must be settled. Has your line elected a man to come here and represent you in the meeting?

OLIVER D. STREET HEAD OF ALABAMA MASONS

Hon. Oliver D. Street of Guntersville, has been elected as grand master of the Grand Lodge of Alabama Masons. His elevation to this important post was done at the recent State meeting of Masons in Montgomery.

Mr. Street is one of the most distinguished citizens of north Alabama. He is a lawyer of no little renown, and is prominent in church, politicl and fraternal circles. He is Republican National Committeeman from Alabama, a political honor he has held in the Republican party for several years.

While we of course understand that it is the policy of all good Masons to keep their Masonry in one pocket and their politics in another, yet we can not refrain from saying here that we are glad to see Alabama's most prominent Republican also highly honored, among his associates in Masonry.

MORE ABOUT OUR PAVED ROAD

Chilton County's section of the paved Birmingham-Montgomery highway recently came in for a chapter in The Birmingham Age-Herald's attempted expose of wastefulness in the construction of Alabama highways. Special attention was directed to the failure of parts of our concrete road that has given away and cracked in such a manner as is calculated to make it necessary to take out much of the concrete and re-lay it.

The revelations of The Age-Herald in its special articles on the subject has called forth much comment from persons on all sides of Alabama's peculiar highway controversy. Some say the pavement is cracking and going to pieces because too much politics was mixed with the cement.

The construction company which built the Chilton County concrete pavement in a letter to The Age-Herald maintains that failure of certain portions of the pavement is in no wise a reflection upon concrete paving, but is due entirely to the fact that the concrete was laid before the fills were given time to settle; that it is the settling time of the ground where these fills were made that has caused the trouble. J. R. & J. B. Miller Construction company built the highway complained of. A. B. Henning, construction engineer of that company, writes from Baconton, Ga., as follows in the Birmingham Age-Herald last Sunday:

The main and only cause I attribute the cracking and settling of the concrete slabs on the five-mile section of the Chilton County paving to, is the fact that it was placed on newly graded road. This section of road was graded during August and September of 1924 when there was absolutely no rainfall for a period of four months in the entire section of this county and the surrounding country, therefore, all of this new graded road had no chance of settling prior to the placing of the concrete pavement. On October 1, when the first batch of concrete was placed at the Chilton county line and continuing on through to December 19, the J. R. & J. B. Miller company had placed six miles of this paving all during the entire period. This paving was placed upon an insufficiently settled sub-grade, although the sub-grade was soaked with water, as specifications called for, prior to the placement of the concrete on same, still this was not sufficient to keep the fresh graded fills from settling.

You may question here, why was this pavement placed before the sub-grade had received a sufficient quantity of rain to permit it to make full settlement prior to the placing of the concrete? In reply I will state, that this pavement was placed with an absolute view to having this section of the main Birmingham-Montgomery highway ready to open to through traffic before the winter rains. This was accomplished with the expected views of having to replace several sections of the five miles of pavement.

As a convincing statement let me invite you, the public and all others that are doubtful as to the good results of concrete pavement to inspect this same highway, south of Wessington, or the six-mile point in question, all the way through to Mountain Creek, the distance of 32 miles, and note that no settlement has occurred there, on account of the base having received sufficient settlement prior to the placing of the concrete. However, you will find occasional longitudinal and transverse cracks but these are not detrimental to concrete paving, as at the present time there is not definite precaution against such cracks.

We will thank you to publish this letter in order that the public may have an opportunity to judge for themselves as to whether concrete paving is a failure.

It is an established fact that all who have observed the wholesale cracking and splitting in the paved road in this county are wholly agreed with Mr. Henning that it is due to the concrete being placed on fills that had not had sufficient time and treatment to make them settle. Therefore it is interesting to read Mr. Henning's explanation of the cause of cracking, and his statements of why the road builders went ahead and placed the concrete knowing that the fills would not support it.

They may have figured on having to replace some of the concrete that was laid, but it is our guess now that much more of it will have to be done over than they calculated. If they were correct in their guess as to how much of it would crack and have to be done over, then it looks to us like it was a mighty heap of loss for the State to assume just for the sake of having the new road opened on record time.

Reference is made to the lower section of the Chilton road. It yet remains to be seen what will happen there. Many of the fills close to Clanton upon which the concrete has already been laid have not been wet through and through since they were built. It may be that they will also crack when natural settlement takes place.

Why Is It--

"HOG KILLING TIME" HERE

Hog killing time is here again with all its attendant blessings, such as chitlins, backbone, spareribs, liver, etc. If you see a lot of fellows going around with a greasy chin, and looking otherwise prosperous and well fed, it is a sure sign that they "raised a pig" last summer.

Last Saturday County Commissioner Alphonso Vinson, droppel in at The Banner office to leave a report on his pig which he killed that day. It was a little over a year old and weighed 576 pounds. Quite a pig.

ORGANIZING REPUBLICANS IN FLORIDA

"A systematic effort to keep Republicans who are pouring into Florida from the North enlisted under the Republican banner, instead of letting them drift with the popular Democratic sentiment, has been launched in that state by prominent Republican leaders," says a recent dispatch published in the daily papers of the country.

There is a note of interest in the statement. Among the hundreds of thousands of people who are flooding Florida there are certainly many Republicans. It is stated that during 1925 there will be two million people from other parts of the United States who will visit Florida. Many of them will become interested in some way and will ultimately become citizens there.

The normal population of Florida is a little over a million. If only a small percentage of the two million visitors a year should become citizens and then granting half of those who thus become permanent citizens are Republicans in politics, then it may be seen that it is well worth while for the Republican organization of Florida to take some steps to see that they remain in the Republican faith. Such a process of political cultivation will in a few years make Florida a strong Republican State.

Florida, politically, anyhow, is, like other Southern States, inhabited by a great number of "democrats" who at heart are Republicans. They are the kind that "vote the dead tradition and living fear" of the Democratic party and go straight home and pray for the country to go Republican.

If you could get enough Republicans imported into Florida to once carry the State Republican, then about half those natives who have always voted the democratic ticket because "pap" did would turn Republican overnight.

GOLDEN WEDDING

On December 2, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gay of West Chilton celebratd their 50th wedding anniversary. On the morning of the 2nd, her eldest brother, Rev. J. W. Mitchell, and sisters, Mrs. J. T. Martin and Mrs. J. C. Merchant, of Centerville, came to spend the day with them, but finding they had prepared a special supper for the occasion, they stayed over until the next day. The crowd for the evening gathered at the home of their son, Mr. J. W. Gay. When the crowd had gathered all were invited into the living room, and the brother of the bride of 50 years ago told about their marriage, th dress, and the way they traveled in that day and time, and down to the present time. This was an interesting talk, and was enjoyed by the listeners. After this Mr. and Mrs. Gay also made a little talk and their little granddaughter, Marie Davis gave a reading suitable for the occasion.

Now the gifts were shown to the bride and groom by a niece, Mrs. Russel Samples. This made them feel so happy, for they had received many presents, such as cash, towels, handkerchiefs, fancy work, water set, gold ring, gold thimble, gold collar buttons, fruit of all kinds, and a beautiful dress.

The bride and groom, with relatives, were escorted to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Two long tables were placed together with spotless linen doilies and bouquex of flowers. In the center of the table was a beautiful wedding cake, bearing the dates suitable to the occasion. Here, in front of this cake the bride and groom were seated, while the others stood around the table. There were many other beautiful cakes of different kind, fruits of all kind, nuts, raisins, ambrosia, hot chocolate and coffee were served. As some members of the family could not be present, they were sent some of the supper the next day. Every one present enjoyed the golden wedding celebration, and we wish for them many more happy years.—One of those present.

For Sale

My Entire Stock of Goods and Store Fixtures

Again I am sick and unable to look after my store. I have finally made up my mind to sell out completely and not try to run my store any longer.

Now I am looking for somebody who wants to buy my entire stock of goods, including fixtures. If you want a good money-making business, this is your chance. I will sell for a liberal discount below what the goods cost me.

You better act quick, because I am going to do business with somebody at once.

YE "CHUCKLE" EDITOR'S CHRISTMAS GIFT LIST!

Having duly run around in Circles to the bewilderment
Of the other nine-tenths
Of our family—
Having muttered under our Breath and dulled our
Finger-nails on our cranium—
Having tied what little we HaveHave of brains into a
Glorius knot—here's letting
You in on the hysterical
Results!
Behold! Our—

CHRISTMAS GIFT LIST!

For the WIFE:
A bunch of Rubber Dollar Bills. She'll be able to stretch those so they'll reach further in buying power!

For the MOTHER-IN-LAW:

For the BABY:
A Microphone. He's going to be a radio announcer later in life, anyway. You'd be surprised with what remarkable clearness he can broadcast regularly every morning at about 3 a. x.

For BROTHER BILL:
A Gravy Sponge. He'll be able to get more with that—instead of using a slice of bread for mopping up purposes on his plate at every meal And maybe, we'll buy him a knife with no edges on it, too. He cut his mouth with the last one we gave him.

For UNCLE JOHN:
A pair of Trousers with big two-way pockets. He's so tight with his money, he'd make a can of sardines look like they were in mid-ocean in comparison.

Fr the DOG:
A healthy sniff of Chloroform. That makes the fourth pair of shoes the critter has digested in the last month.

For our NEIGHBOR:
A White Flag. It's about time he and his wife quit fighting, arranged an armistice and gave the whole block a rest.

For the BOSS:

A Time Clock. He's been coming down to the office later than the rest of us. And it'll be lots of fun for him—in looking over the time cards—to hand himself a bawling out and dock himself for being late.

There, isn't that a thoughtful, practical, useful Christmas Gift list. Outside of the baby and the dog, the prospective favored ones - - when they read it - - will very likely chip in for a shotgun, select an undertaker and make our Christmas Greeting - - (engraved in marble read) - - :

OAK GROVE

We have a fine Sunday school and everybody takes great interest. We always have good crowds.

Our singing society met Sunday afternoon with good attendance and fine singing. We had several directors. We sang until 3 o'clock, and then adjourned for the B. Y. P. U. The Juniors had a fine program, and also the Intermediates gave a good program.

During the singing many duets were rendered, which were enjoyed by everyone. We invite every one of the visitors back again.

Next Saturday night and Sunday are our regular preaching dates. Everybody come.

Mr. W. H. Falkner entertained the Y. W. A., G. A., and R. A. at his home Friday night.

Miss Ollie Glass spent the week end in Birmingham. Mr. Vollie Glass returned home with her and spent Sunday

Misses Myrtle Martin, Elizabeth Aust, and Lesta Cobb dined with Ollie and Ruth Glass Sunday

Mr. Vollie Glass was the guest of Miss Vera Sammons Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Falkner are visiting relatives at Vandiver all this week.

We have prayer meeting each Wednesday night.

Mr. J. W. Pattillo, merchant, of Billingsley, was a business visitor to Clanton Monday.

MRS. MARY THOMAS WALDROP

Mrs. Mary Thomas Waldrop died on December 2, at the home of her daughter, near West Frankfort, Ill. Mrs. Waldrop went north in September, trying to regain her health but failed, and on the afternoon of December 2, the end peacefully came.

She was the wife of Mr. Issac Waldrop of Beat 14. Her remains reached Randolph on the night of the 4th, and were carried to her home, and on Sunday afternoon were buried at her old home at Pleasant Grove, west of Jemison, attended by a large concourse of people. The funeral service was conducted by R. M. Honeycutt. The floral offerings were beautiful. Her two daughters, one son, and sons-in-law were present at the burial.

"What if the clouds do for a moment
Hide the sweet light of morn that nears?
Soon the glad sun of promise given
Rises to shine a thousand years."

NOTICE OF COUNTY BOARD MEETING

The next regular meeting of the Chilton County Board of Education will be held the third Friday in December, which will be the 18th, instead of the last Friday, which comes on Christmas Day.

The Board is going to visit the County Training School on that day and will leave the office about 11 o'clock. Therefore, if you have any business with them please come early or wait until afternoon. They will be back about 2:30.—B. Lawrence, Co. Supt. of Education.

PLETCHER NEWS

Hog killing is going along nicely now.

The Pilgrim's Rest and Alpine singing societies met Sunday afternoon at Pilgrim's Rest with a large crowd. Several songs were sung. Several directors were present.

Miss Ruby Cruise, teacher at Pilgrim's Rest school, spent the week end in Vida visiting her sister.

Messrs. Clarence Abbott and Johnnie Askins of Autaugaville were in Pletcher Wednesday.

Mr. Sam Gentry has pneumonia.

Mr. G. A. Keen and family will move in the near future.

Misses Grace Abbott and Lonnie Poole spent a few days in Autaugaville last week.

A wedding of much interest and surprise was that of Miss Lula Poole and Mr. Charles Morris, which occurred last Sunday at Centerville. The young couple will make their home in Eolen.

Mrs. Gertie Abbott spent Thursday with Mrs. J. T. Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ousley and Mollie Bell motored to Clanton Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walker of Bessemer visited Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ousley, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Sam Campbell of Summerfield visited relatives near here last week.

Messrs. Elmer Kendrick, Buster Abbott and Raymond Kendrick called on Misses Lula and Cordelia Johnson Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ousley spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Williams.

THE STANTON BALL TEAM

The Stanton "Rounders" are working hard and putting forth every effort they possibly can in practice. They have shown some remarkable skill in the course of the games. The Stanton team has won all three of the games they have played, and we are proud of their record. They have the spirit of cooperation that is needful to put any team on the winning list. Although they are only Junior High School players they surpass some of the high school players of this section. Their schedule is almost full, only a few dates are open, and they will be filled in a short time. They have the ability to "do their stuff if only given a chance. We hope they will be as successful throughout the season as they have started out. May good luck be with them.—Stanton Junior High School.

WEST CHILTON

The farmers are all through gathering and have started breaking their land for another year, while some are planting oats for the spring crop.

Mr. Marsh Lovelady has recently covered his dwelling.

Mr. W. M. D. O'Neal has been at work on a bad piece of road this side of Riderville, and now it looks like a pike. Mr. O'Neal certainly knows how to build roads.

Mr. C. C. Gay made a business trip to Selma last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gay celebrated their golden wedding on December 2 at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gay.

Messrs. J. W. Clifford and C. C. Gay went squirrel hunting last Thursday and killed 17.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell and sisters of Centreville were visitors in this community last week.—Mrs. C. C. Gay.

CLANTON MEN TRIED FOR HUNTING WITHOUT PERMIT

On Monday of this week four men from Clanton, E. T. Weldon, Ruben E. Wyatt, Claudy Wyatt and Bud Parrish, went to Rockford to answer a charge of hunting in Coosa County without permit a few weeks ago. The above named men appeared before the court in Rockford and plead guilty to the charge and paid off the fine and cost.

THANKS HOSPITAL OFFICIALS

I want to thank Drs. N. S., Arthur, and Sam Johnson for the noble and efficient services they rendered my boy, George, while he was at the Central Alabama Hospital. Also, the kind nurses, Misses Swint and Joiner, who were so good and kind to him while he was sick. It is a pleasure for me to pay these grand doctors and nurses for their noble work.—Very respectfully, Gid Smith, (col), Lomax, Ala.

SATSUMAS FROM LOXLEY

Our good friend, Mr. H. T. Childress, of Loxley, Baldwin County, Ala., has very kindly remembered The Union-Banner with a nice box of this most excellent fruit. In the box was a small branch from a tree, upon which were clustered twenty-three satsumas.

We wish we could have kept the fruit to show to Mr. Childress' friends but the things were so good we just couldn't keep from eating them.

No wonder Bob Vail and everybody else in Baldwin County are so lavish in their praise of the place. It must surely be great to live in a country that produces such fine fruit as that sent us by Mr. Childress.

Thank you, Hermie, do it again just as often as you wish.

Miss Mabel Powell of Temple Community spent the week end with Miss Essie Parrish of Providence.

NOTICE OF MUSIC EXAMINATION

Any applicants desiring to take the music examination will report at the Courthouse on Monday morning, December 21st. This will be held with the regular teachers' examination, and is only given once each year.—B. Lawrence, Co. Supt. of Education.

Dr. A. A. Conway of Jemison was transacting business in Clanton Monday.

NORMAL SCHOOL OF MUSIC BEGIN JANUARY 4

Arrangements have recently been completed for a normal school of music to be taught at Concord beginning on January 4th, 1926. The school will be taught by Prof. C. C. Stafford of Woxahatchie, Texas, assisted by Prof. W. M. Devaughn of Cooper. Other teachers will be employed if necessity rises.

Prof. Stafford is one of the most noted composers and teachers of sacred music in the whole country. It is fortunate for those who wish to prepare themselves for teaching music to have at their service such a splendid instructor as Prof. Stafford. The elementary part of the school will be taught by Prof. W. M. Devaughn, who is well known throughout the county as a very efficient and able teacher of music and rudiments.

Those who wish to get more of the particulars of the school may confer either with Prof. W. M. Devaughn or Mr. Jesse Baker of Clanton.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

The next regular State Examination for teachers will be held at the Courthouse on Dec. 21, 22, and 23rd. All applicants not known to me must be properly identified and no applicant will be permitted to take who does not live or teach in this County, or who does not present a permit from the State Dept. of Education if living in some other County to be transferred to this County.

No one will be permitted to take for second who has not finished at least two years of High School or its equivalent and no one will be permitted to take for first who has not had the equivalent of a full High School course.

All applicants should be present at 9 a. m. on Monday, except those who turn in valid certificates to take for a higher certificate. Alabama Happenings

Improvements which have been under way for eight months have just been completed by the Alabama Water Company at Girard. Through them the city will get "treated" water for the first time in its history, some 400 families, without water connections up to now, are being served, and the pressure in the downtown district has been raised to more than 75 pounds.

State Law Enforcement Officer, S. E. Tatum, was arrested recently on a charge of murder growing out of his killing of Frank McGowan during a raid on a moonshine still near Prattville. McGowan fired at the officer, who then shot him dead, other officers say.

For the money expended, his administration has built more roads than have been built by any other State in the union, Governor Brandon recently told 300 sportsmen gathered for a deer hunt at Bellamy. Hunters from all sections of the State killed 27 deer during the one-day hunt.

Reports from Washington to the effect that efforts of two corporations to build dams on the Tennessee River above Muscle Shoals will be fought on the floor of congress. The dams would injure the Shoals development, it is said.

Mayor F. L. Adams, of Huntsville has decreed that "drunks" arrested in that city shall be brought into court the following day so that he may see them while the effects of their "hangovers" are still visible.

T. N. Cornell, who lived near Jellico, was found dying recently with a bullet from his own pistol in his brain. Whether he shot himself or was shot by unknown parties cannot be determined.

Will Sikes and his son Jadies, of Petrey, were recently convicted of second-degree murder in connection with the killing of Mike Bush, Crenshaw County road foreman. They were sentenced to 10 years.

J. M. Dunn, a farmer living near Edwardsville, has just completed his third "crop year," during which he has raised no cotton. He raises corn and meat as his money crops, and reports satisfactory results.

Architect's plans for a 19-story hotel have just been adopted in Birmingham. The structure, which will be one of the most modern in the country, it is said, will cost more than $1,500,000.

Dr. James A. Robinson, Selma chiropractor whose conviction for practicing without a license, has just been upheld by the supreme court, announces that he will serve his sentence instead of paying $500 in fines.

The Alabama Power Company is erecting a sub-station just outside Goodwater to supply that city with lights and power. The town sold its electric plant to the company for $30,000.

Rev. Isaac F. Bilbo, of Pensacola, the oldest pastor in the Alabama Methodist (Southern) Conference, died recently and was buried at Tuskegee, his birth-place.

W. B. Knight, 68, Houston County farmer, was instantly killed near Dothan recently, when an auto in which he was riding plunged down a 30-foot embankment.

Jefferson County's three commissioners against whom impeachment proceedings have been dropped, have decided to go ahead with the matter of building a new courthouse.

A movement has been launched in Albany to change from the aldermanic to the commission form of city government.

Fire recently destroyed the new Calvary Baptist Church at Tuscaloosa, with a loss of $60,000. It was insured for $24,000.

J. W. Henson, 32, a resident of Anniston, was found dead in bed recently with a discharged pistol in his hand.

The Florence Times and the Florence News, recently merged, made their first appearance as one paper Sunday.

New rates on goods shipped by packet out of Mobile have been suspended until Dec. 15 to allow time for working out a number of inequalities.

Boy Scout troops of Walker County are being reorganized under the direction of Scout Executive B F. O'Quinn.

A six-months old son of Rev. T. S. Morris, of Ankle Grove, was fatally burned recently, when he fell into a bucket of scalding water.

Dewey Loyd, son of the late Luther Loyd, sheriff of Hamilton County, has been named by Governor Brandon to succeed his father in office.

Residents of Daphne have gone on record before the public service commission as opposing the entrance of the Deuell Power Co., into that city.

LIBERTY HILL SINGING

A good singing was enjoyed by a large crowd at Liberty Hill Sunday afternoon, December 6. Directors for the afternoon were J. W. Lowery, Glover Smith, Kermit Lowery, and Harrison Hayes. After each director a quartet was rendered by the home quartet. Mrs. Bennie Rollins served as organist the entire afternoon. Rev. A. L. Foshee made a very interesting talk, encouraging the singers. The closing song was sung by J. W. Lowery, after which we were dismissed with prayer by Rev. A. L. Foshee.

Everyone is invited to meet with the society at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon and enjoy another good singing.

Next Saturday and Sunday are our preaching days at this place. All members of this church are requested to be present at the service Saturday. —Frances Lowery, Sec'y.

OAK GROVE

We have a fine Sunday school and everybody takes great interest. We always have good crowds.

Our singing society met Sunday afternoon with good attendance and fine singing. We had several directors. We sang until 3 o'clock, and then adjourned for the B. Y. P. U. The Juniors had a fine program, and also the Intermediates gave a good program.

During the singing many duets were rendered, which were enjoyed by everyone. We invite every one of the visitors back again.

Next Saturday night and Sunday are our regular preaching dates. Everybody come.

Mr. W. H. Falkner entertained the Y. W. A., G. A., and R. A. at his home Friday night.

Miss Ollie Glass spent the week end in Birmingham. Mr. Vollie Glass returned home with her and spent Sunday

Mr. Vollie Glass was the guest of Miss Vera Sammons Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Falkner are visiting relatives at Vandiver all this week.

We have prayer meeting each Wednesday night.

Mr. J. W. Pattillo, merchant, of Billingsley, was a business visitor to Clanton Monday.

MRS. MARY THOMAS WALDROP

Mrs. Mary Thomas Waldrop died on December 2, at the home of her daughter, near West Frankfort, Ill. Mrs. Waldrop went north in September, trying to regain her health but failed, and on the afternoon of December 2, the end peacefully came.

She was the wife of Mr. Isaac Waldrop of Beat 14. Her remains reached Randolph on the night of the 4th, and were carried to her home, and on Sunday afternoon were buried at her old home at Pleasant Grove, west of Jemison, attended by a large concourse of people. The funeral service was conducted by R. M. Honeycutt. The floral offerings were beautiful. Her two daughters, one son, and sons-in-law were present at the burial.

"What if the clouds do for a moment
Hide the sweet light of morn that nears?
Soon the glad sun of promise given
Rises to shine a thousand years."

NOTICE OF COUNTY BOARD MEETING

The next regular meeting of the Chilton County Board of Education will be held the third Friday in December, which will be the 18th, instead of the last Friday, which comes on Christmas Day.

THE STANTON BALL TEAM

The Stanton "Rounders" are working hard and putting forth every effort they possibly can in practice. They have shown some remarkable skill in the course of the games. The Stanton team has won all three of the games they have played, and we are proud of their record. They have the spirit of cooperation that is needful to put any team on the winning list. Although they are only Junior High School players they surpass some of the high school players of this section. Their schedule is almost full, only a few dates are open, and they will be filled in a short time. They have the ability to "do their stuff if only given a chance. We hope they will be as successful throughout the season as they have started out. May good luck be with them.—Stanton Junior High School.

WEST CHILTON

The farmers are all through gathering and have started breaking their land for another year, while some are planting oats for the spring crop.

Mr. Marsh Lovelady has recently covered his dwelling.

Mr. W. M. D. O'Neal has been at work on a bad piece of road this side of Riderville, and now it looks like a pike. Mr. O'Neal certainly knows how to build roads.

Mr. C. C. Gay made a business trip to Selma last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gay celebrated their golden wedding on December 2 at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gay.

Messrs. J. W. Clifford and C. C. Gay went squirrel hunting last Thursday and killed 17.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell and sisters of Centreville were visitors in this community last week.—Mrs. C. C. Gay.

CLANTON MEN TRIED FOR HUNTING WITHOUT PERMIT

On Monday of this week four men from Clanton, E. T. Weldon, Ruben E. Wyatt, Claudy Wyatt and Bud Parrish, went to Rockford to answer a charge of hunting in Coosa County without permit a few weeks ago. The above named men appeared before the court in Rockford and plead guilty to the charge and paid off the fine and cost.

THANKS HOSPITAL OFFICIALS

I want to thank Drs. N. S., Arthur, and Sam Johnson for the noble and efficient services they rendered my boy, George, while he was at the Central Alabama Hospital. Also, the kind nurses, Misses Swint and Joiner, who were so good and kind to him while he was sick. It is a pleasure for me to pay these grand doctors and nurses for their noble work.—Very respectfully, Gid Smith, (col), Lomax, Ala.

SATSUMAS FROM LOXLEY

Our good friend, Mr. H. T. Childress, of Loxley, Baldwin County, Ala., has very kindly remembered The Union-Banner with a nice box of this most excellent fruit. In the box was a small branch from a tree, upon which were clustered twenty-three satsumas.

We wish we could have kept the fruit to show to Mr. Childress' friends but the things were so good we just couldn't keep from eating them.

No wonder Bob Vail and everybody else in Baldwin County are so lavish in their praise of the place. It must surely be great to live in a country that produces such fine fruit as that sent us by Mr. Childress.

Thank you, Hermie, do it again just as often as you wish.

Miss Mabel Powell of Temple Community spent the week end with Miss Essie Parrish of Providence.

NOTICE OF MUSIC EXAMINATION

Any applicants desiring to take the music examination will report at the Courthouse on Monday morning, December 21st. This will be held with the regular teachers' examination, and is only given once each year.—B. Lawrence, Co. Supt. of Education.

Dr. A. A. Conway of Jemison was transacting business in Clanton Monday.

Alabama Happenings

Improvements which have been under way for eight months have just been completed by the Alabama Water Company at Girard. Through them the city will get "treated" water for the first time in its history, some 400 families, without water connections up to now, are being served, and the pressure in the downtown district has been raised to more than 75 pounds.

State Law Enforcement Officer, S. E. Tatum, was arrested recently on a charge of murder growing out of his killing of Frank McGowan during a raid on a moonshine still near Prattville. McGowan fired at the officer, who then shot him dead, other officers say.

For the money expended, his administration has built more roads than have been built by any other State in the union, Governor Brandon recently told 300 sportsmen gathered for a deer hunt at Bellamy. Hunters from all sections of the State killed 27 deer during the one-day hunt.

Reports from Washington to the effect that efforts of two corporations to build dams on the Tennessee River above Muscle Shoals will be fought on the floor of congress. The dams would injure the Shoals development, it is said.

Mayor F. L. Adams, of Huntsville has decreed that "drunks" arrested in that city shall be brought into court the following day so that he may see them while the effects of their "hangovers" are still visible.

T. N. Cornell, who lived near Jellico, was found dying recently with a bullet from his own pistol in his brain. Whether he shot himself or was shot by unknown parties cannot be determined.

Will Sikes and his son Jadies, of Petrey, were recently convicted of second-degree murder in connection with the killing of Mike Bush, Crenshaw County road foreman. They were sentenced to 10 years.

J. M. Dunn, a farmer living near Edwardsville, has just completed his third "crop year," during which he has raised no cotton. He raises corn and meat as his money crops, and reports satisfactory results.

Architect's plans for a 19-story hotel have just been adopted in Birmingham. The structure, which will be one of the most modern in the country, it is said, will cost more than $1,500,000.

Dr. James A. Robinson, Selma chiropractor whose conviction for practicing without a license, has just been upheld by the supreme court, announces that he will serve his sentence instead of paying $500 in fines.

The Alabama Power Company is erecting a sub-station just outside Goodwater to supply that city with lights and power. The town sold its electric plant to the company for $30,000.

Rev. Isaac F. Bilbo, of Pensacola, the oldest pastor in the Alabama Methodist (Southern) Conference, died recently and was buried at Tuskegee, his birth-place.

W. B. Knight, 68, Houston County farmer, was instantly killed near Dothan recently, when an auto in which he was riding plunged down a 30-foot embankment.

Jefferson County's three commissioners against whom impeachment proceedings have been dropped, have decided to go ahead with the matter of building a new courthouse.

A movement has been launched in Albany to change from the aldermanic to the commission form of city government.

Fire recently destroyed the new Calvary Baptist Church at Tuscaloosa, with a loss of $60,000. It was insured for $24,000.

J. W. Henson, 32, a resident of Anniston, was found dead in bed recently with a discharged pistol in his hand.

LIBERTY HILL SINGING

A good singing was enjoyed by a large crowd at Liberty Hill Sunday afternoon, December 6. Directors for the afternoon were J. W. Lowery, Glover Smith, Kermit Lowery, and Harrison Hayes. After each director a quartet was rendered by the home quartet. Mrs. Bennie Rollins served as organist the entire afternoon. Rev. A. L. Foshee made a very interesting talk, encouraging the singers. The closing song was sung by J. W. Lowery, after which we were dismissed with prayer by Rev. A. L. Foshee.

Everyone is invited to meet with the society at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon and enjoy another good singing.

Next Saturday and Sunday are our preaching days at this place. All members of this church are requested to be present at the service Saturday. —Frances Lowery, Sec'y.

Interesting Story of the Life of An Old Yellow Pine Tree

A tree can tell the story of its life even though it cannot talk, says the Alabama Commission of Forestry. Since it can not move from its birthplace, its life history comprises the tale of its defeats and victories in contending against the conditions visited upon it by its local environment.

A tree certainly is a stay-at-home sort of a thing, nevertheless, it often passes through many interesting experiences. It may have abundant opportunity for development or it may be impeded and retarded in its growth through many adverse circumstances. It may have ut one difficulty to overcome or it may have to fight for its life against fire, insects, drought, heat, cold, lightning, winds, animals and human abuse.

The story f a tree is written in the rings of annual growth that are visible at the ends of the log when the tree is cut or that show in the cores removed by the small hollow augers used by lumbermen and foresters to see how a tree is developing without cutting it down. When the tree is prospering the rings are of considerable width. If, however, it has been passing through hard times the rings are much narrower and the amount of wood added each year is very much less.

Cross sections taken at different points of the trunk often yield the entire story of the tree's progress. By counting the rings back from the date of cutting to an old scar or more very thin rings and comparing the period elapsed with the events in local history, the evidence given by the tree can often be completely verified.

A longleaf pine recently cut by foresters of the Commission of Forestry tells a typical story. This tree sprang from the seed in the year 1755. Its earliest years show very slow growth on accouht of crowding by the large number of young trees per acre. This, however, caused it to grow very straight. The Indians were careful not to burn the forest and the locality was well covered with dense stands. When the young tree reached the age of 30 years, many of its competitors had been crowded out and it began to grow fairly rapidly. Still more had dropped out of the race when this specimen had reached 90 years of age, and its rate of growth again increased correspondingly.

About 60 years ago, after the close of the war between the states, many new settlers came to Alabama bringing with them the theory that by setting fire to the woods certain benefits would result. For about ten years forest fires were very common in the vicinity. Although the tree was too large to be killed by the fires, its growth slowed up to a very great extent. In the course of time, however, fires became less frequent and the pine developed a thicker bark about the base and contrived to resume its growth.

About 1903 the lumber company owning the land decided to practice forestry on its holdings. Plans were made to cut only the larger timber and leave for future growth trees that measured 15 inches or less in diameter. In 1905 this policy was put into effect. Due to early crowding and the heavy burning to which it had been subjected, this tree was under the 15 inch diameter and accordingly was left uncut with thousands of others. The rings show that beginning at this time the rate of growth increased tremendously due to the removal of its larger competitors. In fact, its increase in cubic contents became more rapid than at any time during its entire life. The tree added 39% of its entire volume in only 12% of its lifetime. It is safe to say that if this tree had been grown under forestry management throughout its life it would have reached its present size in less than half the time.

Monroe county to lead all other counties in Alabama this season in using pyrotol, a war salvaged explosive, for clearing new land and stumping old. L. C. LeBron of Auburn, reports that this county has already bought three carloads totalling 50,000 pounds. County agent L. G. Pearson, and the Monroe County farm Bureau handled all the orders.

Protecting Uncle Sam's Forests Against Fire

UNCLE SAM keeps an ever alert eye open for the dreaded and devastating forest fires which oft menace the country's lumber supply. Not only does he maintain a most efficient and big corps of forest rangers, but at scores of strategic positions in the wooded regions he puts up fire-fighting tool boxes—each containing enough equipment for 25 men. Photo shows a couple of the boxes being trasported for placement.

Frank McGowan Killed In Autauga Still Raid

Prattville, Dec. 3.—Frank McGowan of near White City was shot and almost instantly killed by S. E. Tranum state law enforcement officer, of Montgomery, while raiding a still about 18 miles north of here this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock according to Sheriff D. B. Chambliss.

The officer shot McGowan Sheriff Chambliss said, after he had commanded him to halt and in return was fired upon with a Winchester shot gun. No charges have been preferred against the law enforcement officer.

Officer Tranum in company with Harry Nelson, law enforcer and Deputies Weeks and Rawlinson, of Autauga county, were conducting the raid and were closing in on the still, which was then in operation by five men, when McGowan ran by, according to the sheriff. Tranum is said to have commanded him to halt, whereupon the man wheeled, shot at him with his shotgun and started running up a hill. The officer is then said to have fired his pistol at the man the bullet entering his back and lodging in the chest.

Of the four remaining men at the still, three were captured by officer Nelson and the deputies, one escaping. They are a man named Baker and his son and a man named McKinney each of whom are confined in the Autauga county jail on charges of manufacturing whiskey and possessing a distillery, the sheriff said. All the men live near White City, Ala., with the exception of McKinney, who is said to have come from Florida recently. A difficulty was also said to have occurred between officer Nelson and the man named McKinney at the still site, and McKinney was severely beaten.

A still of eighty gallons capacity, and a small quanity of whiskey were found at the still and destroyed, parts of which were brought here as evidence, Sheriff Chambliss stated.

Immediately after the difficulty, McGowan was rushed to Prattville by the officers where the examination was later made by Dr. James Tankersley and Dr. M. D. Smith. After an investigation, Sheriff Chambliss stated that no charges would be preferred as he was certain the shooting was justifiable. Both Tranum and Nelson returned to Montgomery last night, but will revisit Prattville tommorrow, the sheriff said. No inquest will be held.

McGowan has been married twice, and is survived by his second wife and five children. Funeral services will be held here Friday.

MAN GROWS TIMBER FASTER THAN NATURE

The question before land owners here is whether or not they can grow enough timber on land to pay for caring for it.

Figures are available through government sources telling the amount of different varieties of timber that can be grown on one acre, long leaf, short leaf, loblolly, etc.

These figures show that not only can it be grown at a profit, but that man can grow twice as much timber in fifty years as nature did in the same time.

All it needs fire protection and proper thinning.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased; Probate Court.

Letters of Administration on the estate of said deceased having been granted to the undersigned on the 20th day November, 1925, by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same within the time allowed by law or the same will be barred.

12-10-3t. Mrs. J. W. Lawrence.

WHAT WILL TIMBER BE WORTH IN TWENTY YEARS

A question of imortance to the timber land owners here is what the value of timber will be in twenty years or so.

The question is serious to us as our lands can be made to produce quite an amount of timber in that time.

Prices on stumpage today run from about five dollars a thousand feet depending on variety and location, to ten or fifteen dollars a thousand on well located long leaf pine.

It can easily be understood that the prices will never be less, and it is safe to guess that they will be about double in twenty years.

Size of the body of timber will make little difference as the logging of the future will be by truck and highway to small mills which will be picked up and set down in advantageous places, and any patch of timber will be accessible and therefore worth money.

Every acre of cut over land in this vicinity can be made to produce from one dollar to two dollars an acre in timber growth every year if fires are kept out so that the young timber can grow.

It behooves us therefore to keep in mind that our cut over lands are of value as a producer of revenue for this community, and that with a little care they can be put on a revenue producing basis forever.

Neither the size nor the shape of an egg has anything to do with the sex of the chick hatched from it, according to experiments conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There is no way of determing in advance the sex of a chick which will hatch from an egg.

HEAVY FERTILIZER MADE BEST PROFITS

Auburn Maximum Was Leader All Over Alabama

Auburn, Ala., Dec. 7.—Special.—Of the many facts revealed by farm practices this year perhaps the most importnt is the outstanding results obtained from applications of commerlcia fertilizer larger than those generally applied by Alabama farmers.

Under the direction of the county agents, fertilizer tests were run in every county. Several years ago the Experiment Station at Auburn worked out by experiments definite recomendations as to the kind of fertilizer to apply, but there was uncertainty as to the amount. Hence the tests this year.

Every county report examined to date shows that the larger applications which are usually known as the "Auburn Maximum," returned the largest profits. Because of these demonstrations it now appears certain that fertilizer will be used under cotton in Alabama next year on a larger scale than ever before. The "Auburn Maximum" varies with different types of soils. It requires home mixing, and the ingredients usually total about 700 pounds per acre.

The work of the cotton club boys has been the brightest star in the fertilizer work in Alabama this year. In all of the cotton growing counties there were boys who made a bale or more to the acre. In a few counties their average was a bale. Practically all of them applied the maximum amount of fertilizer per acre after mixing at home.

Forest fires destroyed $38,000,000 worth of timber in the United States in 1924 which was 18,000,000 above the nine-year average.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend." Writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Plain oils only penetrate the skin. But the highly refined oils and other ingredients in Mother's Friend make it penetrate through the skin to the muscles and ligaments; making them soft and pliable, thus aiding the tissues to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood.

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold at all druggists—everywhere.

What About Municipal Ice Plant In Clanton?

Would a municipal ice plant be desirable in Clanton? The city has its own water supply. We also have a partially vacant brick building at the water works plant, which was originally a boiler room when steam was used to pump water. The location is convenient to the railroad, and, I am informed by the public service commission, that the cost of manufacture runs from 8c to 10c per hundred. And I notice that the Alabama Power Company finds it more satisfactory to manufacture ice even where only a small amount is needed, as at Mitchell Dam, and supply to their customers at a much lower rate than we pay in Clanton.

If you think we need this, let the mayor and council know now, and give us time to be ready for next summer, when we will be using tons upon tons of ice daily.

If you want mud and sand in your ice; if you want it delivered in the afternoon when you need it in the morning; if you want 35 pounds when you pay for 50; if you want to pay 10c per 100 pounds more than the same ice costs in your neighboring town; and I might enumerate several other similar things; then you need not take any action.

Yours respectfully,
V. J. GRAGG, Mayor.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan, Miss Naemi Turnquist and W. M. P. Parnell motored to Birmingham, where they were the invited guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peterson. After enjoying a bountiful dinner and spending the afternoon with these friends, they motored on to Fairfield where supper was enjoyed with Mrs. Reagan's sister, Mrs. Carl R. Peterson, returning to Thorsby Sunday night.

The matter of paramount importance to many Thorsby ladies this week is the Ladies Guild Bazaar to be held in the Foshee building on Friday and Saturday afternoons when many articles contributed for this sale will be offered to the public. The usual dinner accompaniment to this occasion will be omitted this year but is hoped there will be enough other attractions to make it worthy of attention to all ladies of Thorsby and vicinity. Mrs. Butler, president of the Guild, will be in charge, assisted by other ladies who have been appointed mmbers of the various committees. All articles intended for sale should be sent in before noon Friday. The place will be open at and after 9 o'clock a.m., on Friday.

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Thorsby schools are a source of pride to the whole community, and their reputation extends far beyond the confines of this enterprising municipality.

We visited the elementary and junior high school Tuesday morning and found it running smoothly in all departments. Prof. W. T. Bean and his assistant, C. E. Brown, who have charge of the 50 students enrolled in the high school grades, and the three lady teachers, the Misses McNeil and Mamie Sue Stewart, who have charge of the 150 pupils of the primary and elementary grades, are all busy as bees.

A basket ball team has been organized and has played some match games with other teams, the last one being against Pleasant Hill team, whom they defeated by a score of 31 to 10. A feature of the game was the sure shots at the cage by McCarey and Littleton. The game, from start to finish, under coach Brown, was clean and sportsmanlike.

Another interesting bit of news is that carpenters are at work building dressing rooms on the stage and it is expected that is the near future the youngsters will give a public entertainment in the nature of a minstrel performance.

LIGHT PLANT BURNED

About 7 o'clock last Monday night people in the vicinity of Thorsby Gin and Warehouse property heard a loud explosion and noted that it was immediately followed by a big blaze which proved to be the small metal covered building housing the machinery for Thorsby electric light plant and also as a storehouse for oil of various kinds used for both the light plant and the gin. Aside from the oil there was little about the building that was combustible, except its light framework. As there was no wind and few sparks the fire did not spread to adjacent buildings. The origin of the fire is at present unknown.

We are pleased to report that work has actually begun on Thorsby Institute auditorium, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 when finished and furnished. Jim Williams has the contract for excavation for foundtions and basement, and has a force of men and teams on the job that looks like business.

Fortunately there is good prospect that Thorsby will not long be left in the dark. The Alabama Power Company is pushing the work of construction of their system with enterprising vigor. Monday their men were engaged in removing old lines wherever necessary and connecting up with homes and business places preparatory to a complete installment that will give satisfactory service. This we are told will be completed within the next few days.

A walk about town reveals considerable activity in building new homes. J. D. Cleckler, our mayor, has so nearly completed his new bungalow that he has already moved in. A little further east, near the new highway, Robert Davenport is building a substantial residence, and still further east, across the street from the Nat. Bentley home, Mrs. Wilder is building her new home. Both these buildings mark the beginning of cutting up the property that was for many years the home of the Nortons and sold by them to Jim Pate. This is probably the most desirable residence property in the town and we look to see further development in this direction.

We found Green Burnett busy at work converting the old public school building into a comfortable 8-room house; this work is drwing near completion and will be a substantial improvement in that section of the town.

The picnic of Thorsby Christin Endeavor Society held on Thorsby Institute campus last Saturday night was a very enjoyable affair to all who were in attendance.

LETTER FROM MRS. ROBINSON

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to explain a few things concerning the recent campaign.

After the close of the campaign and everything had been settled fair and square and satisfactorily to all, Miss Cagle takes it upon herself to tell of what she calls the unfairness of the other candidates, and leaves herself perfectly clear of any unfairness whatever. Now, I shall not tell the many things I heard that they did that were unfair, but only those that I know—that came under my own observation.

First, I want to say I did drop out of the campaign because I was so far behind and had such a poor chance to work I knew I would not get a prize, and probably no commission. When I decided to drop out I only had a very few votes and a few subscriptions promised me—did not have any that I had not turned in. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson came to me and asked me if I was going to drop out would I let them have the subscriptions I might get from then till the close of the campaign and offered to pay me just what the Banner office would pay. They also said they would pay me for what I had turned in rather than for me to lose the time I had already spent, which was very nice of them. So, I worked when I could, getting the subscriptions promised me, as well as the votes, and they paid me for my time. Mr. and Miss Cagle or anyone else would have gladly receivd the pay for their time, too. But the votes I gave Mrs. Vinson in all were very few, only about 40,000, you see, not enough above hers to win the car. The Cagles knew before the close of the campaign that I had let Mrs. Vinson have these votes, so why didn't they let it be known to the office then? But no, they were afraid to, and kept quiet until the close and they did not win. Then after the votes had been counted the management and the editors called the parties who were so near the top together, and asked them if they were satisfied in every way with the count, and everybody said YES. But afterwards the Cagles have to crow.

Miss Cagle thinks because we are a little related I should have helped them, but I don't care anything about that, for charity begins at home, and Mrs. Vinson is in my own home town, and I had more right to help her than anyone else. Mrs. Cagle told me on the street that they would not think hard of me if I would help them the last week, and bitterly denied that they were buying votes, but we all knew better. In fact, they were the first to start buying votes, for Mrs. Vinson said everywhere they went over the country and asked people for subscriptions and votes they would say "we are saving them for Mr. Cagle. He said he would pay us for all our votes." Mr. Cagle found out I had a few votes and came to my husband in the shop and tried to persuade him to sell them to him, making many good promises of how he could help him get a job at Mitchell Dam. But I told my husband to tell him I had promised them to Mrs. Vinson and could not afford to do that. He then tried to get him to go with him to his father, who keeps the store near Mitchell Dam, and see if they could persuade him to come to the office and buy the merchant votes and let him pay him for them, and he did not do that. That same day I met a certain person on the street who had already given me a few votes, and asked him if he had any more votes. He said "no, I am collecting all I can for Mr. Cagle. I am getting pay for them." Just after that Mrs. Vinson and I met another one of the candidates on the street and she asked Mrs. Vinson what would she give her for some subscriptions she was expecting to get that evening, and she said "I'll give you just what the Banner office pays for them," and the candidate said, "Mr. Cagle is trying to buy me out, but I'll give them to the one that will pay me the most." I don't know which one got them. I don't know whether Mr. Cagle bought many votes or not, but he sure did try to.

Miss Cagle admits she was partly the fault for not winning the car for not turning in her votes in time to get the extra votes from the office. That was altogether the reason she did not win.

I am very sorry they were so enthusiastic over the campaign, and working so fast they did not take time to read that part of the rules or the letters sent out from time to time concerning those extra votes given by the office. If she had turned in as many votes as she had and got the extras she would have won the Ford. I am sure Mrs. Vinson got at least 300,000 extra votes for turning in at the proper time. I am indeed sorry they slept over their rights, and want to blame someone else for their failure.

No, they have never mistreated me in any way, and I do not consider I have done anything wrong or wronged them, and I have no apologies to make whatever! They have no right to accuse the other candidates when they were guilty of the same thing. I have no prejudice or ill feeling toward them or anyone else in the campaign, and did not do what I did to work against them or anyone else.—Amy Robinson.

Scarcely a Lucrative Calling

A group of wealthy southerners, Virginians and Kentuckians mostly, were on a train returning from a meeting of the National Fox-Hunting association. Naturally the talk dealt largely with the sport of which they were devotees. A lank Vermonter, who apparently had never done much traveling away from his native state, was an interested auditor of the conversation.

Presently, when the company in the smoking-compartment had thinned out, he turned to one of the party who had stayed on. He wanted to know how many horses the southerner kept for fox-hunting purposes and how large a pack of hounds he maintained and about how many foxes on an average he killed in the course of a season.

The southerner told him. In silence for a minute or two the Vermonter mulled the disclosures over in his mind.

Then he said:

"Wall, with fodder fetchin' such high prices, and with dog-meat for hounds a-costin' what it must cost you, and with fox pelts as cheap as they are in the open market, and takin' one thing with another, I don't see how you kin expect to clear much money out of the fox-huntin' business in the course of a year."

The Ways of the Army

A green recruit was having his first experience at doing sentry duty at one of the southern cantonments in 1917. Toward him through the darkness came a captain.

"Halt! Who goes there?" demanded the greenhorn.

"Officer of the day," came the answer.

"Beat it ho, before I run you in," said the sentry. "What the h—l would the officer of the day be doin' hangin' 'round at night?"

This story is matched by one that I had from a retired chaplain, who vouched for its authenticity:

The officer of the day was inspecting the guard.

"What are your orders?" he inquired of a drafted man.

"Sir," said the sentry, in his newly acquired military manner, "my orders are to be vigilant."

"What does vigilant mean?" said the officer.

"I don't know," said the sentry.

"Call the corporal of the guard and we'll find out," said the officer.

The corporal of the guard came, and saluted.

"Corporal," said the officer, "this man here doesn't know the meaning of the word vigilant. Suppose you tell him."

"It means, sir, to be alert," answered the corporal promptly.

"And what does alert mean?" said the commander, anxious that the lesson should be driven home to the pupil.

"I don't know," said the corporal.

COOSA COUNTY YOUTH WINS TRIP TO CHICAGO

Goodwater, Ala., Dec. 8.—For two successive years Coosa county boys have won free trips to Chicago as the result of their accomplishments in raising cotton. This year Oliver Jacobs, son of Joseph Jacobs, R. F. D. No. 3, won the trip, which was given by the nitrate soda agency to the boy who obtained the best results from the use of nitrate of soda on their cotton. Young Jacobs produced on one acre of land, 1,680 pounds of seed cotton.

Last year Philip Smith, of the same community, won a trip to Chicago, being one of two boys to do so, and he made over a bale of cotton on one acre.

One hundred and twenty Coosa county boys reporting made an average yield of 1,005 pounds of cotton per acre.

The largest yield in Coosa county this year per acre was produced by Henry Stone in the Macedonia community, his acre producing 1,900 pounds of seed cotton, while Richard Hughes produced on one acre, in the lower part of the county, 1,865 lbs.

In Tallapoosa county 104 boys reporting made an average yield of 1,030 pounds of seed cotton per acre.

This year in Coosa and Tallapoosa counties 118 boys reporting to County Agent S. M. Day, made a yield of 118 bales of cotton of an average weight of 504 pounds, which is the highest production of any other part of the state.

WALNUT CREEK

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow us space in The Union-Banner to say a few words about this community.

Last Saturday and Sunday were our regular preaching dates at Walnut. Rev. G. B. Golden is our pastor for the coming year. The people of this community are proud to have him back with them. He brought a fine message to the people Saturday at 11 o'clock. Sunday morning at 10 o'clock we had Sunday school; had a large school and a fine lesson. At 11 o'clock Rev. G. B. Golden preached one of the most wonderful sermons that human ears have ever heard, and a good many heard it, for the house was full of people.

Sunday afternoon the singing society met at 2 o'clock as it was our regular singing afternoon. We were called to order by the chairman, and prayer was offered by Rev. Malcolm Lockhart. The directors for the afternoon were J. E. Miner, J. R. Robinson, T. E. Wyatt, Akins Collins, O. R. Robinson, S. V. Miller, Rev. Malcolm Lockhart, Claudie Wyatt and I. D. Huett, who sang two songs each. Two splendid quartets were arranged by Jesse Baker. Organists for the afternoon were Mrs. Alice Baker, Mrs. Annie Robinson and Miss Evie Jones. We are proud to have such good singings, and see everything growing around Walnut Creek, Concord and Refuge churches. We want to thank all the visitors for their presence, and want them to come every time they can.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL IS SET FOR TRANUM

Prattville, Dec. 13.—State Law Enforcement Officer S. E. Tranum, of Montgomery, charged with second degree murder in connection with the slaying of Frank McGowan of near White City, Ala., during a liquor raid about two weeks ago, will be given a preliminary hearing before Judge J. M. Tucker, officials announced today.

Since the charge was preferred against the officer by Sheriff D. B. Chambliss, of Autauga County, the state law enforcer has been under a $2,500 bond.

McGowan was shot and almost instantly killed by Officer Tranum while he and other state and county officers were raiding a still about 18 miles north of here. McGowan is said to have shot at the enforcer with a Winchester shotgun, after he had been commanded to stop and lay down his gun, which he carried in his hand.

Two of the three men, C. C. Baker and his son, who were arrested at the still site by the other officers, are out under bond on charges of manufacturing and possessing whiskey, while a man named McKibben, is still confined in the Autauga county jail on a similar charge. The fourth man, who escaped during the raid, has not yet been located.

ALABAMA G. O. P. DECRIES FACTIONS

State Convention In Birmingham Last Week Urges United Action In Fight For Principles.

(From The Birmingham News)

Resolutions declaring that the republicans of Alabama need one strong, militant party, and not two parties, were adopted at the state republican committee meeting in called session in the ballroom of the Tutwiler hotel Thursday afternoon. While not referring by name to the recent convention of the Southern States Republican League held in Birmingham, the resolution and several speeches delivered during its consideration made veiled slaps at the league and the manner in which it was organized and the convention held and some of the policies announced by it.

The resolution declares that: "But the republican party in Alabama is in no wise lacking in character, patriotism or principles. We simply need recruits to help, and above all we need those who are republicans in Alabama to work for the party we already have, with the desire to render the party assistance. We do not need two republican parties in Alabama; we simply need to have the splendid party we already have strengthened by votes and workers."

This was the cue for a number of speaners to urge the republicans of the state, and all who believe in the principles of the republican party, to vote for its candidates in state and county elections as well as in national elections.

O. D. Street, of Guntersville, national committeeman for Alabama; Judge Alex Birch, of Birmingham; Judge L. H. Reynolds, of Chilton County; J. J. Stevens, of Etowah county; Gordon Ashley, of St. Clair; T. J. Kennamer, United States marshal; W. H. Armbrecht, of Mobile; J. T. McInery, of Bessemer, and others made talks along that line.

Suggestions were made that a state headquarters, to be opened the year around, with a paid secretary, be established in Birmingham, and the establishment of a newspaper, daily preferable, and both of these were favored by the speakers.

J. M. Adkins, of Cleburne county, chairman of the committee, called it to order. Roll call disclosed the presence of 28 members in person.

In addition to the resolution deprecating the effort to organize two republican parties in Alabama, the committee also, in the same set of resolutions, expressed full confidence in the national administration and in State Chairman J. M. Adkins and National Committeeman O. D. Street; deplored the ever-increasing taxes in the state, congratulated the national administration in reducing federal taxes; reaffirmed its unfaltering belief in the principles of a protective tariff and other principles of the republican party, and urged the placing of party tickets in every county and district and the state at large in every election.

John T. McInery, of Bessemer, was elected to the vacancy on the committee caused by the death of Charles J. Allison, of Birmingham, several months ago, and a resolution eulogizing Mr. Allison and his services to his party was adopted.

Between 200 and 300 persons, about 20 of whom were women, were in the ballroom when Chairman Adkins called the committee to order. As the meeting progressed the number increased until the hall was practically filled long before it adjourned.

William Wood, representative in congress from an Indiana district, addressed the conference of republicans in the ball room of the Tutwiler hotel Thursday night. About 300 men and women from different parts of the state were present and literally applauded the remarks of the speaker.

Mr. Wood briefly reviewed the history of the republican party, lauded its leaders and paid glowing tribute to Presidents Harding and Coolidge, declaring that the legislation passed through congress during their administration had brought lasting good to the country.

Two strong political parties, and only two were advocated by the speaker who declared that only when there is a militant minority party to keep check on the majority party could permanency of government be assured. The bloc system which has come into such prominence in recent years in the national congress, he said, could mean no good to the country, and he was unsparing in his criticism of the tactics employed by them. He compared the blocs in congress to the numerous blocs or "wings" in European governments and attributed much of the troubles of these countries to the fact that such blocs or "wings" did exist and were able to exert so much influence.

The small vote cast in the last national election when only about 16% of the people went to the polls and cast ballots was commented upon by the speaker, as it had been by speakers at the afternoon meeting of the state republican executive committee. The South, he said, cast the smallest percentage of the possible vote and he urged all who heard him to go home and see that all persons who were eligible register and pay their poll taxes, and then vote.

At the conference in the afternoon several speakers called attention to the vote in the last national election when the republican candidate for president received approximately 77,000 votes in Alabama. They remarked that these ballots were cast by white men and from this they argued that the republican party in Alabama is respectable and worthy of the support of all the people. They begged the people of the state to forget the carpetbaggers and their ilk of reconstruction days and vote for the party that stands for the best interests of the country.

Mr. Wood pleaded along the same line in his speech at the evening conference and followed with a dissertation on the beneficent principles of the republican party.

All speakers at both the afternoon and evening meetings gave the republican party and the republican administration credit for the prosperity throughout the country now and for the past few years, and also for the reduction in federal taxes. The reduction in federal taxes, they declared, had been offset by increases in states and cities, the Southern states and cities being especially stressed by most of the speakers.

The matter of opening and maintaining permanent state headquarters in Birmingham, after lengthy discussion, was left to the executive committee to determine.

A CORRECTION FOR MR. ROBERT COST

In our report of the cases disposed of in the Circuit Court last week we made an error in stating the case of Mr. Robert Cost. It was printed in the paper that he was charged with carrying concealed pistol. It should have been "Robert Cost, charged with fairing to dip cattle; nol prossed."

We regret that we made this error in copying the case from the court docket, and hereby express our apologies to Mr. Cost and to Mr. Mims, Clerk of the Circuit Court.

CHILTON COUNTY MINUTES NOW READY

The minutes for the Chilton County Baptist Association are now ready. Any church clerk may call or send to The Union-Banner office and get the number of copies that are allotted to his church.

Due to two dry years in succession, the amount of calcium arsenate estimated in advance that farmers would use in poisoning boll weevils in 1923 and in 1924 fell far below the estimate, and calcium arsenate now in storage is estimated to be from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 pounds. Naturally, manufacturers are not disposed to continue production.

NO MAIL ON CHRISTMAS DAY

HOLIDAY SERVICES AT S. D. A. CHURCH HERE DECEMBER 20

The Seventh Day Adventists of Clanton, under auspices of the Y. P. M. T. Society, will present "His Birthday," a service of story and song, at the Seventh Day Adventist church in Clanton on Sunday night, December 20th. The service will begin at 7:30 p.m., and will consist of recitations, choruses, readings, solos, etc. The program is a very nice one for the occasion. The proceeds will be sent to India to tell the people there of Christ's Birthday.

BETHSALEM

There will be an all day singing at Bethsalem on Christmas Day. There will be preaching at 11 o'clock, and the remainder of the day will be spent in singing. All singers especially invited. Come on and help us enjoy this "Day of Days."

FRANK J. CALLEN WINS PRIZE FOR BEST PAPER

Frank J. Callen, president of The Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton, has been announced as the winner of the first prize of $50 for the best paper on the subject of "Why Banks Should Buy Guarantee Mortgage Bonds As A Savings Department Investment."

The contest was put on by Ward, Sterne & Co., investment bankers, of Birmingham. The following prizes were offered in each group of The Alabama Bankers' Association: First prize, $50; second prize, $25; honorable mention, $5.

Group three, in which Mr. Callen was declared the winner of first prize, is composed of the following counties: Chilton, Perry, Marengo, Dallas, Autauga, Elmore, Macon, Lee, Lowndes, Montgomery, Bullock, Butler, Crenshaw, Pike, Barbour, Covington, Coffee, Dale, Henry, Geneva, and Houston.

The winning of this prize is an honor of which Mr. Callen has just reason to be proud. His ability to win first prize in such a contest, where he no doubt had to match his mind against some of the best bankers in Alabama, is proof that Mr. Callen is a banker of exceptional ability.

TELEPHONE MEETING HELD ON MONDAY

The annual meeting of the Peoples Telephone Company was held at the court house Monday of this week. The representation was the best we have had in several years, and the spirit of those present was evidently bent upon measures of improvement of the telephone system and service.

The election of officers for the next year was as follows: W. M. Wyatt, president; W. S. Cox, vice-president; G. O. Foshee, secretry and treasurer; Board of Directors, J. M. Robinson, J. D. Collins, John Littlejohn, R. F. Deason and O. R. Mullins.

The stockholders asked for an estimate upon the cost of rebuilding the entire telephone system inside of the city limits of Clanton, which estimate the board of directors will prepare and submit to another meeting of the representatives of each line on next Monday.

At the meeting next Monday it will also be determined what the fee for central service will be for next year.

STARR

The Mark of Quality

JUDSON COLLEGE HAS OVER 80 STARR PIANOS

Dr. E. V. Baldy, President of Judson College at Marion, Alabama, recently issued the following statement regarding pianos and their use in Judson College: "It has been conceded without question that there are few requirements of a musical equipment which in severity of demand approaches that of college use. The instrument that withstands the rigors of educational useage must naturally become the standard by which others are judged. Today a thousand schools, colleges, universities and other educational institutions are equipped with none other but Starr Made Pianos. Most prominent among these stands Judson College at Marion, Alabama. The musical department of this aristocratic old institution is equipped with over 80 Starr Pianos. No other will do. Again and again, when more instruments were needed, Starrs again were chosen. The endorsement given these instruments stands as one of our proudest possessions."

An Ideal Xmas Gift

JEMISON CAGESTERS TRIM STANTON 38 TO 12

Last Friday afternoon Stanton basket ball team journeyed to Jemison and were trimmed 38 to 12 by the Jemison High quintet.

Wright, Wells, Bean and Clements stood out for Jemison, while Wilson and Rainwater starred for Stanton. One of Jemison's best men was out of the game.

Jemison has made an impressive showing this season, having played 7 games and won 5, while running up a total of 154 points to her opponents' 86.

Every acre that is not needed for tillage, orchard, or garden, should be growing timber.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

The next regular State Examination for teachers will be held at the Courthouse on Dec. 21, 22, and 23rd. All applicants not known to me must be properly identified and no applicant will be permitted to take who does not live or teach in this County, or who does not present a permit from the State Dept. of Education if living in some other County to be transferred to this County.

No one will be permitted to take for second who has not finished at least two years of High School or its equivalent and no one will be permitted to take for first who has not had the equivalent of a full High School course.

All applicants should be present at 9 a. m. on Monday, except those who turn in valid certificates to take for a higher certificate. Those turning in thirds to take for second should report at 3 o'clock Monday p. m.; those taking for first and submitting valid seconds need not report until 1 o'clock Tuesday p. m.

Respectfully,
B. LAWRENCE,
3t County Supt. Education.

Alabama Happenings

Mrs. Mattie L. Hunt, 20, who lives with her sister who is 90 near Salem, was attacked recently by a strange negro. The object of the attack is a mystery as the black did not attempt to rob the Hunt residence. Mrs. Hunt was seriously injured, but will recover.

Trial of S. R. Batson, Jefferson County Commissioner, at Birmingham, has brought out evidence indicating that he obtained State contracts for an engineering firm in which he was interested, while an employe of the State.

The Gadsden Star, a new afternoon paper, edited by W. I. Martin, for many years with the Gadsden Times, has just made its initial appearance. The owners of the new paper bought the equipment of the defunct Huntsville Star.

Miss Minnie Kennedy, a native of Opelika, elementary Sunday school superintendent for the Southern Methodist church, died in Nashville recently, and was buried at Opelika. She was widely known throughout Alabama.

M. V. Box, a Birmingham man, was recently awarded a verdict for $55,343 against the Birmingham Street Railway Co. for damages said to have been sustained when his auto was hit by a street car.

Attorneys representing the Florence (Ala.) to Paducah (Ky.) railroad have asked the interstate commerce commission to continue the hearing of their petition for charter until mid-January.

The Alabama Water Co. has just purchased a site for the 500,000-gallon reservoir which it is to erect shortly in Attalla. That city, heretofore owning its own water system, has never had a reservoir.

Grand Secretary Geo. A. Beauchamp of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Alabama, attended the exercises attending the laying of the corner stone of the new $150,000 Mobile High School building recently.

C. H. Cleveland, a Birmingham man, was wounded in the head recently by a bullet which pierced the walls of his home as he sat reading. By whom or why the shot was fired has not been learned.

The Mobile Register has changed its name to the Mobile Daily Register and has gone from seven to eight columns, with a complete change in the style of its heads.

Conditions at the Jefferson Manly Falkner Soldier's Home at Mountain Creek have improved materially within the past few months, official reports say.

Mrs. T. O. Smith, widow of one of the best known bankers in the State, died in Birmingham recently, following her husband to the grave after less than three months.

H. B. Windham, World War veteran, of Aliceville, committed suicide by shooting himself to death recently. His body was found after he had been missing for several days.

Examinations of applications for teachers' licenses will be held in every county in Alabama Dec. 21-23, the State Department of Education announces.

Washington reports say that President Coolidge has given his indorsement to the plan for a joint house and senate committee to sell Muscle Shoals to private parties.

'TV AS EVER THUS

'Twas a dark September morning,
In October last July,
The sun was shining brightly,
The snow was in the sky,
The flowers were singing sweetly,
The birds were in full bloom,
I took the broom and went upstairs,
To sweep the downstairs room.

The time was Tuesday morning,
It was late Wednesday night,
I saw ten thousand miles away,
A house just out of sight,
The door projected backwards,
The front was in the back,
It stood alone between two others,
And it was whitewashed black.

'Twas midnight on the ocean,
Not a street car was in sight,
The skipper called a taxicab,
And rode all day that night;
'Twas a summer's day in winter,
And the rain it fell like glass,
When a barefoot boy with shoes on,
Stood sitting on the grass.

'Twas a dark and stormy night,
And the sun was shining bright,
The villain's lips were tightly sealed,
As he yelled with all his might,
"Come kill me, if you dare,
But kindly spare my life,"
And the hero cut his head off,
And shot him with his knife.

A pert young maiden skipped along,
She was old and bent with years,
Her eyes were bright and happy,
And her face was filled with tears,
She recognized the dying man,
And cried aloud, "Who's he?"
The corpse sat up and loudly howled,
"My God, it's dogfaced Lizzie Gee."

LETTER FROM JOHN BAKER, JR.

The Union-Banner:

I desire to make the following statement to the public through the columns of The Union-Banner:

I am now almost 65 years old, and joined the Methodist church when only 19 years old, and have been a worker in the interest of the church ever since I have been a member. I have always tried, to the best of my ability, to keep my vows which I made when I became a member.

I have heard lately of statements being made, which, if true, would prove me to be disloyal, but I defy anyone to make proof of any disloyalty on my part to the church, or to make any proof of injustice in any stand I have taken.—John Baker, Jr.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

A Merry Christmas to each of our many readers.

It will pay to get advice from the farmer who made a bale of cotton on an acre.

"The old saying, 'a stitch in time saves nine,' can well be applied to repair work on terraces."—L. C. LeBron, agricultural engineer, Auburn.

Running a farm without keeping accounts is much like walking in a forest at night; you are apt to travel in a circle.

Black walnut trees bring higher prices than any other kind of timber grown on the farm, and these prices have been increasing since 1915.

Any thinking farmer today will admit that well bred animals are the only safe bet for a farmer, whether he raises them for breeding stock or whether he is feeding for the market.

One of the best ways to get dairying started in your county is to start an organized movement for dairy calf club work among your farm boys and girls.

A coat of grease on plow shares and mold board, cultivator shovels, and other farm machinery of similar nature comes off a great deal easier than a rust coating.

Edward A. O'Neal, president, Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, was re-elected, by acclamation, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation at the close of the seventh annual convention in Chicago, December 9. The organization exercises a powerful influence on all questions pertaining to American agriculture.

The cotton and other crop reports made by the crop reporting board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture were endorsed by leading farmers from 40 states at the seventh annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago. Congress was requested not only to continue the service but to broaden and strengthen it. The official action regarding it pointed out that out of a large number of crop reporting services that by the Government is the only one that actually protects farmers.

That Glorious Feeling of Relief - -

LACKING IN RESPECT

Have you ever gone into the home of a strange person and felt that you were received with a lack of courtesy and respect which you thought you had a right to expect?. We are sure that most everyone who reads this article has had an experience which made you feel more or less like the above. And it was not at all a good feeling, either. Shakespeare once said: "Blow, blow thou wintry wind: thou art not half so unkind as man's ingratitude." No truer saying was ever penned by the hand of man. Ingratitude from another person—and especially from a strange person—cuts and cuts deep into the very vitality of the human being.

On Wednesday night of last week the Glee Club from the high school of Verbena came to Clanton and put on a concert at the high school building here. It was indeed nice of the pupils and faculty of the Verbena school to bring their play here and offer to the people of Clanton what they had tried themselves and deemed worthy of being seen by the people of their neighboring town. They had a splendid little play and it was very kind of them to go to the extra trouble of allowing Clanton to share the pleasures of it with them. The play was not advertised much, and consequently not many people were at the school building to see it, which made it rather discouraging for them; but this is not the point we wish to make. The reception that was given the visitors is what we wish to strike at. The demeanor of several of those younger people present in the audience during the performance was very unbecoming and very disrespectful to those who were trying to render the entertainment. It was even discussed by the Verbena people before the play was over whether or not they would be able to finish the program on account of so much racket and disturbance in the audience. Mrs. Burnside, the director of the group, had to face the embarrassment to come out on the stage and ask for better order so that the play could be continued.

When people get so discourteous as this and so disrespectful of the feeling of others, it is time some steps were taken to remedy conditions. Most of those who were acting unbecomingly were school children of Clanton, and the way that they acted does not speak at all well for their own sense of propriety, neither for those under whose charge their training is. It is a natural propensity for children to run wild unless they are controlled and guided aright by older people. We have schools here to teach our children how to control themselves, but evidently this phase of their schooling has been sadly neglected. Such things as happened on this occasion are simply shameful, and a disgrace against the piety and dignity of Clanton. For visitors to come into our midst and be received in this way will certainly give us a "black eye" wherever they go from here, and we can't blame the visitors, either.

Why could not someone in behalf of Clanton and most especially in behalf of the high school have been there and spoken some words of welcome to the visitors and have shown them that we appreciated their coming into our midst?

We learn that the Glee Club intended carrying their play to Jemison, Marbury and probably other near-by towns, but inasmuch as they were received so coolly and so ungraciously in Clanton, they have declined the idea of going any other place. Now, who is responsible for this? The people of Clanton are responsible. Very often a little encouragement from fellowmen gives people renewed strength and helps them to accomplish things which they themselves did not even believe they could do. But discouragement has decidly the opposite effect. It is the greatest cooler to enthusiasm that we know of.

As for The Union-Banner, we were glad to have the Verbena Glee Club visit our city and we are hereby expressing our feeling to the world; and we believe Clanton also is due them some sign of respect in lieu of their courtesies toward us and an apology for the irreverant way they were treated while in our city.

REJOICING AT JUDSON COLLEGE

Chilton County's representatives at Judson, Misses Frances Gulledge, Elizabeth Duncan and Alma Robinson, had part in an exciting time at the College December 4th, when the announcement was made that Judson College had been admitted into the Southern Association of Colleges.

When the telegram giving the news was read, immediately after dinner, there was great rejoicing. All the girls rushed over to the home of the President and gave yells for Dr. Baldy, and Judson.

Afterward, the student body marched down town, and grouped in front of the Marion courthouse, attracted much attention with their yells and songs of praises for Judson. The news soon spread over Marion, and the people joined the students and faculty in the excitement. A wire was sent to Dr. Baldy, congratulating him upon his success, and expressing our joy.

The admission of Judson into the Southern Association puts her on a par with the standard colleges all over the country.—Alma Robinson.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TO THE FARMERS

Having been reared on a farm, President Coolidge knows from personal experience and observation the peculiar problems which confront the farmers. It is true that conditions have changed within the past few years, but the basic conditions are always the same. In his speech before the convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago on December 7th he showed that he had kept abreast with the changing conditions. He understands the situation from all points of view.

In his speech the President discussed present conditions and the causes leading up thereto. He showed that the problems are real and that the utmost wisdom will be needed to solve them correctly. To this end he promised full governmental cooperation. Any discussion of farm problems must include a discussion of the Tariff. He proved himself a master of the subject. That the Protective Tariff is of direct advantage to the farming industry as well as to other industries he left no room for doubt.

In his address at the American Farm Bureau convention in Chicago on December 7, President Coolidge presented an optimistic future for American agriculture. He admitted, however, that certain conditions need remedying and said that he would be willing to approve any relief measure based upon sound economic principles. How to dispose of surpluses of farm products in the best way was the dominant question before the convention. Its answer is still being sought.

All the Greeting Cards folks sent
You. And—
(P. S. Pop—Look out for any good stamps on the envelopes!)

To MA

May you be rewarded with happy
Success in awakening Pop to go down
And start a furnace fire so that
The house is warm for the day.
May your heart hold no malice toward Aunt Sarah for giving you that
Antique pin-cushion for Christmas—
Even though you know she got it
From Aunt Kate last year.
May your Christmas turkey be tender
So it stays on the table when Pop carves it. And—
May the end of that busy holiday
Find you enjoying the best of health!

To LITTLE JOHNNY

May you get that new sled that Santa promised to bring you. But—
Remember it's only for snowy weather
And not to be tried out on the Best parlor rug.
May you find a nifty chest of Tools
Resting under the tree. But—don't Try out the hammer on Pop's foot or
The saw on the library table or the Chisel on sister's doll. And—
May the day pass without Pop having
To massage you with his ham-like
Hand or the razor strop!

To LITTLE BETTY

May you get that talking Doll and Buggy you wrote Santa for.
May you not forget the Second line of the piece you're
To recite for Santa.
May you not be tempted to play with Johnny's toys—for you know it's No fun if Pop referees the battle and Then puts both of you to bed
For the rest of the day!
And that's that—folks! Again—
MERRY—MERRY—CHRISTMAS!

Days 'Till Christmas !

THORSBY SECTION

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

Thorsby Institute will close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, December 18th and re-open on Tuesday, December 29th. The vacation will be short this year, because of the lateness in opening occasioned by new building operations. The time thus saved and having school sessions on several Saturdays will complete the school calendar in time to close early in June, as usual.

Rev. Thorvald Bakke announces the following program for Thorsby Lutheran church during the Christmas season: Thursday, the 17th, Ladies Aid Social at the home of the pastor; Sunday, the 20th, 10:40 a.m., services will be in English. On Christmas morning at 5:30 there will be "Julotta," a Christmas morning service, the first 30 minutes Scandinavian and the second 30 minutes in English. Saturday night, the 26th, the annual Christmas program for the church and Sunday school will begin at 7:30 and on Sunday, the 27th, at 10:45, a.m., there will be Scandinavian service at the usual hour. Try to come.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church had an interesting meeting last Sunday night. he subject was "Giving," and was handled by a series of questions by members answered by Miss Parker and Mr. Maddox. There was a good attendance and an air of reverence among the members and visitors.

On Monday, Mrs. E. W. Butler received a telegram announcing the death of her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Rider, at Amarillo Tex. Mrs. Rider, 88 years old was run down by an automobile and so seriously injured that she very soon afterwards died. She was a sister of Mrs. Butler's mother, and was a visitor in Thorsby several years ago.

Rev. E. W. Butler made a business trip to Montgomery Monday in the interest of Thorsby Institute.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Norton returned from the hospital in Clanton last Friday considerably improved and is rapidly gaining a normal condition.

The Season's Greetings

Are extended to all our Patrons and Friends. May your cares be light, your joys abundant, and your prosperity continuous—is the wish we hold for you.

40 Million Dollars Saved to Shippers by Better and Quicker Freight Service

The graphic chart above tells a most interesting economic story. The increasing by 50% of the average number of miles traveled daily by freight cars on American railroads, saves to American shippers the immense sum of forty million dollars in interest charges.

It is estimated that the average value of commodities in transit at any given time is two billion dollars. The annual interest rate at 6% on this amount of capital is one hundred and twenty million dollars, so that a reduction of one-third in the average length of time this money is tied up amounts to forty million dollars.

The L. & N. by substantially speeding up its daily car movements, has not only helped its patrons to save considerable interest charges on stocks in transit, but it has saved shippers more than $30,000,000 in freight charges, by reduced rates, since the high level established by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1920.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.

Thorsby Institute first and second years French classes had charge of the chapel exercises December 15th. The entire exercises were given in French. A. T. Arthur recited the 23rd Psalm and Dorothy Butler gave the Lord's Prayer. A French play, entitled "L'Avre," by Moliere, was given by the second year class. Those taking part were Claude Eiland, Althea Johnson, Onzelle Eiland, and Irene Benson. Members of both classes sang the national French amthem.

When school closes Friday night, there will be a wide scattering of students and faculty. Not all of the teachers nor students will be able to go to their homes, but all will be away for some days and the dormitories will be closed.

Mrs. Ethel Loveland will be with her mother and aunt in Kansas City-Mo., Miss Elizabeth Robinson in Birmingham with a sister and brother, Miss Lois Hawkes will not go to her home in Syracuse, N. Y., but will be in Birmingham. Mr. Robert Echols and Mr. Roscoe Maddox are each going home. Miss Marian Fairbank will go to Washington, D. C. Miss Alitha Parker will spend the time with the Gerald family in Demorest, Ga. Miss Sue Murray has cousins she will visit in Eufaula, Ala. Mrs. M. C. Poza will meet her daughter in Chattanooga, Tenn. Miss Odie Lee Arthur plans to be in Montgomery part of the time.

Sunday Services:

Sunday morning, Christmas sermon, "The Story that Never Grows Old." Sunday evening, special service. A Christmas songalogue entitled "The Littlest Son." It will be a service of story and song setting forth the true Christmas spirit. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Magne Anderson, former resident of Thorsby, now of Birmingham, spent several days in Thorsby recently. We were all glad to see her among us again and so improved in health.

Mrs. R. L. Primm expects to go to Birmingham on Saturday, the 19th, She will spend a week or so visiting her mother there.

DR. WOOD GOING TO NEW ORLEANS

Dr. S. C. Wood of Thorsby will go away on December 22 to take a course in special work at Tulane University, New Orleans. He will be away for six weeks.

While Dr. Wood is away his practice will be taken care of by Dr. T. J. Marcus, who will be at Dr. Wood's office in Thorsby every day from 3 to 4 p. m. 12-17-2t

RECENT DEATHS

On Wednesday night of last week, Mrs. Ida Waites of Coopers died. She was 25 years of age and was the wife of Mr. Jeff Waites. The remains were carried to Easonville in St. Clair County and buried the following day.

Mrs. Lauura Childress, wife of T. W. Childress of Strasburg, died last Sunday afternoon. She was 35 years of age. Funeral services were held at New Salem Monday afternoon, Rev. B. F. Dykes officiating.

Mrs. Julia Ramsey, wife of Mr. Wiley Ramsey of West End, Clanton, died at her home Tuesday morning of this week. The remains were buried in the Clanton cemetery Wednesday.

The remains of Mrs. Sidney A. Johnson were brought to Clanton on Wednesday night of this week and interment will be made today, Thursday, in the Clanton cemetery. Mrs. Johnson died in Tuscaloosa Tuesday night, following a lengthy illness. The deceased was the wife of the late Sidney A. Johnson, who was buried here nearly two years ago. She was the mother of Mrs. Claude Reynolds of Clanton.

The Robinson Bargain Store

Located at Broadhead's Old Store

Mrs. W. C. Robinson, Proprietor.

Clanton, Ala.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Moore Hostess.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others were delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. Watts Moore at her home on last Thursday afternoon. Yellow and orchid chrysanthemums were used profusely in decorating the living and dining rooms. As customary, the afternoon was spent in doing various kinds of fancy work. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. C. McSwain, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee. Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames John M. VanDerveer, V. J. Gragg, J. Lee Smith, J. P. Hayes, John T. Ellis, Arthur Johnson, Hall of Owensville, Ind., T. C. McSwain and Grady Broadhead.

Sunbeam Band Reorganized.

A group of little folks met at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon and reorganized the Sunbeam Band. The following officers were elected: President, John Ezell; Vice-President, Elizabeth Eubanks; Secretary-Treasurer, Hal Broadhead; Personal Service Secretary, Helen Moore. Those present were Elizabeth Lawrence, Eloise Rasberry, Elizabeth and Dureen Eubanks, John and Grace Ezell, Helen Moore, Ruth Gowan, James Catherine Crumpton, Gladys Hand and Hal Broadhead.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. J. Watts Moore was hostess on last Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home on Fifth Street. The home was artistically decorated with potted plants and baskets of beautiful chrysanthemums. A series of bridge games was played at three tables. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Arthur Johnson held high score and was presented two pretty handmade handkerchiefs. Mrs. Moore, assisted by Mrs. J. Hugh Jones, served a delicious salad plate. The club members present were Mesdames V. J. Heard, H. M. Simpson, Frank Callen, Arthur Johnson, John Browder, J. Hance Aired, Grady Reynolds, N. S. Johnson, and Oscar Jones. The guests of the afternoon were Mesdames T. C. McSwain, H. F. Downs, Hugh Jones, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Clanton Visitor Honored.

"M. F. Langston, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Langston, 4310 South Eighteenth Street, has just been elected to membership in the Alpha Ofega Alpha honorary fraternity. Langston, a graduate of Howard College, has led his class at Tulane for three years and is said to be the first student to be elected to the fraternity in his Junior year."

Both Mr. Langston and his mother are frequent visitors of Clanton friends.

Interesting Meeting of P. T. A.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Grammar School had a regular monthly meeting at the school Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Gowan, vice-president, presided. Following the business session a splendid program was rendered by the pupils of the second grade, with Miss Thelma Guy directing. The devotional was conducted by Mary Courtney Jones, reading the Christmas story from Luke, 2nd chapter. A playlet of several Christmas songs was enjoyed. The second grade was awarded the picture for having the largest number of parents and friends present.

Attention! Attention!

To the members of the Clanton Baptist Fidelis Sunday School Class: A Christmas box will be packed during the Sunday School hour, to be sent to Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Ruddick, an old preacher and his wife, who have labored long and faithfully in this Association. Fruit, candy, or any useful article will be greatly appreciated. Girls, come at 9:45 and bring your gifts. Anyone who would like to help this class in this worthy cause is asked to bring or send his contribution to the Baptist church next Sunday or to Mrs. Ezell on or before that day.

Smith-Sims.

A marriage that came as a surprise to their many friends was that of Mr. Loren Smith and Miss Mary Bess Sims which took place at Columbiana on Sunday, December 13. Congratulations are extended.

G. A. Meets.

The members of the Girl's Auxiliary were entertained by Miss Mary Foshee at her her home on last Thursday afternoon. The living room was decorated for this occasion with chrysanthemums and potted plants. Miss Lurline Miner, president, presided, also conducted the devotional. POST OFFICE ITEMS

The Post Office Department is now in the midst of its shop early, mail early campaign. All the officials of the Department, starting with Postmaster General New, are determined that the thousands of letter carriers and clerks employed by Uncle Sam are entitled and are going to have the very merriest and happiest Christmas Day this year in their history.

With this end in view, the Postmaster General is urging on every man, woman and child in the United States the absolute necessity for shopping and mailing early and often. Only through the heartiest and most nation-wide cooperation on the part of the general public will the letter carrier and postal clerk be permitted to enjoy Christmas Day with his family and his friends as all other American citizens will be doing.

Attention of the public is called to the fact that if you leave your Christmas shopping until the very last minute you get what other people have left. There is no selection of gifts from which to make your purchases.

And it is likewise true that if you put off your mailing until the very last minute, the congestion that always takes place at Christmas time will be bound to delay the prompt delivery of your gifts on the day intended by the sender.

To insure that your remembrances will be in the hands of your friends make your purchases early and turn them over to the employees of the postal service not later than December 15. By doing so you will be happy and those for whom they are intended will have nothing to interfere with their happiness and joy at Yuletide.

If Postmaster General New has his way about it, Christmas Day this year is going to be the biggest and best for all the employees of the postal service and especially for the ever-faithful letter carriers.

He has issued orders to postmasters throughout the country that their offices will be closed all day Christmas except for the dispatch of special delivery letters and parcels and special handling letters and parcels.

In order that the vast army of carriers and clerks may enjoy Christmas Day to the fullest extent with their families and friends the cooperation of every man, woman and child in the United States will be necessary.

Under the leadership of the Postmaster General, a campaign is now under way throughout the country to instill into the minds of everybody the necessity for shopping and mailing early in order that there will be as little congestion at the post offices as possible during Christmas week and in order that both the sender and receiver of gifts and remembrances may reap the happiness that is contemplated by such an exchange of presents.

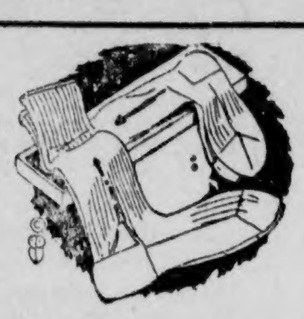
WHAT WILL I GIVE FOR CHRISTMAS?

[HERE IS LIGHT ON THE DARK QUESTION]

Many a holiday present just as well bear the tag "Forget It." Something to wear is the gift of 1925, that isn't forgotten in 1926. How can a person put out of their mind what they put on their back, neck, hands, or feet? It unites the essential elements of the perfect purchase. There is unlimited price to the one who gives. The waste that is shocking to the good old Christmas stocking is the cash squandered on trash. This year, whether you be a man buying for a woman, or whether you be the head of the house—women—in quest of remembrances for the head of the house, choose gifts to wear. They will raise one in their own respect and you in theirs, and will make them subscribe all the more resolutely to the creed—"Dress Well and Succeed."



A box of Silk, or Silk and Wool Hose would be a nice gift for father or brother.

The FLORSHEIM SHOE

One word "Florsheim" guarantees all that you seek in Shoes Style, Fit, Comfort, Value. It means a high standard of Satisfaction at a reasonable price.

We are showing some of the newest styles in men's and boys' hats and caps. All sizes and colors.

POST OFFICE ITEMS

Widespread approval has greeted the recent announcement of the Postmaster General that there will be no mail deliveries on Christmas Day.

Almost without exception the American public has agreed with the inherent justice of the ruling which gives to the army of postal empoyees some of the holiday privileges enjoyed by others, but so long denied them.

Of course the ruling applies only to the coming Christmas, being in the nature of an experiment, the success or failure of which will determine the procedure next year.

The Postmaster General was enabled to take the course he did as a result of the success of early mailing campaigns conducted in past years through the press and the "movies" and over the radio, which had the effect of moving the peak of holiday mailing back far enough to justify the experiment.

Officials of the Department who are watching the experiment closely have the utmost confidence that it will go through without hitch and that Christmas Day of the future will be a day of rest for the postman and the postal clerk.

To accomplish this purpose—and it is believed a laudable one—the American public must mail holiday tokens and greetings in time for delivery before the close of business, December 24th.

If there is any appreciable mail left over for delivery on December 26, it will militate against the chances of postal workers for a similar holiday in 1926.

Once more the Post Office Department urges the American public to do its Christmas shopping and mailing early. If the shopping is done now the buyer gets just what he or she wants and if the gift is mailed before December 15 it is sure to reach its destination in plenty of time before Christmas Day.

FINAL COTTON ESTIMATE

The fifth estimate of the Alabama cotton crop, issued December 10, gives the State 1,335,000 bales of 500 lbs. gross weight. This, according to F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, cooperating with the Alabama Extension Service, and Alabama Department of Agriculture, is a further increase of 20,000 bales over the forecast issued two weeks ago. To December 1st, 1,301,000 bales had been ginned from this crop, leaving only 34,000 bales yet to be ginned. The final crop as reported ginned last year was 986,000 bales, so this crop is nearly 36% greater.

The acreage finally determined as picked in Alabama this year was 3,545,000, with 1% abandoned, making a planted acreage of 3,581,000. The average yield per acre this year was 180.

Both yield and production are the largest this state has made since 1914 when the crop was 1,750,000 bales, and the yield 209 pounds. The high yield this year has been due to the increased use of fertilizers of very much higher content of plant food, and to the almost entire control of the boll weevil during the growing and fruiting season.

In addition to the cotton picked, there has been varying amounts lost by being blown on the ground, and so badly damaged as to be not worth picking up. The first 75% of this crop picked was undamaged by weather conditions, and the grades were high. The latter 25% was seriously damaged in grade, which brought a consequent loss in price. Most of the damaged cotton will find a market for some purpose at a reduced value.

The price of cotton on December 1 was about an average of 18.5 cents for all grades being sold. At least half of the crop was sold, however, by the middle of the season for an average of 22.5 cents. The value of this crop to the farmer, therefore, has been about $135,500,000 for the lint. The seed has averaged close to $30 per ton for the season, and brought the grower about $20,000,000, aggregating a total value for the 1925 crop of around $155,000,000.

Tentative estimates of production in the various crop reporting districts of the state are as follows:

Northwest section	75,000
Tennessee Valley	220,000
Mineral section	118,000
Northeast section	120,000
Blackbelt west	116,000
Blackbelt east	167,000
East central section	155,000
Southwest section	21,000
South central section	132,000
Southeast section	214,000

These figures represent a heavy increase in all sections of the state except in the east central section, where extreme drought in certain counties kept the production down to only 15,000 bales more than last year.

The acre value of this year's crop is about $48, compared with barely $35 last year. In most instances growers have found the returns from this crop yielding a profit above the cost of production. While more fertilizer cost is chargeable to the crop the very favorable weather kept the cultivation cost down to the minimum. There never has been a year, perhaps in which so little hand hoeing was necessary outside of the first chopping. Little or no poisining was needed or used to control the weevil. The labor cost has been confined almost exclusively to the growers own forces. Altogether, it has been a satisfactory crop, although the fall in price has not been gratifying to the later sellers.

FORESTRY LETTER

Wood is the most common insulating material used to prevent the escape of electric current, according to the Alabama Commission of Forestry. If the quantity of seasoned wood should become greatly curtailed, the use of electricity would necessarily become materially restricted. This would have a most deterrent effect upon the arts, sciences and industries which use electric enerygy in one form or another.

One has only to recall the enormous use of wooden poles and brackets in the construction and maintenance of electric lighting, telegraph, telephone and local power lines to realize the tremendous amount of current that is safeguarded from escape to the earth by the use of wood. The use of glass insulators for direct attachment of the wires is chiefly to permit of quick repair and to prevent conduction through water resulting from rains. Where iron poles are used and a wire becomes detached from the bracket there is nearly always an immediate grounding of the current. In the case of seasoned wooden poles, however, contact by a naked wire results in comparatively little loss. Attempts to use concrete poles on a large scale in lieu of wood have failed principally on account of the cost and their excessive weight.

The cheapness of wood as compared with metal, concrete and composition materials will probably result in its maintaining its position as the leading insulating material. Even in the case of pliable insulation, as for the wires themselves, many of the materials used have wood substance in their composition or are derived from tree products. Rubber itself in its raw state is merely the thickened gum of certain trees.

NOTICE OF MUSIC EXAMINATION

Any applicants desiring to take the music examination will report at the Courthouse on Monday morning, December 21st. This will be held with the regular teachers' examination, and is only given once each year.—B. Lawrence, Co. Supt. of Education.

COMMITTEE MEETS IN BIRMINGHAM TO WORK OUT PLANS OF HANDLING PROJECT

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Birmingham.—"Advertising Alabama Abroad" started in earnest last Friday morning at the meeting of a special committee at the Tutwiler Hotel, which met to arrange details of a publicity movement in behalf of the State its resources and its opportunities.

Fred J. Cramton of Montgomery, president of 'Advertising Alabama Abroad," gives assurance that the campaign for Alabama soon will be in working order. The committee to meet with him and Secretary R. B. Vall included Garrard Harris, of Birmingham; Wallace J. Parham, Jr., of Mobile; Horace P. Gibson, of Jasper; Jesse B. Hearin, of Montgomery, and B. W. Pruitt, of Anniston.

The organization proposes to bring to Alabama her share of recognition among the Southern States now enjoying prosperity. Resources and possibilities of the State are to be exploited before the whole nation.

Ways and means of handling the project was the chief aim of the special committee which met in Birmingham Friday morning. Much enthusiasm over the idea of "Advertising Alabama Abroad" is being shown among business men of the State, according to observations of the organizers.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, of Birmingham, has announced improvements and expansions to their plants in that city which will cost between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000.

FARM CONDITIONS GOOD IN ALABAMA

Although the relative purchasing power of Alabama farm products declined from 95 in October to 91 in November, business conditions are very good over the State, according to a monthly summary prepared by J. D. Pope, specialist in farm management and agricultural economics.

The decline in purchasing power was due largely to a drop in the prices of cotton and cotton seed which bring about 70% of the cash income for Alabama farmers.

The term "purchasing power" refers only to price relationships and the comparison' is based upon the 1910-14 average. While the purchasing power is lower, the Alabama farmer's actual income is greater this year than it was in 1924.

Bank debits in Dothan, Mobile Birmingham, and Montgomery during November, 1925, were 11% higher than during the same month a year ago. Industrial activities were also greater and the condition of industry always has much to do with the condition of agriculture.

Over the United States as a whole, Mr. Pope said that general business conditions were good, in fact excellent. The volume of consumption continues high and the general concensus of opinion of competent observers is that fundamental conditions are sound. This means a constant demand for all farm products, especially cotton, of which both domestic and foreign mills are taking larger amounts this year.

Merry Christmas to All!

MR. W. B. CORLEY WRITES ABOUT CEMENT ROAD

Editor Union-Banner:

I noticed in your interesting paper two weeks ago a very startling and surprisingly "careless" letter from one A. B. Henning, who figured rather prominently here for quite a while as resident state engineer in charge of the work on the great federal aid highway through our county.

Some of his statements are so perfectly wonderful in their absolute disregard of the facts that I feel that it devolves upon someone, as a duty to intelligent humanity, to correct a few of his self-evident misconceptions of the real conditions prevailing on the northern 18-mile section of this road, as regards the present condition of the concrete paving.

For some reason, or reasons, which I do not care to go into, Mr. Henning severed his connection (or had it severed from him) with the State Highway Department, and accepted a position with the J. R. and J. B. Miller Construction Company, which is the company that did the paving on the highway north from Lomax to the Shelby County line, and this is the section of paving that he is trying to justify or "take care of" now.

He admits that the north end of this paving, for about six miles, went to pieces because the grading was dry and unsettled, but then he invites you or anyone else to examine this work from Wesssington on down and you will find that no settlement has taken place and infers that the road itself will convince all parties of its excellence and stability.

Well, I accepted his invitation in part Tuesday morning of last week, in company with another party. We made the trip over this road from Lomax to Jemison, choosing for our inspection the portion of the road last put down, which gave the paving about a year less time in which to settle, crack and deteriorate than the north end, which he admits went to the bad.

We found 328 broken sections, some, of course, worse than others. Through the town of Thorsby there are 28. Some of these are longitudinal and others are transwise. I am in no sense a concrete expert, but in a general contracting business of 20 years, I ran up against more or less concrete construction, but in all of my experience and observation in concrete work, he is the first party I ever heard of who claimed that it depended on the character or direction of a crack in cement whether or not it was detrimental. All the jobs that I ever put down, or saw put down, if the concrete cracked or broke, the work was counted faulty, not up to contract, and was condemned.

Another thing, I believe an expansion joint is put in to every 40 feet of road covered. Well, this makes the paving consist of blocks or segments, 18 x 40 feet. In the count we made last week there are cracked blocks in this six mile section enough to amount to 13,120 x 18 lineal feet of paving that is now damaged and that will ultimately have to replaced. Just about fifty per cent.

If the count had extended on from Jemison to Wessington, as his invitation read, the percentage of breakage will far exceed what we have given you. I am like he was, if you do not believe these figures, go over and count it for yourself and see how you come out.

I am not trying to condemn paved roads in general. They are really delightful to travel over and a wonderful asset to any community, but to make them practical and in reach of the tax payers' pocket, they must inevitably go away beyond the results in this case.

A great many of us who observed the construction of this particular road are not very greatly surprised at the results. One particular feature that looked rather doubtful to some of us was that engineer Henning used as assistant engineers, or inspectors, a few school boys from Auburn, who were mighty fine boys, by the way, and may have possessed the technical knowledge of concrete and its possibilities, but who, perhaps, had never payed the slightest attention to mixing or pouring of as much as a bucketfull in their entire life. "Book learnin'" is a powerful fine thing, but when you want to get results, you had better mix a little experience in with it.

W. B. CORLEY.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE COMPANY GETTING ORGANIZED

The Peoples Telephone Company is now getting organized for rebuilding the system in Clanton, and prospects look favorable for the best telephone service next year that has ever been rendered.

The plans as adopted at the meeting last Monday call for the reconstruction of all lines in the city of Clanton with insulated wire, the rebuilding and repairing of the switchboard, and several other minor changes and improvements that will better the service very materially.

The central fee for the next year was set at $3.00 for residence phones and $5.00 for business phones. The date for payment of central fees was set at the 1st of January, by which time it is urged that all central fees be paid.

The assessment of cost for rebuilding the lines in town will be made against each line as soon as the directors can complete the survey, and each line will then be notified of its part, whereupon each line shall have ten days in which to deposit its money with the treasurer.

Mr. G. O. Foshee is the treasusrer now. He can be found at The Union-Banner office every day, and is ready to collect central fees.

THORSBY TO HAVE NEGRO SCHOOL

The colored people of Thorsby have been given four acres of land upon which to build a Rosenwald school. These people have worked hard during the past year, trying to qualify for the building. The land was given by one of Verbena's best citizens, Mr. F. A. Gulledge, a great friend to negro education. We appreciate this gift very much.—Joseph Sistrunk, Teacher.

A Merry Heart Maketh A Cheerful Countenance!

THUS, it is written in the Old Testament. And so it is written on the faces of young and old to-day!

In those twinkling eyes and happy smiles of folks about us, we read fulfillment of the Christmas Message - -

"PEACE ON EARTH, GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN!"

Not only read it - - but understand. Yes, realize that it comes from merry hearts that know no malice - - hearts that, with every beat, send forth Happiness and the warmth of Love and Best Wishes to all Mankind!

Everybody seems young again! Glad to live and let live. Finding untold joys in giving with a generous heart - - minding not the cost but feeling well repaid if only with a smile. Finding happiness in making others happy. Ah - - verily - - 'tis the spirit of Christmas!

And from cottage window and palace hall beams further evidence of this Joyous Season! Welcome holly wreaths here and there. Gayly-trimmed firs and pines looking ever so stately with their scores of sparkling ornaments, strands of golden tinsel, multicolored lights or humble candles. E'en the stars of the Silent Night add their brilliance to the scene. Truly, what could be more enchanting? Fascinating? Sacred?

Entering into the spirit of this great occasion, The Union-Banner extends "A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!" And in further appreciation and good will, we'll add - -

"MAY YOUR GIFTS BE MANY AND YOUR JOYS KNOW NO BOUNDS!"

A
Joy and an Era of Good
Feeling Should Exist for everyone on this Day of Days; for everyone who has faith in our Lord and Saviour, on this,
His birthday anniversary. Let this day be one of Promise, even as that Day on which occurred the greatest incident in history for His followers—Christians. Let your words, thoughts and actions on this day be such as would be acceptable to Him—as if He were by your side in the flesh, watching your every deed; understanding your every thought; hearing your every word—all of which He does from His throne in the Heavens. Then you have made yourself acceptable in His sight, and He will anoint you with all His blessings, and your cup of life will bubble over, for His promises are sacred, His eye all-seeing and power abundant. Follow the path which everyone has been taught—that of obedience to the Master—on through the years to come, and your tears will change to rejoicing, your work will become play, as each new day brings its obstacles to be overcome with a smile. On this day, The Union-Banner wishes well for everyone, that all hearts be filled with joy, and, above all, that Christmas, 1925, be celebrated as such a sacred time should be—with love, not hate; smiles, not frowns; an open heart, and an open hand. Help the weak, cheer the broken-hearted, for such things are the delight of our Redeemer. May your heart's every wish be gratified, your years be many, your possessions great. To all "A MERRY CHRISTMAS."

BIG STILL DESTROYED NEAR CALERA ON LAST SUNDAY

Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee destroyed a big copper still in the northern part of the county near Calera last Sunday. The still was in operation when they reached it, but the operator had fled. Deputy Foshee caught sight of him at a distance as he left the scene.

The man who was showing the officers where the still was located made a mistake in the route, seeming that he himself did not know the exact spot where it was or the proper way to approach.

It is thought by the officers that on account of being carried to the place by the wrong route, the man who was at the still saw them before they got there, and of course, when he saw them coming, he left the still without further ceremony.

SOME MORE AUTO WRECKS

There have been some more automobile wrecks in this vicinity the past week, but we are unable to give the details accurately.

A Dr. Fonville from Birmingham ran over a detour sign below town last Thursday night and turned over his big Lincoln car into a ditch. The occupants were slightly injured.

A fellow, whose name we cannot learn, came into town Monday night from up about Thorsby with his head skinned as the result of a wreck of some kind.

Buster Foshee was run into in Clanton Tuesday and his car turned over. No one was hurt.

It is impossible for us to keep up with the details of all the wrecks that happen along the new cement highway. In fact, they have become so common that folks do not pay much attention to them, only in cases where somebody gets killed.

MRS. SIDNEY A. JOHNSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Sidney A. Johnson, who died Tuesday night, December 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Tarpley, in Tuscaloosa, were conducted here on last Thursday at the home of her younger daughter, Mrs. Claude Reynolds, and remains were laid to rest in the Clanton cemetery, with Martin in charge. Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, assisted by Dr. Ezell, conducted the ceremony.

Active pall-bearers were Dr. T. J. Marcus, Dr. J. P. Crumpton, Mr. J. A. Hester, Mr. W. H. Sartor, Mr. J. Wiley Littlejohn, and H. F. Chandler.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by three daughters, Miss Myrtle Ruby Johnson and Mrs. Harry Tarpley of Tuscaloosa, and Mrs. Claude Reynolds of Clanton; two sisters, Mrs. N. B. Williams of Montgomery, and Mrs. J. E. Lawley of Jemison; two brothers, Mr. D. O. Robinson of Tuscaloosa, and Mr. J. P. Robinson of Birmingham.

Mrs. Johnson was a life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and a member of L. A. of O. R. C., in Montgomery.

NORRELL PLACE SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $6,050

The auction sale of the C. B. Norrell farm on last Friday was a decided success, bringing the unexpected total of $6,050. Tract No. 1, of 15 1-2 acres, was sold for $1,150; tract No. 2, 28 acres, was sold for $2,000; tract No. 3, 35 acres, was sold for $2,500.

One tract was resold on the ground for a profit of $200.

The sale was managed by the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company of Fort Payne, and was sold by Col. Thos. W. Millican, the world famous auctioneer. The Millicans only recently began operations in this part of the country, but they are living up to their well established record of successful land sales. During the past year they have sold more than a million dollars worth of land in different parts of Alabama.

Tuesday they handled the sale of the Uncle Jack Williams farm at Enterprise, which brought the sum of $3,075.

RECENT DEATHS

Mr. J. W. Weldon of Cooper died Monday night of this week. He was 60 years old. The remains were buried at Concord near Billingsley on uesday following.

J. Thomas Hinton, age 70, died at his home near Lock 12 Monday of last week. He was buried at Macedonia the following day.

Little Billie Mahan, the 8-year old son of Mr. Ross Mahan of Clanton, died Sunday, December 13th. The remains were buried at Macedonia near Lock 12 the following day.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of thanking my neighbors and friends who so loyally and faithfully assisted me in caring for my dear wife in her long and lingering illness. May the Lord richly reward you for your faithful service to her. It has meant so much to me in bearing my sorrow.

WILEY RAMSEY.

A FIVE-CAR FAMILY

A five-car family, each member of which has an automobile, is located near Brockport, N. Y.

The family includes Mr. and Mrs. George Stoltz and their three sons, Elmer, Raymond and Wilber. Mr. Stoltz operates a farm not far from Brockport. The family has three coupes, a sedan and a one-ton truck, all Chevrolets.

In 1922 Mr. Stoltz purchased the sedan as a present to his wife. Raymond and Wilbur bought coupes the following year and in 1924, when Elmer became of age, he followed the example of his brothers. Recently Mr. Stoltz increased the family's automobile fleet to five when he purchased the truck, which is used to haul farm produce.

JUDGE WILKINSON CALLED IN DEATH

Judge William F. Wilkinson, prominent resident of Prattville, died last Tuesday morning at 4:15 o'clock in a Montgomery infirmary. He had been in Montgomery for treatment two weeks.

Judge Wilkinson was well known throughout central Alabama where he was born and spent his life. Born in Autaugaville 76 years ago, he went to Prattville and made his home. He was at one time probate judge in Autauga county.

He was a prominent church man, being a leading member in the Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Frank Spangler, of Montgomery; four sons, W. E. Wilkinson of New York, Joe B. Wilkinson of Bradentown, Fla.; W. L. Wilkinson and Jack L. Wilkinson, both of Birmingham; one sister, Mrs. F. McNeil of Autaugaville; three brothers, Joseph Wilkinson of Autaugaville, Dr. J. E. Wilkinson of Prattville, and Asberry Wilkinson of Selma.

CHECK RECEIVED FOR ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Mr. G. O. Foshee has received a check for $58.75 from the Birmingham News in payment for his claim for injuries received in an automobile accident on October 16, 1925.

Mr. Foshee had an insurance policy with The News at the time of his accident, and he says he wantss to let his friends know that The News will pay for such cases and also wishes to publicly thank The News for their prompt attention and courteous treatment.

Egypt is now attempting to curtail cotton production by legislation. A press dispatch says that a law restricting the cotton area in Egypt in 1926 to 1-3 of the cultivatable land under penalty of fine or imprisonment is being proposed.

PARDON NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that at the next regular meeting of the Board of Pardons, application will be made for the permanent parole or pardon of George Headley, who was convicted November 14, 1924 in the Circuit court of Chilton county for violating the prohibition laws of Alabama.

Juniors Enjoy Party.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan, superintendent of the Junior department of the Baptist church, assisted by the teachers, delightfully entertained the Sunday school pupils at a Christmas party Monday evening. The basement of the church was made attractive with potted plants and decorations of the season. Christmas songs were sung and many interesting games played. Each child present received an appropriate favor, and refreshments were served by Mesdames Gowan, W. W. Wingard, L. C. Ross, A. L. Robinson, and Miss Ivilyn Ingram. Dr. S. J. Ezell and Mr. L. C. Ross were present and helped to entertain the following: Helen Moore, Mary Agnes and Juanita Welch, Ophelia Hayes, Elizabeth Harris, Vera Jones, Mildred and Janice Danforth, Evelyn Maddox, Mary Foshee, Vivian Gray, Ruth Gowan, Elois Jones, Dollie Mahan, Francis Higgins, Doris Lawrence, Lorene and Gladys Thomas, Mary Charles Cox, Mary Nell Jones, Bernice Williams, Margaret Jones, James Parrish, Dewey Williams, J. P. Jones, John P. Lawrence, Bill Miner, Bronson Ruffin, Jo Erle and Paul Gowan, William A. Willis, Barney Hand, Clarence Fiquette, Curtis Hurt, J. C. Maddox, Joe Moore, Hal Broadhead, Cecil Jones, Alex Hayes, Margaret and Janie Beth Johnston, Wesley Danforth, and others.

W. M. S. Meets.

The Woman's Missionary Society met at the Baptist church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the absence of the president Mrs. S. J. Ezell presided, and also conducted the devotional. After the business session a Christmas box was packed for a faithful old veteran of the cross, and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Ruddick. A sunshine bag was made for Mrs. F. M. Woods, wife of a former pastor, who is now confined to her bed at the home of a daughter in West Blocton.

Christmas Program.

The Christmas program at the Methodist church Sunday evening, under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Wilkerson, given by the children of the church, was splendidly presented. The choir, composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Mr. Evan Parrish, Mesdames Geo. Trotter and Carswell, rendered several beautiful selections. Master John Thomas Marler in a most happy manner gave "The Welcome." This was followed with songs, readings, etc. The concluding number, "The Nativity Scene," was beautiful, during which Mrs. Carswell sang "Holy Night, Silent Night." A collection was taken for the orphans.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. Victor J. Heard was hostess on last Wednesday afternoon when she delightfully entertained members of the Wednesday Bridge Club, and others, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins. Flowers of the season were effectively used in decorating the home. Bridge was played at three tables. Mrs. John Browder held high score and was presented two dainty handkerchiefs. Mrs. Heard, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Heard, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee. Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, N. S. Johnson, J. Watts Moore, H. M. Simpson, Elizabeth Higgins, Misses Bettie and Kathleen Mullins.

Mesdames Kicker and Calloway Joint Hostesses.

Last Thursday afternoon Mesdames S. J. Kicker and Joe Calloway were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Calloway, complimenting Miss Florence Headley, with a miscellaneous shower. The home was profusely decorated with holly, mistletoe, and red and green streamers. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. T. H. Neighbors. The punch bowl was presided over by Mesdames V. J. Gragg and H. F. Downs. In the living room the bride's book was in charge of Mrs. John Armstrong. A contest appropriate for the season was enjoyed. Mrs. George Polk won the prize, a pretty hand-made handkerchief. At this time the approach of music was heard, and the guests were invited into the dining room, where a tree stood, heavily laden with gifts. Immediately, Hal Broadhead, dressed as Santa Claus, entered, drawing a sleigh, heaped with packages. These were presented the bride, and those on the tree also. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames R. C. McDavid, J. Q. Wade, Julius Burnett, Garland Foshee and Grady Broadhead, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee to the following: Mesdames F. G. Taylor, Bama Cox, D. H. Littlejohn, Garland Foshee, R. J. Jones, J. Z. Mims, J. Harmon Broadhead, Hubert Jones, R. C. McDavid, Clyde Jones, George Polk, J. Hance Alred, Lucien Duncan, J. P. Crumpton, M. B. Arant, Julius Burnett, Kin Vinson, V. J. Elmore, J. D. Armstrong, O. O. Roper, J. E. Gowan, G. G. Evans, C. V. Malmede, J. Q. Wade, J. R. Broadhead, B. L. Jones, T. H. Neighbors, V. J. Gragg, H. F. Downs, G. L. Phillips, P. D. Wilson.

Mrs. Smith Honored.

Mrs. Loren Smith, a bride of recent date, was the inspiration of a lovely affair Saturday afternoon when Mesdames D. C. Alred and Omar Reynolds were hostesses at the home of the latter, giving a miscellaneous shower. For this occasion narcissus and potted plants were used to decorate the home. The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mesdames Smith, Joe Higgins, and Thelma Guy. In the dining room punch was served by Misses Elizabeth Duncan and Elizabeth Johnson. The bride's book was presided over by Misses Willodean Reynolds and Alma Robinson. A contest, "Romance of the Flowers," was enjoyed. Mesdames Arthur Johnson, Julius Burnett, and Miss Kathleen Mullins cut for the prize. Miss Mullins was given two dainty handkerchiefs. An old fashioned bride, concealing the gifts, with her hoop skirt, was drawn in by little Misses Jane and Myrtle Pitts, and presented the bride, who was seated under an immense white wedding bell. Candelabra, holding burning tapers, were arranged on either side of the bride's chair. Mesdames Alred and Reynolds, assisted by Mesdames L. H. Reynolds and Percy Pitts, served delicious refreshments to Mesdames H. F. Downs, J. Watts Moore, J. E. Gowan, E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, Grady Reynolds, Arthur Johnson, Coleman, Ernest, Bill Murphy, Kin Vinson, Julius Burnett, Clyde Jones, John Van Der Veer, W. M. Wyatt, Briggs Crumpton, Grady Heflin, J. P. Crumpton, Lucien Duncan, Grady Broadhead, Joe Higgins; Misses Bettie Mullins, Alma Robinson, Willodean Reynolds, Kathleen Mullins, Elizabeth Duncan, Elizabeth Johnson, Thelma Guy, and others.

Mother Of 24 Children In 24 Years

THIS couple—Mr. and Mrs. Jose Sanchez of Yuma, Arizona—hold what is, perhaps, a record in parenthood.

Mrs. Sanchez—the strong, healthy looking mother—is only 38 years of age but she is holding her twenty-fourth child. It's a girl, born just recently. And reports have it that the child is perfectly normal in every way, has a perfectly good pair of lungs and is in perfect health.

Only seven of Mrs. Sanchez' children, however, are living. All twenty-four were born in consecutive years—there being no twins. The father is 51.

Mrs. Trotter Entertains Class.

Mrs. George Trotter entertained kindergarten class last Friday morning at a Christmas party. The table around which the little folks gathered was centered with a little tree that was decorated with bright tinsel, tiny lights and other ornaments. The children were given construction paper and crayons to make a Santa Claus. Games were played and Christmas songs sung by the little folks, after which candy and fruit were enjoyed. Mrs. Trotter presented each child a false face. These afforded much fun. Those present were Theda Wyatt, Jane and Myrtle Pitts, Callen Alred, William Hodges, Mary Calloway, James Catherine Crumpton, Jane Neighbors, Guy Alred, Peggy Page, and others.

Wilbanks-Headley Marriage.

The marriage of Miss Florence Headley to Mr. G. T. Wilbanks took place Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the Methodist church. The church was beautifully decorated with Southern smilax, potted plants, and white carnations. Before the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, Mrs. John Armstrong sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Barney Roberts. The bride was attractively attired in brown, with harmonizing accessories.

NEW SALEM

Preaching services were held at New Salem Baptist Church Sunday, December 20th, and there were some fine sermons delivered by our pastor, Rev. B. F. Dykes.

Sunday school sesrvices were held at 10:00 o'clock as usual. We urge everyone to come and be with us next Sunday.

The subject the pastor preached on Sunday morning was "Dimensions of Life" and it was delivered in such a way that everyone could understand it, and I believe everyone who was present thoroughly enjoyed it. His subject in the evening was "Samson's Riddle," taken from 12:13, 14 chapter of Judges, and it certainly was splendid. We hope that everyone who came took more back than they brought. He explained to us the great power that Samson had, and that he could have been a great man if he had just wanted to. He was led into a bad characted and then he soon died. It was a great lesson to every one and especially to those who are leading a life that Jesus Christ will not accept. Now is the time, young people, to accept Him as your saviour.

Our B. Y. P. U. services were held as usual, at 6:00 o'clock, and a very good program was rendered. We want every one to come next Sunday night in order to get a new B. Y. P. U. quarterly for the next quarter. Come and bring someone with you. We are very glad to have some of our old members to come back and be with us, for every individual has a unique place in life.

Our next preaching days will be the first and third Sundays in January. We hope that there will be a great number of members present for we need their co-operation. Every body is invited.

JEWELL BEAN,
CLARA VINES,
Committee.

POOR O

BOARD OF EDUCATION VISITS THE COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL

County Superintendent B. Lawrence, Mrs. S. L. Busby, Attendence Officer, the County Board of Education, and Prof. Thomas, vocational teacher of the Isabella school were pleasant visitors at the Chilton County Training School last Friday.

They were served by the Domestic Science Department, the menu being oyster soup, veal chops, French fry, hot biscuits, butter-apple-celery salad, cottage pudding, cream sauce and coffee. The guests took baskets of dinner mints with them as souvenirs. This dinner was prepared by the girls of the Domestic Science Department. This is the first class of colored girls taking Domestic Science in Chilton County, to serve the Board and Superintendent.

After dinner the school and visitors were assembled in the auditorium, where the Senior class and teachers entertained the Board with an excellent program. After this, each of the visitors spoke. Students and teachers rendered some good music.

We hope to have other visitors visit this school. A welcome is extended to all by teachers and students. This school ranks second in the State.—I. E. Bryant, Principal.

Blind -- Yet They "See" And Find Delight In Their Christmas Tree And Gifts

AS you're rushing along with plans for a Merry Christmas—pause for a moment and study the above picture. It contains a happy Yuletide thought of what wonderful things are being accomplished for those whose lives must be lived minus that greatest of physical assets—eyesight!

Thanks to careful education, these blind boys and girls enjoy their Christmas tree, too—even as you and I. They are pupils of the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind and, in the course of their training, have had their sense of feeling developed to such a fine degree that the loss of their sight does not hinder them at all in finding joy in life.

As it happened, these youngsters of the lower grades in the New York Institute were presented with a brilliantly decorated tree. They "saw" its beauty as well as that of the many Gifts that came with it—their little hands lightly touching the pine needles, branches, tinsel ornaments, dolls, wagons and other toys.

MRS. CRUMPTON LEAVES FOR FLORIDA

It was with regret that the patrons and pupils of Mt. Pleasant school gave up Mrs. Fletcher Crumpton, formerly Erazelle Foshee, on last Friday, when she left to join her husband, who is working in Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. Crumpton has taught in her home community since graduating from high school, and has made a decided success at her work. By her conduct and work she has won the admiration of both parents and pupils and has given unanimous satisfaction in every respect.

We all wish for Mr. and Mrs. Crumpton a long and happy life.—A Friend.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

Have you ever been out hunting, was asked for a certain permit, and had either lost all your permits or left that particular one at home? If you have you know what a feeling it brings. We have prepared for the hunters small booklets of blank permits, all ready for the landowners' signatures, and then you are ready to go. The booklet contains 25 blanks, with wording that protects both hunter and landowner. They are bound inside a stiff pasteboard cover, which protects them, and keeps you from losing any permits. The price is 25c per book. It might be worth many times that amount to have all your permits at hand on some occasion.

ALL DAY SINGING AT CONCORD SUNDAY, JANUARY 3RD

Prior to the big normal school of music which will begin at Concord church January 4th, there will be an all day singing on Sunday, January 3rd. Prof. C. C. Stafford of Waxahatchie, Texas, who will be the principal of the music school, will be present and sing during the day. It is expected that practically all of the best musical talent of Chilton County will be at this singing and avail themselves of hearing and seeing one of the South's greatest composers and writers of sacred music. All the singers of the county have used Prof. Stafford's songs in their singings; now they will have the opportunity of hearing this great singer himself.

The normal school of music, which begins at Concord on Monday, January 4th and continue for six weeks, will be taught by Prof. Stafford and assisted by Prof. W. M. Devaughn of Cooper. This will be in every way the greatest school of music that has ever been taught in Chilton County. Those wishing to study advanced harmony and composition should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The people of Concord church respectfully invite the public to come out and enjoy this all day with them. They expect a great day and they want their friends to come and share the pleasures of the day with them.

The singing society met here last Sunday afternoon. Directors were S. V. Miller, Jean Wyatt, Claudy Wyatt, and Jesse Baker. After the singing Rev. Bonner preached a very forceful sermon.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The next Fifth Sunday meeting of the Chilton County Baptist Association will be held at Oak Grove, above Jemison, the fifth Sunday in January. —T. J. Deason.

CHRISTMAS TREE

There will be a Christmas tree and play, "S. Slocum's Country Store," at Indian Grave Schoolhouse Thursday night, December 24th, 1925, beginning at 7 o'clock. Everybody come and bring some one with you. Admission 10c and 15c.

DR. WOOD GOING TO NEW ORLEANS

Dr. S. C. Wood of Thorsby will go away on December 22 to take a course in special work at Tulane University, New Orleans. He will be away for six weeks.

While Dr. Wood is away his practice will be taken care of by Dr. T. J. Marcus, who will be at Dr. Wood's office in Thorsby every day from 3 to 4 p. m. 12-17-2t

FOR LIGHT WINE AND BEER

Sanford Mullins, of Alexander City, who will make the race for Underwood's seat in the United States Senate from Alabama in the Democratic primary of 1926, has declared as a part of his platform the modification of the Volstead Act so far as to make light wines and beer legal. Mr. Mullins is quoted last Sunday as saying: "Prohibition has had a fair trial, and has been a failure," adding that in his opinion the failure is not due to lack of zealousness in enforcing the law, but to the fact that there has been a change in public opinion.

Thus we observe again, as has been predicted from many quarters of late, that the question of prohibition is coming up in American politics for another fight. The prohibition forces have sensed the oncoming conflict, and are strengthening their organization to be in readiness for the conflict.

We do not believe that prohibition has been a failure, and furthermore, we do not believe that men like Mr. Mullins will get very far on their platforms of opposition to prohibition.

Has prohibition been a failure? Do the American people want to return to the legalized sale of wine, beer, or whiskey? These are questions that are burning up tons of printers ink nowadays. We shall get an answer to such questions when we see what the people do with candidates for public office like Mr. Mullins, who choose diverse phases of the prohibition question to put into the platforms in 1926.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

The Board of Registrars of Chilton County will begin their rounds over Chilton County on January 4th, which will take them into every precinct of the county. Every person who is entitled to register and become a qualified voter will have a chance to place their names on the eligible list of electors. Registration must be made in the precinct of residence at the time and place the Board will be in that precinct, or at the court house at the time the Board will sit there. Any person in the county eligible to register can register during the time the Board sits at the court house. On the days the Board is in certain Beats only persons in a Beat can register on the day the Board is at its designated place in the Beat, and only at such designated place.

All persons are urged to take notice of the appointments of the Board of Registrars, and those who are eligible to register should do so.

The question of registration of voters is one that always gets the politicians into action. Already the Democratic executive committee of Chilton County has announced its purpose to make plans for registering voters. It is of course presumed that they are interested in registering Democrats. We would suggest that the Republican Executive Committee likewise inaugurate some plan to insure the registration of all eligible Republicans.

BATCH OF PAROLES ISSUED BY BRANDON

F. A. Miller, Montgomery county, who received two wears one month to two years two months for forgery, November 15, 1924. Walter Metcalf, Marion county, who received 15 years for second degree murder, December 7, 1917. MIDDLETON'S IDEA ABOUT EDUCATION OF YOUTH

A recent interview with Col. J. Osmond Middleton on the subject of education of our youth in Alabama was published in The Montgomery Advertiser. As Mr. Middleton is a resident of Clanton and one of the leading citizens of our county, we think it well worth a place in The Union-Banner to reproduce the Advertiser interview here in full.

Prefacing the quotation of Mr. Middleton on the important subject of education, the Advertiser correspondent, Mr. Atticus Mullen, says of Mr. Middleton:

J. O. Middleton, assistant United States district attorney of the federal district presided over by Judge Henry D. Clayton, is a great believer in education. In fact, Mr. Middleton believes in it so strongly that he is willing to make the statement that he is in favor of raising the necessary revenue to put the required school facilities at the doors of the children of Alabama. Mr. Middleton is a republican and attended last week the meeting of the state republican committee in Birmingham. He expressed himself there as strongly for education. He believes education will do certain things along certain lines, so hear him:

"Yes, I told my republican friends and co-workers at Birmingham that I believed strongly in education," said Mr. Middleton. "I believe we ought to have school facilities within easy reach of all of the children of Alabama. And I am in favor of the state raising the necessary revenue to bring this about. One of my reasons may not suit some of you democrats, but I am firmly convinced that the more education we have in Alabama, the sooner will come the time when we will have two parties in Alabama of such strength that either party will do everything in its power to give the State of Aabama a good admnistration when that party is in power. If you please, I believe the more education we have, the more republicans we will make in Alabama and you cannot help but admit that two parties in Alabama, either of which would be liable at any time to take charge of the state, would make for better government."

We are indeed glad that Mr. Middleton said what he did in the above quotation. But the wonder of it all is that The Montgomery Advertiser would publish it. There is no truth more outstanding than this one uttered by Mr. Middleton: "The more education we have the more Republicans we will have in Alabama;" and further, that "you cannot help but admit that two parties in Alabama, either of which would be liable at any time to take charge of the state, would make for better government."

If we had two strong political parties in Alabama, the people would then have a means of bringing the responsible persons to account in alleged highway deficiencies. If education were not properly vouchsafed, they would have a ready means of balancing up with those who were guilty of neglect.

Practically everyone of the daily papers in Alabama have at one time or another expressed favor with the reasonableness of two parties for guarnnteeing better government in Alabama. Any sane, thinking person knows that it would be the best thing for the State. But of course the Democratic political machine men are vicious in their opposition to the idea, becouse they of course realize that their crowd have made such a miserable mess of Alabama government that they would be the first ones to be cast into outer darkness. And again, they know that so long as it is the Democratic party alone in Alabama, they can stay in it and control it and keep on filching the people as long as they hold the one-party idea.

ALABAMA MAN IS NOMINATED I. C. C. MEMBER

Washington, Dec. 21.—President Coolidge decided today to give the south representation on the interstate commerce commission. He nominated Richard V. Taylor, of Alabama, to succeed C. C. McChord, who resigned.

The president also re-submitted to the senate the nomination of Thomas F. Woodlock, of New York, who is serving as an interstate commerce commissioner under recess appointment. The senate last spring declined to approve Mr. Woodlock's nomination.

Richard V. Taylor, nominated as member of the interstate commerce commission by President Coolidge today, is mayor of Mobile and well known in railroad circles of this and other states.

In complying with the law which requires that an equal number of men of the democratic and the republican party be members of the commission the president selected a man whose experience indicates a thorough knowledge of commerce and transportation in Southern states.

Mr. Taylor was formerly vice-president and general manager of the Mobile and Ohio railroad. During the war he was made manager of that road for the United States government. After the close of the world war when the Mobile and Ohio railroad, which is owned by the Southern Railroad Company, was taken under the control of that company, Mr. Taylor was not retained by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern road.

Shortly thereafter Mr. Taylor was elected member of the city commission of Mobile by the other two members of the commission. He has filled this position since that time, having recently been reelected after an interesting political fight.

FORESTRY LETTER

Wood is the strongest material for its weight in use for structural purposes, says the Alabama Commission of Forestry. This fact may be somewhat surprising to those who have always regarded iron or steel as much stronger than wood.

Bulk for bulk, structural steel, of course, has greater strength than timber, but when the weights are compared it is readily apparent that wood is considerably stronger than an equal weight of steel. For certain purposes steel and iron are more suitable than wood, but on the other hand lumber and structural timbers will fulfill innumerable uses that cannot be satisfied by steel, brick, stone or concrete. Unless minimum volume is essential, lumber is the most adaptable and desirable structural material in existence. An average of 400,000 homes are built in the United States each year. Of these about 300,000 are built practically entirely of lumber and a large amount of lumber is used in the building of the remaining 100,000.

For bridges, trestles, docks and similar structures, strength is often more desirable than small bulk in the building material. Two classes of timbers stand out conspicuously as eminently valuable for such purposes. These are the southern yellow pine and the red fir of the northwest. The former term includes in a broad way practically all of the various southern species of pine of suitable grade, while the latter refers to a single species. Tests of these two classes of timber have shown that they are substantially equal in strength.

POOR C

DOES VOCATIONAL EDUCATION PAY?

In order that we may answer the above question there are a few facts relative to the Vocational Agricultural School at Isabella I am giving for the benefit of the County. Mr. Earl Thomas, the Vocational man at this school, has just made his annual report in which the following facts are given. In the first place every boy in his class is required to take some sort of a project. This boy must keep an accurate account of all his expenses, charging for each hour's work done, all fertilizer purchased, and rent for the land, even though it is his father's land. At the end of the year he sells his project whether it be corn, cotton, etc. He even charges 5c per hour for tools. The total expenses of all projects in the community this year, including the salary of the teacher and his traveling expenses, are $6,015.15, and the receipts from these projects are $8,350.89. This shows a net gain to the community as a result of Vocational Education of $2,335,74.

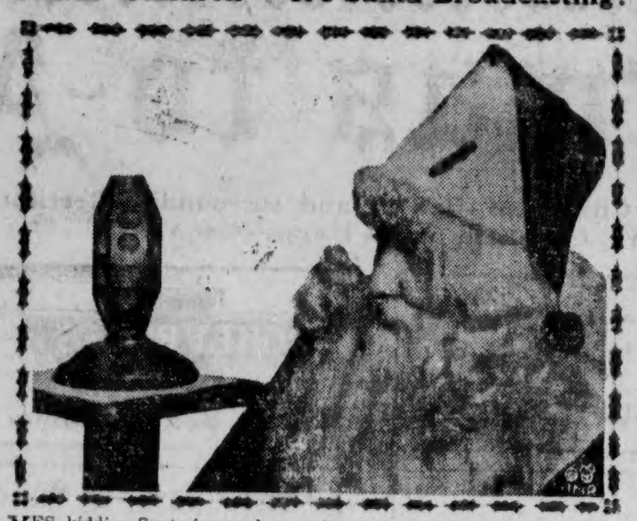
This would prove to the nearest of near-sighted that it pays from a purely financial point of view regardless of the gain to the boys and girls in later years. Not only that, but if we would give more time to such training this County would soon be one of the leading counties in the State. It is a purely agricultural county and can never be anything more. Unfortunately it is the only school in the county of its kind and the only one we can get for the time being, but we trust that the above facts will create such an interest in Vocational work that at the very moment it is possible for us to have another one of the kind, that we apply for same.

Not only that, but it shows beyond all doubt that this county ought to have a County Demonstration Agent who is alive and capable of leading our farmers in this work.

It might be interesting also to call your attention to the fact that in the Isabella community a number of adult farmers are taking work and a part of the above figures were taken from their projects.

For fear this article will be too long for the editor, I will, within a few days, prepare another article telling you of their plans for Home Economics in that school. Yours for better schools.—B. Lawrence, County Superintendent of Education.

Hush! Children - - It's Santa Broadcasting!



YES, kiddies, Santa is a real up-to-date fellow. It's too much work for him to personally send a hand-written letter to each and every one of you and let you know what all he's going to bring you this Christmas. Nor—can he find the time to answer all the letters you have written him.

So what do you think he's going to do? He's going to be real modern and use the Radio! We heard—now don't tell anybody this secret—that several of the big broadcasting stations of the country are going to have him speak to you for two or three evenings before Christmas! See that picture up there? That shows Santa practicing up already!

Now—if you're real good little boys and girls, maybe your daddies or mamas will let you listen to him. And when you hear him—be nice and quiet. He's got a lot of interesting things to tell you!

NO SETTLEMENT IN COFFEE CASES

PHILLIPS DENIES REPORTS IN REGARD TO COFFEE COUNTY CITIZENS

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Anniston.—Lon L. Phillips, of this city, former chief of the law enforcement department of the State, and one of the defendants in a suit filed by three Coffee County citizens charging false imprisonment, when questioned regarding press reports from Montgomery that the cases had been settled out of court by the payment of $1,665 to each of the plaintiffs, denied that he had made any cash settlement with either of the complainants.

W. N. Morrow, W. M. Bailey and W. M. Reddock were arrested by a party of state law enforcement officers following the disappearance of the Coffee County tax book in 1921 and locked up in Montgomery. They were later released on bond and the cases later dropped by the State. Suits were then filed by each one against the law-enforcement officers and their bonding company.

Reports from Montgomery were to the effect that the suits had been settled, but Mr. Phillips denied having part in any settlement or knowledge of any definite steps toward ending the long litigation.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

The names of former Mobile County Commissioner James G. Cleveland and John H. McAvoy, formerly a widely known politician, are among 19 recently dropped from Mobile County's list of qualified voters. Cleveland is serving a term for homicide and McAvoy for violating the prohibition laws.

Carrollton is said to be expecting a business boom, following the announcement that the Frisco has purchased a site for a depot in that town, showing that its extension from Kimbrough, Ala., to Amory, Miss., will touch there.

A preliminary report on the new membership campaign of the Florence Chamber of Commerce recently showed 343 new members with a total of $22,368 pledged to carry on the body's work in 1926.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, has been chosen first vice-president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association, succeeding J. P. Foy, of Eufaula, who died recently.

Montgomery police officials took extra precautions in that city recently to prevent race trouble said to be threatened because of the killing of Grant Cole, a negro who insulted a farmer's wife.

Opening of bids for State Docks Pier No. 2 at Mobile recently, disclosed that Doullut & Erwin, of New Orleans, are low bidders at $398,587. The pier is to be 560 feet wide and 1,600 feet long.

An election is expected to be called at Albany-Decatur shortly to give the voters an opportunity to pass upon changing the city's form of government from aldermanic to commission.

The public service commission has granted the Gulf Electric Company permission to construct a line from near Webb to serve Ashford, in Houston County.

Members of a large party of Floridians, on a visit to Muscle Shoals recently, are said to have expressed themselves as much impressed with the opportunities of the district.

D. G. Wood, of New Brockton, has asked the public service commission for permission to buy the telephone system in that town from Mrs. John Mosley.

Smith Cheek, a white man, was sentenced to six months at hard labor at Gadsden recently for "liquor running." He was caught with 48 gallons in his auto.

More than 6,000 persons took part in the celebration staged at Eufaula recently, marking the opening of the new bridge connecting Georgia and Alabama at that point.

The city of Birmingham was 54 years old on December 19. Exercises commemorating the occasion were held the following day.

S. R. Batson, member of the Jefferson County Board of Revenue, was acquitted in an impeachment hearing.

Alabama has ginned 1,301,163 bales of cotton up to Dec. 8, as against 952,751 at the same time last year.

The Jefferson County Board of Revenue announced that it will proceed at once with the erection of a new courthouse, expected to cost not far from $2,000,000.

Receipts of State Show A Large Gain

Total receipts of the Alabama State Treasury during the fiscal year ending September 30, 1925, amounted to $30,968,949.98, disbursements for the same period totalling $29,772,277.81, the balance in the treasury at the close of the year being $1,196,672.17—statement issued Saturday by State Treasurer George W. Ellis shows.

The figures given for the year just closed, Treasurer Ellis stated, represents an increase in total receipts of approximately $6,000,000 over receipts for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1924, and an increase of approximately $5,500,000 over disbursements for the previous fiscal year. These increases indicate in a measure, it is stated, the growth and development of the state as a whole and the state's affairs within the comparative brief period of 12 months.

The complete condensed statement of receipts and disbursements of the state treasury during the fiscal year which closed on September 30, last, prepared by Treasurer Ellis and made public by him Saturday, follows:

U. S. TO SOUND OTHER NATIONS ON ARMS MEET

Washington, Dec. 18.—Possibilities of American participation in the preparatory commission discussions of armament at Geneva without prejudice to complete freedom of action as to joining in the actual disarmament conference contemplated are known to have been discussed by administration leaders, although no definite conclusion has been reached.

At the White House it was said today that the invitation of the council of the League of Nations for American representation on the commission was still under consideration there, at the state department and in the senate.

The only statement as to the nature of that consideration, however, was that the President proposed to dispose of the question in accordance with the policy he laid down as to participation in European affairs in his annual address.

Secretary Kellogg has taken up the invitation informally with Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, and Representative Porter, republican, Pennsylvania, chairmen of the senate and house committees dealing with foreign affairs and relations, who called together at the state department. The talk is said to have produced a suggestion that it would not be necessary to await congressional authority to appoint Minister Hugh Gibson at Berne to represent the United States in the preparatory commission proceedings, although it would be desirable to go to congress before a decision was reached to join any preliminary conference on armaments which might follow. Some congressional leaders are described as sharing this view, although the attitude of the two chairmen is not known.

In the meantime there were signs that the wide difference of view in foreign capitals as to the scope of the conference is attracting official attention here. Press cables have reflected this difference, particularly those from Geneva, where M. Paul Boncour has outlined frankly the French attitude as to necessity of consideration of land, sea and air aspects of the whole disarmament matter at the same time. It appears possible that final decision as to the Washington policy will await word from American diplomats stationed at the various capitals as to the attitude of each government, or, at least, until the full scope of the preparatory commission's work and composition is known. The latter information is on its way by mail from Geneva and is not expected until next week.

Examination of the President's message shows that it left the door open to American participation in an effort to limit land armaments, although that question was described as "peculiarly European in its practical aspects." When the message was delivered, however, the Geneva discussions had not developed to the point reached in the invitation, and the President made it plain that he did not anticipate that both naval and land armaments would be dealt with in the projected conference.

POOR O

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The Baptist church will have their usual white Christmas exercise Sunday night, December 27, at 7 o'clock. The pageant represents the birth of Christ foretold, also Christmas music. Everybody is cordially invited.

The Misses Primm will entertain Miss Odie Lee Arthur, her two brothers, and Lewis Kelly on Christmas evening.

The advent of the Alabama Power Company in Thorsby is an accomplished fact. The current for electric light and power was turned on Friday, December 18.

The Thorsby Eastern Star will have a box social and watch party Thursday night, December 31. All members and friends are urged to bring boxes and bring men friends with pockets full of money. Hot coffee for everyone. A good social time is assured.

Mr. J. H. Goddard received a handsome Christmas present from Uncle Sam in the form of a $22 per month increase in his pension. Mr. Goddard served 4 years in government service during the Civil War.

Mr. B. F. Robinson of Dublin, Tex., arrived in Thorsby Monday, visiting his children, grandchildren and friends. He reported everything and everybody in Texas doing fine.

Friends of Mr. Anderson Marcus will learn with regret that he is in the Central Alabama Hospital.

MRS. MARY EASTERLING DIED WEDNESDAY MORNING

Mrs. Mary Easterling, age about 52, wife of Charley D. Easterling, died at the family home about 5 miles east of Clanton on Wednesday morning. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at Walnut Creek church.

WILLIAM RHODES EXTENDS THANKS TO HIS FRIENDS

Mr. William Rhodes requests The Union-Banner to convey his thanks to the many friends who recently contributed money to help him in his affliction. A petition was circulated in Clanton last week by Mr. George Mims, upon which $81 was subscribed and paid to help Mr. Rhodes. Some other communities, Providence and Refuge in particular, have promised Mr. Rhodes that they will make a collection for him.

Mr. Rhodes was injured some time ago when he fell from a housetop in Clanton. Since that time he has been in a practically helpless condition.

TO RECEIVE BIDS FOR OPERATING CENTRAL

The Board of Directors of The Peoples Telephone Company will hold a meeting at The Union-Banner office on January 1st, 1926, at which time they will consider bids for operating the central switchboard for the year 1926.

All persons who wish to do so are requested to place their bids in writing and sealed, with the Secretary, Mr. G. O. Foshee, on or before the first of January. All bids must be sealed and in writing.

Those who have already submitted bids are requested to resubmit same, as the bids which are wanted now are to be only for operating the switchboard, and does not include any upkeep of lines.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE CO.,
W. M. Wyatt, President.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove singing society met here Sunday afternoon. Directors for the afternoon were J. W. Lowery, Claudy Wyatt, Harrison Hayes, Kermit Lowery, D. T. Melton, Houston Melton, Glover Smith. Organists were Misses Evie Jones, Onzelle Eiland, Lucile Price. Several quartets were sung by the local quartet. The closing song was sung by the president. Rev. A. L. Foshee and Miss Julia Parrish made short talks, which were enjoyed by all present.

Our society will meet at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon, December 27. Visitors are welcome.

There will be no singing here the first Sunday afternoon in January on account of the singing at Concord. We will meet here the third Sunday. —Secretary.

MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CALLED

The Republican Executive Committee of Chilton County is hereby called to meet at the court house in Clanton at 10 o'clock a. m., on Saturday, January 2, 1926, for the purpose of considering any business which may properly come before said body.

All members of the committee from each Beat in the County are urged to attend in person.

W. G. CULP, Chairman,
J. Z. MIMS, Secretary.

DR. LAWRENCE TO BE IN CLANTON

Dr. C. O. Lawrence of Calera has made arrangements to be in Clanton on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week to do eye, ear, nose and throat work. He recently took a special course in this work and the announcement that he is to have regular dates in Clanton will doubtless be received with pleasure by his many friends in this county.

TELEPHONE LINES MAY BE CONSOLIDATED

Inasmuch as the rebuilding of the lines of The Peoples Telephone Company in Clanton is going to be a rather costly venture, the Board of Directors feel that they should say to the various line owners and phone holders that they may consolidate their lines in cases where same would be satisfactory with owners, and thereby save a good deal in the construction cost.

There are many phoneholders in Clanton who are on single lines, who, if consolidated with other single lines, would thereby save considerable money, as in many cases it might prove satisfactory to build one new line where two or more lines are now being used.

This privilege of consolidating lines will be extended to the country lines as well as to the lines in town.

The Directors wish it to be understood that there is nothing mandatory in this proposition to consolidate lines. They merely extend the privilege to the people so they can take advantage of it and save some money if they desire to do so.

The Fists That Knocked Out His Father

OLD time followers of the pugilistic game may recall the memorable battle between the famous Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries which the latter won by a knockout. And how the victory gave Jeffries the heavyweight championship of the world which he held for a stretch of years until Jack Johnson wrested the laurels from him at Reno, Nevada.

Well—here's the same Jeffries as he is to-day. And curiously enough, he is showing his steel-like fists to the son of his first opponent for the heavyweight title—Young Bob Fitzsimmons. The latter is following in his father's footsteps. He's a promising heavyweight boxer and a staunch friend of Jeffries, from whom he has obtained many valuable pointers necessary to those who would seek their fortune and laurels in the roped arena.

The Season's Greetings

Are extended to all our Patrons and Friends. May your cares be light, your joys abundant, and your prosperity continuous—is the wish we hold for you.

CHESTNUT CREEK

We were glad to have such a large crowd at our singing society last Sunday afternoon, which met at 1:30.

Those entertaining the audience were Messrs. W. M. Devaughn, S. M. Yates, I. D. Huett, Archie Devaughn, Jasper Robinson, O. L. Devaughn, Jesse Baker, Mr. Miller, and G. C. Weldon. Pianists were Misses Beatrice Grant, Lena Devaughn, and Mrs. Jesse Baker of Clanton.

We also had some quartets which were very nicely rendered.

We were glad to see so many directors present, although some of our directors were absent. We missed them and hope they will be able to be with us next third Sunday afternoon.

Everybody come, bring your 1926 books and help sing praises to our Creator, who doeth all things well.

Alabama holds first place among the states of the Union in the application of hydro-electricity to agriculture with 230 miles of rural electricity transmission lines already constructed and 117 additional miles authorized. A total of 1,370 customers are being served at present; and when the authorized lines are completed 1,296 more will be accomodated.

Death Cuts Wide Swath In The Southland

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 28.—Death cut a wide swath through Dixie over the Christmas holidays. Three score and ten persons in the south met their doom through traffic accidents, involving automobiles, motorcycles, trains and trolleys. In addition, 377 persons were hurt by the same means. These figures are revealed in a survey made today by the Associated Press for the week, which closed last night. The figures are from ten states.

Florida led the south, with 13 deaths, while Virginia and Georgia trailed closely behind with 12 each. Tennessee and Mississippi were the lowest, with three each.

Georgia led in the number of injuries, her figures being 66. North Carolina and Florida reported 61 and 60 injuries, respectively. At the foot of the column was Alabama, with 9 injured.

Virginia, dead, 12, injured, 45; North Carolina, dead, 7, injured, 61; South Carolina, dead, 7, injured 36; Georgia, dead, 12, injured, 66; Florida, dead, 13, injured, 60; Alabama, dead, 4, injured, 9; Mississippi, dead, 3, injured, 18; Louisiana, dead, 4, injured, 40; Arkansas, dead, 5, injured, 22; Tennessee, dead, 3, injured, 20; total, dead, 70, injured, 377.

New Officers Elected At Central Ala. Hospital

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Central Alabama Hospital Tuesday morning Mr. J. Q. Wade, president, Mr. H. S. Shaw, vice-president, and Mr. M. A. Gore, member of the Board of Directors, tendered their resignations, which were accepted with regret.

Dr. C. O. Lawrence of Calera was elected president, to succeed Mr. Wade. Dr. R. B. McNeill of Jemison was elected vice-president to succeed Mr. Shaw. Dr. McNeill was also elected as a member of the Board of Directors to succeed Mr. Gore.

Some other matters of business were attended to, looking to the future operation of the hospital along the lines of the most usefulness and best service to Clanton and Chilton County.

East Chilton

Messrs. Charlie and Horace Patterson of Detroit are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Patterson.

Misses Birdie and Earmie Roy of Autauga are visiting their sister, Mrs. Jesse Patterson.

Mr. Roy Baker called on Miss Earmie Roy Sunday.

All Day Singing At Concord Next Sunday

There will be an all day singing at Concord church, two miles east of Clanton on next Sunday, the first Sunday in January. It is expected that some noted singers will be present, and the public is cordially invited to come and bring dinner, prepared to spend the day.

Mrs. T. W. Childress

On Sunday, December 13, the death angel visited the home of Bro. T. W. Childress of Strasburg, and took away the wife and mother, Sister Laura Childress.

Sister Childress was a loving mother and a devoted wife. She always had a smile and a kind word for those about her. She will be missed by the ladies of New Salem church, among whom she was a devoted worker; but most of all, she will be missed by her three children and a loving husband, together with a host of friends and loved ones.

Sister Childress joined the church early in life and was always devoted to its interests, remembering the words of her Savior: "So oft as ye do it unto one of the least of these little ones, ye do it unto me."

Sister Childress is gone, but not forgotten. Her life will live on in the hearts of others and be a beacon light to lead them to God.—B. F. Dykes, her pastor.

Ellsworth Ellis Is New Principal At C. C. H. S.

The Chilton County High School will reopen on next Monday with Prof. Elsworth Ellis as principal, succeeding Prof. T. Calvin Stephens, resigned. Mr. Ellis is a school man of ability and comes here with the highest recommendations. He is a graduate student of Peabody college, Nashville, and has had 16 years experience as teacher. He has been in county high school work for the past 6 years as principal.

NO. 408 WINS

The lucky number that wins the 42-piece Dinner Set at Hugh Jones' is No. 408. If you have that number be sure that you bring it in before Saturday, January 9th, as we will make the second draw on that day if the winner does not show up before that date. Hold your tickets. 1ch HUGH JONES' CASH STORE.

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT THE SECRET?

A man said to me "You do not keep flour, do you?" I said "No, I sell it." When he learned my prices he asked "How is it you can sell so low?" I told him my policy of selling for cash and buying for cash is the secret of the whole thing. I have no bookkeeping, no bad debts, and hence no lawsuits and no losses to make good for those who do not pay. Come to see me.—S. M. Adams, South Clanton.

Gratitude.—We wish to thank the many friends for the expressions of sympathy and for their assistance in the death of my husband—From a "Card of Thanks" in a Kentucky paper.

County Commissioners Express Thanks For Cooperation of People on Roads

Clanton, Ala., December 23, 1925.

The Commissioners Court of Chilton County, in session, takes this opportunity of expressing to the people of Chilton County our appreciation for your good will and cooperation in our road building during the past year. With the increasing number of automobiles and other vehicles, the trucks of numerous kinds and the greater amount of travel upon the roads, road problems become more complex and necessity of good roads more urgent. It is necessary that roads be wider and of a more permanent nature, and in widening roads some land must necessarily be given by the adjoining land owners, and with the continued co-operation of the people this work will be made more successful, and with better roads for the people.

We have heard expressions of commendation within the past year that encourages the Court to increased efforts. However, we invite constructive criticism from everyone, and invite all to come before the Court at any time and make complaints. We also wish to thank the two county papers for their spirit of co-operation and good will.

All the bills are made out in the name of the person doing the work, and while this incurs more work in the probate office, it gives the tax payers an opportunity to see how the money is spent. If you will watch the papers the first of January, 1926, you will see every item that has been paid out by the Treasurer since the last report was published. These reports are published semi-annually.

We appreciate the work of the road upervisors, but we want to urge you to save our m ney consistent with the necesary improvement on the roads.

We will also be needing more right-of-ways this coming year to widen the roads and locate new roads where necessary, and the Court always feels grateful to parties giving the necessary land.

Our county has enjoyed a general prosperity this year and it is our wish that the coming year will bring greater prosperity and happiness for the people of Chilton County.

Student Falls To Death At Tutwiler Hotel

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 29.—James H. Voght, 21, of Grand Rapids, believed to have been a University of Michigan student, fell 10 stores to his death late Monday night in the Tutwiler hotel.

Witnesses say the victim was thrown against an elevator door with such force that he broke a hinge on the door and plunged down the shaft.

The door, it was said, was used only when it became necessary to transfer passengers from one car to another.

Voght is said to have come here for the 81st convention of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, now in session at the Tutwiler. He wore a badge on his vest bearing the inscription "Michigan '27."

Hotel officials were unable to learn the name of Voght's companion with whom he was playing when he fell. Voght and several friends had engaged a suite at the hotel, consisting of 1218 and 1220.

Coroner Russum is investigating the accident.

MARRIED IN BIRMINGHAM

The home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Z. T. Rudulph, of Madison Avenue, South Highlands, Birmingham, was chosen as the setting for a happy marriage of Wednesday afternoon. The contracting parties to the affair were Mr. Charles Fenn Jones and Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins, both of Clanton.

Dr. Dillard of the Southside Baptist church pronounced the words that united the lives of Mr. Jones and Mrs. Higgins. Characteristic of the substantial standing of each party to the contract, the nuptial plans were designed with an eye single to the sacredness of the martial agreement and were free from any form of vain ostentation, some relatives and a few intimate friends being present.

After the marriage vows were pledged, Mr. and Mrs. Jones returned to their home in Clanton.

For more than twenty-five years Mrs. Jones has resided in Clanton, where she enjoys the love and admiration of a host of friends. Quite recently she attained national distinction when one of a few high honors of O. E. S. was conferred upon her. Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins was made Grand Chaplain of the Grand Chapter of the O. E. S.

Mr. Jones, a prosperous hardware merchant of Clanton, has followed his chosen vocation in Chilton's capital for over twenty years.—In this time, by fair dealings, he has not only acquired a snug little fortune, but he has gained and holds as his greatest asset a large circle of friends and the highest estimation of many associates.

With These Few Remarks.—Parson Johnson—"De choir will now sing, 'I'm Glad Salvation's Free,' while Deacon Ketcham passes de hat. De congregation will please 'member, while salvation am free, we hab to pay de choir foh singin' 'bout it. All contribute 'cordin' to yo' means an' not yo' meanness."—Boston Transcript.

Christmas At Walnut

Dear Editor:

Please allow me space in the Banner to say a few words about Christmas. I went to a Christmas tree on Christmas Eve, and the children rendered a nice program, and to beat it all, I am now 69 years old, and I got my first watermelon off the Christmas tree, and a baby to go with it. The watermelon was fresh and nice. It was raised by S. V. Miller and was taken out of the field about December 15th. It weighed 12 pounds.

On Christmas Day seven families met at S. V. Miller's and enjoyed a fine Christmas dinner.

I enjoyed this Christmas better than I have in 20 years before. I hope to be here to see another Christmas. I hope for everyone a happy New Year. —T. J. Powell.

DITTY OF THE DEAR DUE DOLLAR

When some kind subscriber presents it to view;
The Liberty head without necktie or collar,
The widespreading eagle, the arrows below it,
The stars and the words with the strange things they tell;
The coin of our fathers, we're glad that we know it,
The spread-eagle dollar,
The star-spangled dollar,
The old silver dollar,

Jesse French To Close Local Music Store

Through Mr. G. W. Moore, who has acted as manager of the Clanton store of Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., we learn that this enterprise, which opened here on August 1, will now close this branch, by shipping the stock of musical instruments on hand here to Montgomery. For many years the people of this section have been served by the Montgomery store, which is headquarters for all the Southern business done by this old and well known piano firm. We understand that they will continue to serve the local trade from Montgomery, and that Mr. Moore will call on Chilton County citizens from time to time in the future, as he did prior to the opening of the Clanton store. We are indeed sorry to see this change take place, but feel sure that from now on the music loving public of the Clanton section are so well acquainted with the straightforward and upright principles of the Jesse French & Sons people that they can give them a good share of their future patronage.

Mr. Moore says that the purpose for which the Jesse French & Sons Piano Company opened the Clanton store has been accomplished. He now has a wide acquaintance and friends as well as customers in every section of our county. It is through these friends and customers that Jesse French & Sons build for the future. Patrons of the Jesse French house always show and tell of the fine qualities of instruments from this old established house.

Mr. Moore says he wishes to thank each and every person who has called at the Clanton store, and is especially desirous of thanking those who purchased Jesse French & Sons instruments of him here.

Mr. Moore states that those wishing to see him can do so by calling at the Exchange Hotel this week.

RESOLVE
to save

Perhaps the old year has seen you being somewhat "light-hearted" with your money—sort of inclined to let your dollars slip through your fingers without thought as to what future good they might be doing you. But—that is past. Forget it.

As the old saying goes—"Turn over a new leaf" to enter the new year. RESOLVE TO SAVE.

Getting Some "Inside Dope" From An Expert

LITTLE Raymond Girard of Oakland, Cal.—pictured at the left above—had shown for some time that he was interested in railroading. He owned a miniature locomotive of which he was quite proud but that was not enough. He wanted some "inside pointers" on how the actual big steel monsters were run.

Unbeknown to his parents he journeyed forth in search of the desired information. He found a good listener to his questions in the person of J. H. Flavey, crack locomotive engineer for the Southern Pacific Railroad. And to be sure, the genial Mr. Flavey accomodated the youngster with enough "inside dope" to keep him thinking for a while.

MULBERRY—ISABELLA NEWS

Of all the year, Christmas time at Mulberry is the best of all; old folks, young folks and children all wearing a smile, but how the cold weather does keep the axes going.

Mrs. W. T. Tucker and children of Bessemer are spendnig the holidays with Mrs. Tucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lecroy.

Miss Evie Lecroy left Monday to take up a position with W. T. Tucker at Bessemer. We will miss her very much in her W. M. U. and G. A. work.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells and Mrs. C. H. Oliver of Birmingham spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning.

Mr. George Wright of Birmingham is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mooney, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mooney, and Alvin Mooney, all from Florida, are spending the holidays with relatives.

Mr. Leonard McCraw, who is in the navy, stationed at Hampton Roads, Va., is spending the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. E. Bryan. Also, Miss Wilma McCraw, who is attending school at Athens, is at home for the holidays.

A wedding of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Annie Ruth Manning to Mr. Clarence Farmer of Montgomery, which occurred on Christmas evening at 5:30 oclock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning, Rev. B. Lawrence performing the ceremony. The bride was dressed in blue satin with gray accessories. Immediately after the ceremony they left for their future home in Montgomery. Congratulations are extended to them.

Miss Lois Sims and brother, Loyd, are visiting relatives in our community this week.

Mrs. Fannie Morris and son, Clyde, were visiting relatives in this community Christmas.

WIFE AND HUSBAND BOTH ILL WITH GAS

"For years I had gas on the stomach. The first dose of Adlerika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband." (signed) Mrs. B. Brinkley. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation. Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala. K-5

ALA. CROPS SHOW 10 MILLION GAIN

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Auburn.—According to a final review of the 1925 crop production in Alabama, issued by F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, co-operating with the Alabama extension service and the Alabama Department of Agriculture, there were harvested 290,000 acres more than in 1924, and the crops gathered amounted to $10,213,000 more than the aggregate value of the same crops gathered last year. The acre value of these crops in 1925 was $28.66 and for 1924 the acre value was $28.39.

The value given to cotton for 1925 is computed from the December price of lint, as are all other values for 1925 products. The aggregate value shown for cotton is somewhat misleading, since probably more than half of the cotton produced in 1925 was sold at the higher prices prevailing during the first half of the season before the size of the crop became evident. The true value of the 1925 cotton crop is nearer to an aggregate of $156,863,000, as representing the amount for which the cotton was actually sold. This would add about $13,351,000 to the gross value of crop production in the state for the year just closing, and make that aggregate $226,187,000, or about $25,000,000 more than that of last year.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

Jimmy Palmer, Florence bus driver, recently had a miraculous escape from death when a bus he was driving ran off the Florence bridge over the Tennessee River and dropped 30 feet to the river bank. He was only slightly hurt.

WALNUT CREEK NEWS

On the afternoon of Christmas Eve the church and Sunday school rendered a beautiful program, which was enjoyed by a large congregation. After the program the curtains were removed, which showed a Christmas tree, beautifully decorated and loaded with presents. Many hearts were made glad as the presents were delivered. The pastor was made very happy when he was presented with a beautiful gold watch and chain. This was a Christmas remembrance from brothers C. D. Duke, Burns Goodgame, Dr. Leonard Farley, John L. Smith, Elijah Easterling, A. J. Johnson, Walter Maddox, Arthur Tippett, R. E. Powell, J. D. Powell, Dolphus Smith, Willie Smith, G. N. Easterling, and Carie Easterling.

Needless to say, we sincerely appreciate this nice gift, and our Christmas was made much brighter and happier because of it. We pray God's richest blessings upon each of the givers.—G. B. Golden, Pastor.

A. P. I. TO BEGIN WORK SOON

Auburn, Ala., Dec. 29.—Preparations were under way today for the resumption of regular college work Monday, January 4, the Christmas holidays for Auburn students ending this week. President Spright Dowell and a number of the members of the faculty remained in Auburn throughout the holidays, and other members of the faculty who spent the holidays at their homes in various states of the Union are expected to return Saturday. The holidays at Auburn began Saturday, December 19.

The program calls for prompt resumption of work Monday morning, January 4, at 8 o'clock, inasmuch as regular first semester examinations are in the offing, beginning January 15 and extending through January 21.

Following the first semester examinations the regular college mid-year dances will be held, and on January 22 and 23 registration of students for the second semester will take place. The regular class work for the second semester will begin on the morning of January 25.

Indications are that the largest total enrollment in the history of Auburn will be rendered. More than 1,500 boys and girls were registered prior to Christmas.

Semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held this year on May 17, and commencement follows on May 18.

Messrs. Joe Atchison of Maplesville, and Dick Jones of Dadeville were the guests of Misses Metta and Victoria Hayes Thursday.

The radio is now recognized as one of the most potent influences in strengthening the tie that binds the American people closer to the home.

Now there is developing the social lure of home radio parties, presenting opportunities for concert and dancing in the home, on winter nights.

In no industry based on a modern invention has there been as great improvement and progress in a similar length of time as in radio. Its record is marvelous.

WHAT IS A "CHEAP" ROAD?

Plain dirt roads cost the least money. But they fail in wet or stormy weather. A graded dirt road, rocked and then coated with some form of asphaltic wearing surface, is lasting and easily repairable when necessary. This type of construction provides for expansion and contraction under every possible weather condition. It cushions the impact of traffic, thus saving the road base. From the standpoint of economy and service such roads are winning widespread approval of taxpayers.

COOLIDGE ON FARM PRICES

Adequate storage, necessary credit and orderly cooperative marketing will place agriculture on a sound business basis. No matter how disguised the moment the government engages in buying and selling farm products, it fixes prices. Even the United States is not strong enough to fix prices which would constantly guarantee success. Farmers are opposed to submitting themselves to control of a great price-fixing and marketing bureaucracy. For a more orderly marketing calculated to secure better range of prices the cooperative movement promises greatest success. To have agriculture prosperous it must rest on an independent business basis.

It is well to pause at the end of the year and check up on a few fundamentals to which we all must tie. The one big thing that makes success for all of us possible is a sound government which does not crush the initiative and enterprise of the individual. Without this, all our personal efforts would be in vain. An understanding of this basic fact should be in every person's mind. Our nation and people have become great, not by chance but by a well thought out program for government which has never been excelled and which to date, has been subject to little improvement beyond the plan of its founders 149 years ago. We should bear these facts in mind and constantly call them to public attention in order that we may all truly appreciate the great blessing of liberty under a reasonable form of government such as we have.

HALF OF US IN JAIL

Take this from a Pennsylvania lawyer—Judge Henry A. Fuller, of Luzerne County: "Human behavior, under modern legislation, is now hedged in by so many restrictions that it has become impossible for even the best-intentioned people to go through the day without committing one or more crimes."

So we are all in it or at it. This judge says it is fair to assume that in our country, land of the free, 50,000,000 crimes are being daily committed; and "If these were all prosecuted for punishment one-half of our federal population would be confined in jail and the other half in getting them there."

We used to hear that one-half the people were nuts—and the rest were squirrels. What the Pennsylvania judge says comes to about the same thing. He was moved to utterance by the case, brought before him, of a young girl who had neglected to take out a license for her shepherd dog, who had been fined $10 with costs of $3, and who, in default of payment, had been committed to jail for fifteen days. The judge's opinion ends with discharge of the defendant, and this conclusion: "The law is fast developing into a self-devouring monster."

Perhaps we might call the national Congress and all the state legislatures into simultaneous six-months session, start by passing a blanket repeal of all existing laws and then make a new batch, from the bottom up.

DO YOU WANT 10-CENT COTTON?

What will be the price of cotton next fall? The answer to that question lies in the amount of cotton that will be produced in 1926. Therefore, the huge and important question of the price of next year's cotton crop is in the hands of the farmers to make just as much as the making of the cotton itself.

If the farmers will reduce the acreage in cotton so as to hold down the total production, the price will be good. If another record crop is produced, it is doubtful if the price will be as high as ten cents.

It is true that the country is in a prosperous condition, and we hope it may continue so throughout 1926 and all succeeding years, but in spite of prosperity and everything else, a surplus of cotton produced in 1926 is going to make the price low.

Farmers who make the cotton will also make the price. If you want the price to be low, plant a large acreage. If you want the price to be reasonably high, cut your acreage. Now is the time to figure on the 1926 cotton crop.

Maybe something beyond the control of southern farmers will happen to cut the 1926 crop short. That would be a blessing in disguise, but it would be hard on the man who planted large acreage. By every law of reason and common sense, the platform of the cotton farmer for 1926 is smaller acreage.

A REPUBLICAN POINT OF VIEW

To the Editor of The Age-Herald:

Why is it that the newspapers of Alabama will not be fair to the Republican party? I had hoped that we had reached the time in the South when such a condition would exist. On the tenth of December the Republicans held a meeting in Birmingham, in the Tutwiler hotel, which in many ways was a very remarkable gathering. In numbers, in financial standing, in intelligence, in character and patriotism, it compared favorably with the education meeting which was held in the same hotel at the same hour, and yet the newspapers of Alabama gave but scant notice to the meeting. We had with us, in the person of Honorable William Wood, congressman from Indiana and chairman of the congressional campaign committee, one of the most distinguished men in the United States. Mr. Wood made a very able and conservative speech, yet the Alabama papers scarcely mentioned it.

More than twenty years ago all of the Democratic newspapers in Alabama agreed that if conditions were changed we would have two strong political parties in our state, and we all agreed that we could never have the government in our state that we should have with only one political party. Intelligent people everywhere concede that we need two strong political parties in the South. A strong Republican party in the South will make a stronger Democratic party, and the South would be better and assume its rightful place n the nation.

We have a splendid Republican organization in Alabama. It compares favorably with any other state organization. Our national committeemen and our state chairman are both men of the highest integrity, but somehow, the party does not go. One of the greatest desires of my life is to see a strong, militant Republican party in the South, but to do this we have got to draw recruits from the common people, and to reach them we must have a Republican newspaper of state-wide proportions. I know there are some who always oppose the proposition to establish a newspaper, and say that it cannot be done, but I know it can be done. There is one Republican editor in the state who has agreed to remove his plant to Birmingham and establish a state Republican paper, provided he is guaranteed 10,000 subscribers. This ought to be easily done. It ought to be a simple matter to get at least 200 subscribers in each county. I would personally guarantee 200 subscribers from my county. What greater political blessing could come to Alabama than for the Republicans to elect one or more congressmen? Birmingham, the great industrial district, the pride and boast of the South, has been made possible by Republican policies. This district rightfully belongs in the Republican column.

One of the most alarming conditions existing in the South today is the small percentage of voters. There is but one remedy for this condition: Two political parties. Two years ago the League of Women Voters offered a silver cup to the county voting the largest per cent of votes. Chilton county won the cup, and this was simply because we had two strong parties.

May I in conclusion mention the educational situation in Alabama. We all agree on the needs of education, but I want to drop this thought to the educators of our state: Before you call an election to raise more taxes, you must account to the people for the increase in expenses in our educational system already. You must explain to them why it takes longer to educate a child than it did 20 years ago. The system has almost put young doctors out of business. We hardly ever hear of a young man studying medicine now. The doctors are often referred to as a trust on health, pain or sickness. Educators are referred to as a trust, and always wanting to establish shorter hours and longer pay. I am a friend to education. I have voted for every school tax that has been before the people in my county, and I have not only voted for the tax but I have made speeches for every one of them.

In conclusion, I hope the building of roads in Alabama will not get in politics. If it does it will retard road building and will be a mistake. We must not stop building roads. We have just commenced, and we have improved our roads in this county over 200 per cent; and yet the demand for better roads is increasing faster than we can improve the roads, and the same is true of the state. All road builders in the past have made mistakes, and many more will be made before we get our road system well established, but we would not for one moment say we were going to stop building roads because some officials have made mistakes, or have been grafting the people's money. No, we must not stop, but let's get rid of the unfaithful servant.

I want to drop a hint to road builders in Alabama. The main objection to our road system is the engineers, and the expense they incur. Now I am not criticising but only mentioning what the main complaint is. I am not an engineer. We do not have one in this county. We use the old time stake with a piece of cotton on the end like our fathers used to lay off corn rows with. We have not been able to hire an engineer up to this time.

We invite all state officials to come and see our roads. We would be glad to have any road critic look over them. I am not criticising the road system.

Mr. W. O. Rich of Birmingahm was in Clanton recently.

Former Mayor R. V. Taylor, of Mobile, was recently appointed to the interstate commerce commission by President Coolidge. Reports reaching Montgomery show that the appointment is praised in many quarters and denounced in others. Many organizations resent the fact that Mr. Taylor was formerly a railroad executive, feeling that he may be inclined to favor the roads instead of the public.

More than 3½ miles of mains and service pipes have been laid by the Alabama Water Company in its improvement program at Attalla. Upwards of 50 hydrants have also been installed. A new pumping station and 500,000-gallon reservoir, to be begun shortly, will complete the improvements.

Reports from Washington say that ex-Mayor R. V. Taylor, of Mobile, who was recently appointed on the Interstate Commerce Commission by President Coolidge, will be confirmed by the senate, despite the oppositon of republican "radicals."

Judge William F. Wilkinson, 75, of Prattville, died in Montgomery recently. He is credited with having thrown off republican rule in Alabama in 1876. He was formerly probate judge and editor of the Southern Signal.

H. R. Spangler, secretary of the Montgomery city commission, and Miss Rose Abercrombie, daughter of State Superintendent of Education Abercrombie, were killed in an automobile accident near Montgomery Christmas evening.

A filling station on the Montgomery Road near Selma was recently robbed for the fifth time in the past year. The thieves took 361 gallons of "gas" and 90 gallons of oil, but left a note saying they would not rob the place again.

Work has begun on a bridge which will span the locks on the north side of Wilson Dam and connect the highway across the dam with the approach leading to the bridge. The work is expected to require two months.

Cotton compress men, cotton merchants and others interested in the handling the cotton crop will meet in Montgomery on January 6 to discuss a proposed readjustment of interstate rail rates on cotton.

A Birmingham negro is believed to have set a record recently when he walked into the prohibition enforcement office of the federal government recently and sold a half-pint of "white mule." He's in jail.

For the forty-fourth consecutive year, 650 inmates of Mobile's 12 white and negro charitable institutions were given a Christmas dinner by the merchants and other business men of that city.

The King Company, of St Louis and Chicago, manufacturers of "white way" standards, has announced plans to erect a plant at Sheffield. Work will begin early in January, it is said.

Charlie Parker, a young white man, was found shot in the head from behind near Buhl, in Tuscaloosa county, recently. Robbery is believed to have been the motive.

Complaint of the Luckenbach Steamship Company against railroads out of Mobile, charging discrimination in the matter of rates, will be heard in Mobile on January 29.

The Birmingham police are still puzzled by a series of explosions, apparently of heavy dynamite charges, which shook that city on the evening of Christmas Day.

Two Memphis men who had 798 quarts of liquor in their auto were arrested in Birmingham recently. The liquor is valued at almost $8,000.

Christmas shopping in Tuscaloosa was the heaviest that city has ever known, topping that of the prosperous "war years," it is said.

The bridge over the Alabama River at Reese's Ferry, on the Birmingham-Montgomery highway, will be ready for use by March 1, it is thought now.

The Oneonta Guaranty Company has been given permission by the public service commission to sell $50,000 worth of 6 per cent securities.

Officers report the seizure of more than $5,000 worth of liquor in raids in the city of Birmingham for three days just prior to Christmas.

The city of Birmingham has just let a contract for repairing the city hall recently gutted by fire. The city refused an offer for $1,500,000 for the building and site.

Mrs. R. H. Cochran, wife of the president of the City National Bank of Tuscaloosa, was recently desperately hurt in an automobile accident.

The Union-Banned is $1.50 a year.

MAPLESVILLE FIDDLERS' CONVENTION

The Fiddlers' Convention held at Maplesville Saturday night, December 26, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association was a success. A large crowd was present, about 400 tickets sold and $150 made.

Judge L. H. Reynolds was called on for a speech, and made a short talk which everyone enjoyed. He was the chairman of the three judges, and kept the crowd laughing while the fiddlers' contest was going on. Mr. Smith won first prize, $5; Mr. Little won second, $2; and Mr. Wright won third, $1.

After the convention the fiddlers and judges were entertained at a well prepared banquet, such as the ladies of Maplesville are noted for preparing.

Everybody left in good humor, hoping that Maplesville will have another convention next year. Perfect order was maintained throughout the exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Powel and children of Albany spent the holidays with relatives in Clanton. Mr. Powell is working with The Albany-Decatur Daily of that city.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

Have you ever been out hunting, was asked for a certain permit, and had either lost all your permits or left that particular one at home? If you have you know what a feeling it brings. We have prepared for the hunters small booklets of blank permits, all ready for the landowners' signatures, and then you are ready to go. The booklet contains 25 blanks, with wording that protects both hunter and landowner. They are bound inside a stiff pasteboard cover, which protects them, and keeps you from losing any permits. The price is 25c per book. It might be worth many times that amount to have all your permits at hand on some occasion.

I am not an experienced road builder. I am only mentioning some of the objections, and what the people think is too expensive. When we get started on some objection we never know where to stop. The highway from Birmingham to Montgomery has been very much over-criticised. We have a good road. Some of it has gone bad, but we must consider it has been dry here for two years. We have not had enough rain to settle the fills since they were built, and, of course, it has caused them to crack the cement. Now if there is any graft, let us weed it out and not try to hurt road building.—L. H. Reynolds, Clanton, Ala., December 22, 1925.

APPLICATION OF JOINT OWNERS FOR SALE

State of Alabama, Chilton County. Probate Court.

RIGINAL

REPORT INDICATES DEATH RATE LOWER

Washington, Dec. 27.—The national death rate in the United States was placed by the commerce department today at 11.9 per 100,000 of population, on the basis of figures for 1924, as compared with 12.3 in 1923, 11.8 in 1922 and 11.6 in 1921.

The figures covered the entire death registration area of the country, which accounts for about 88% of the population.

In another statistical study made public today, the department reported a further increase in the number of deaths due to automobile accidents in the principal cities of the United States. The total for the four weeks ending December 5 was 624, compared with 612 in the previous four weeks, 524 in the period ending October 10, and 521 in the one ending September 12, while in the period ending May 23, the total was only 421.

Automobile accident returns are being received now from 78 cities of more than 100,000 population each, for 59 of which a complete record of 1924 automobile fatalities is available. So far this year, the daily average of automobile fatalities has been 14.7, while last year for the same period it was 14.5, but for the four weeks ending December 5, this year, it jumped to 16.8.

Heart disease was found to have been the chief cause of death in the general registration area in 1924, accounting for 176,671 fatalities, a slight increase over the comparative figure for the preceding year. Cancer, likewise, took a heavier toll in 1924 than in 1923, 91,941 deaths being attributed to this cause. Tuberculosis deaths, on the other hand, showed a decline, numbering 89,724 in 1924 as compared with 90,732 in 1923. Cerebral hemorrhage, pneumonia and nephritis were other large factors in the mortality figures, while of the 75,475 accidental deaths, automobiles alone caused 15,528, compared with 14,411 in 1923.

Both suicides and murders increased; suicides totaling 12,061 in 1924 against 11,287 in 1923, and murders 8,420 against 7,878.

MAPLESVILLE HIGH SCHOOL ACCREDITED JUNIOR HIGH

Prof. M. W. Mims, principal of the Maplesville High School, was in Clanton on a little business Monday of this week. Prof. Mims reports that his school is getting along fine at Maplesville this year. The County Board of Education has recently admitted the school to the list of accredited junior high schools of the county. The school now has eight teachers including the teachers of music and expression.

Prof. Mims says that he is now working on the plan of having the school entered next year as an accredited high school. This will be fine for Maplesville.

Mr. Eugene Gore of Gorgas spent the holidays with friends and relatives in Clanton.

NEWS FROM INSTITUTE OF ANIMAL ECONOMICS

Charles Staff, prominently identified with scientific research and practical work in all phases of animal industry, has been appointed executive secretary of the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics, according to announcement made in Detroit last Monday. He will direct his work from the headquarters of the Institute at Detroit.

Mr. Staff always has been a lover and student off animals and has carried on many valuable experiments in feeding, breeding, production and management on his own farm at Royal Oak, Mich. As the guiding genius of the Larrowe Institute for Animal Economics he will supervise the Research farm of the Institute, just outside of Detroit, and direct other experimental farm work which will be carried on in various states.

Born in Sydney, Australia, in 1874, Mr. Staff came to the United States in 1886. He has been an extensive world traveler and student of economic conditions. For many years in conjunction with James E. Larrowe, of Detroit, Mr. Staff has made an exhaustive study of the dried beef pulp industry of the United States, especially with reference to its application as a feed in dairy and livestock production.

BROWN-MIMS WEDDING ON CHRISTMAS EVE

At the home of Mr. J. L. Wilson near Poplar Springs, on Christmas Eve evening, occurred the marriage of Mr. Chester G. Mims to Miss Essie Mae Brown. Both Mr. Mims and his young bride are popular young people of Clanton. Mr. Mims is salesman for the Chilton Hardware Company, and heretofore Miss Brown has been working in the Jesse French Music Store in Clanton. Mrs. Mims is the charming daughter of Mr. L. A. Brown of Mt. Pisgah.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home in Clanton.

Music Is Developing American Manhood

Boys' Camp Director Ranks Melody With Athletics As Educative Influence

Music and out-door sports are the headline pastimes of American youth, says Paul Pearse, owner of Camp Ha Wa Ya for boys in Harrison, Maine, and one of the most famous directors of boys' activities in the country.

"Music is more than half of camp life and as important as athletics in the development of American manhood," asserts Mr. Pearse. "At our camp, we have a pianist to play between courses at meals, so much a part of our schedule do we make music.

Camp Song

"I do not need to emphasize the place the camp song occupies in the affections of our lads. Everybody who has ever visited a camp and heard the boys shout lustily the strains of their favorite popular piece, can testify to the song loves of youngsters. They make up their own verses, which encourages originality and ingenuity. Two years ago they sang 'Yes, We Have No Bananas,' with infinite parodies. Last year, it was 'It Ain't Gonna Rain No More,' and this year it is 'My Gal Don't Love Me Any More,' which abounds in possibilities for impromptu verses.

Simple Tunes

"All of these songs have the simplest kind of tune but one that you remember the first time you hear it and find yourself whistling in the bath tub.

"It's good for hikes, too, with a marching rhythm. Do you know that we use as much care in selecting a song leader as we do in choosing a competent equestrian director, or nature teacher or tennis instructor? Music is getting to be a real part of the modern boy's education and it's my belief he is going to turn out something good in the way of composition some of these days as a result."

Why Drag It Out?

The president of one of our largest railroads has always enjoyed life and the living of it. He has ever favored good things to eat and plenty of them, good things to drink and more of the same, long black, strong cigars to smoke and a box full handy.

Until he reached middle age and had progressed a trifle beyond it, his customary modes seemed to agree with him. But about a year ago his health rather failed him. At least, he developed nerves and curious sensations.

In the midwestern city where he lives he had the best available medical advice. But treatment, as locally applied, did not seem to help him any. The annoying and alarming symptoms persisted.

So in the fall he packed up and went to New York. Arriving there he summoned three of the leading diagnosticians in stomach troubles. These high-priced scientists came to him, equipped with small black bags. They examined the sufferer thoroughly. They asked him countless questions—all about his diet, his habits, his family history, his emotions, sensations, feelings, likes and dislikes. Then they withdrew for a consultation.

"Mr. Blank," he said, "my confreres and I have considered your case from every standpoint. I now give you our deliberate judgment. You must cut out those thick steaks and rich pastries that you've been eating; you must cut out black coffee and heavy cigars; above all things, you must cut out all alcoholic stimulant. You must alter your plan of life altogether—live hereafter on the strictest and simplest of diets, refrain from smoking, avoid all exertion and all excitement, go to bed every night at nine o'clock and get up every morning at six."

"And if I should do all these things which you gentlemen recommend—what then?" asked the railroader.

"In that event you should live at least five years."

Mr. Blank took a deep breath.

"What for?" he asked.

MONTEVALLO

Alabama College closed its doors for the Christmas vacation Monday, Dec. 21. The student body, which represents every county in the state, left for their homes after completing one of the most successful quarters of work Alabama College has known. For the first time in the history of the institution the student body represents every county in the state without one exception.

In addition to this distinction the student body and faculty of the college are proud of the fact that it was admitted into the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at the meeting December 1 to 4, held in Charleston, S. C.

Chilton County is represented this year at Alabama College by five girls. They are Frances Brown, Maplesville; Fannie Jo Scott, Edna Davis, and Sara Maud Pattillo of Verbena; and Nell Wells of Jemison.

Miss Fannie Jo Scott won first honors during the first quarter of the year. This is a distinction which only twenty-six students in the college won and she is to be congratulated.

RECENT DEATHS

On last Sunday morning occurred the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Bowles of Bethsalem community. She was the widow of the late G. W. Bowles and was 74 years old. The remains were buried at Bethsalem Monday. She was the mother of Alphus Bowles of Clanton, W. S. Bowles of Billingsley, Charley Bowles of Jemison, J. W. Bowles of Bethsalem, and one or two other children.

Lucien Nivens, the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nivens of Clanton, died here last Thursday afternoon. He was buried Friday in the Clanton cemetery, Rev. S. J. Ezell officiating.

S. F. Deavers, age 86, of near Billingsley, died Thursday night of last week. The remains were buried Saturday at Shiloh cemetery.

Miss Metta Hayes and Mr. Dick Jones motored to Jemison Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Dick Jones spent Christmas week in Clanton, as the guest of Miss Metta Hayes.

Mr. Courtland Retherford of Clanton spent the Christmas holidays with his uncle at Mineral Springs.

The Reverend Had a Little Lamb!

The pastor of a colored church in Tennessee was haled before the board of deacons on serious charges. It was alleged that although married he had been caught in the act of embracing a comely female member of the congregation, in the vestry room. The evidence against him appeared to be conclusive. Three presumably unbiased witnesses testified to the fact.

The accused was asked whether he had anything to say in his own defense. He answered at length and with eloquence. He led off by pointing out that the word "pastor" was a Latin word meaning "shepherd." Therefore, he properly was a shepherd. He also called the attention of the court to the fact that in pictures and paintings and more frequently in stained-glass memorial windows the Master Himself was shown as a shepherd carrying a lamb.

Now then, he contended, it naturally followed that when he, as the shepherd, took a member of his flock in his arms, he merely was carrying out the scriptural example.

In the minds of the deacons there seemed to be no way of controverting these arguments. Accordingly they went into executive session and drew up resolutions exonerating the preacher. But they added a proviso.

The concluding clause of the document, as read by the senior deacon before the congregation on the following Sunday night, ran as follows:

"And be it finally resolved dat in future, ef our beloved pastor should feel de desire stealin' over him to tek one of de lambs of de flock in his arms, dat he shall tek a ram lamb!"

The PUBLIC Owns and Regulates the Railroads

In previous bulletins issued by this and other railroads, the ownership of railroad securities has been explained, the facts have been stated, and figures given showing that about two million individual Americans own the stocks and bonds of the great steam transportation lines.

Not only does this quasi-public ownership of the railroads tend to insure their operation for the public good, but the laws of the United States, as interpreted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Railway Labor Board and various State and National commissions, absolutely control 90% of the railroads' earnings, and more than half of their expenses.

Intelligent and efficient handling of railroad affairs is enabling the transportation system of this country to render better and cheaper service to the public than ever before in history. For the 41 weeks ending October 3rd 1925, the railroads handled a total of 40,068,436 car loads of freight, an increase over the same period of the previous peak year (1923) of 2% and over last year of 7%.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Birthday Party.

Miss Gladys Williams delightfully entertained a group of friends Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Williams, in celebration of her fifteenth birthday anniversary. Christmas decorations were used in making the home attractive for this occasion. Music, games and story telling were the evening's diversion. A contest was enjoyed. Miss Catherine Hayes was presented a handkerchief, and Mr. Raymond Mims a harp was given. The hostess, assisted by her mother, served delicious refreshments to the following: Misses Annie Bell White, Catherine Hayes, Vera Jones, Gertie Mae Fiquette, Evelyn Littlejohn, Dalene Williams, Jennie Welch; Messrs. Ralph Johnston, Raymond Mims, Samuel Martin, and others.

Lyceum Number at High School.

The first number of the Lyceum Course to be given for the benefit of the Clanton Grammar School, will be presented at the high school auditorium Friday evening, January 8. The attraction will be The Jane Case Company. This company is composed of Jane Alward Case, Erla Coleman and J. Hartwell Merrill. Miss Case is a reader, impersonator and monologist.

The natural ability and pleasing personality together with the long study of the art of entertaining causes the work of Miss Case to possess the attractiveness and force that wins the public. She presents her characters in a realistic and versatile manner, using accurate dialect and appropriate costumes. Her repertoire is large and varied.

Miss Coleman is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music, Grove City College, Penn., and the Ithaca Conservatory of Music. She has studied with such masters as Frank R. Selger, Patrick Conway and Grant W. Egbert. With her training and accomplishments it is only natural that her work is pleasing.

Mr. Merrill is a pupil of Bert Rogers Lyon and a graduate of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music. His voice possesses richness of tone and clearness of diction.

An evening of pleasure is promised to all. Season tickets will be sold for $1.00. This ticket will be good for the three numbers, another to be presented in February, and the last in March. Admission of 50 cents will be charged for a single performance.

Mrs. Roberts Honored.

Mrs. Norman Roberts of Atlanta, Ga., served as the inspiration for a pretty party Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. T. C. McSwain was hostess. The home was decorated with Christmas decorations. A series of bridge games was played at seven tables. At the conclusion Miss Kathleen Mullins held high score and was presented a pair of silk hose, while Miss Lurline Harper received the booby prize, a pretty bud vase. The honoree was given some hand-painted china. The hostess, assisted by her daughters, Misses Mary and Louise, served delicious refreshments. Those enjoying this delightful affair were Mesdames N. S. Johnson, John Browder, J. Hance Allred, John C. Page, J. Hugh Jones, Frank Callen, H. M. Simpson, L. F. Gerald, Clarence Evans, J. Watts Moore, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, John M. VanDerveer, J. W. Mrs. J. Hugh Jones and little daughter, Mary Courtney, have returned from a visit to relatives and friends in Montgomery.

Mrs. Lilla C. Morgan of Columbia, S. C., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Grady Reynolds.

A Few "Orphaned Rainsticks"

SEEMS like folks in a certain good-sized Illinois city are mighty careless with their rainsticks. Either that or they have a lot of money to buy new ones after each and every downpour.

Look what happened in that town. There had been no moisture for quite a period of time and the natives, it appears, quite forgot what an umbrella was for. When the rainstorm did come—they hauled out the old "bumbershoots" and then plumb forgot about them by leaving them on the street cars. Photo shows the many "homeless" umbrellas that found their way to surface car "lost and found" department after the storm.

TELEPHONE LINES MAY BE CONSOLIDATED

Inasmuch as the rebuilding of the lines of The Peoples Telephone Company in Clanton is going to be a rather costly venture, the Board of Directors feel that they should say to the various line owners and phone holders that they may consolidate their lines in cases where same would be satisfactory with owners, and thereby save a good deal in the construction cost.

There are many phoneholders in Clanton who are on single lines, who, if consolidated with other single lines, would thereby save considerable money, as in many cases it might prove satisfactory to build one new line where two or more lines are now being used.

This privilege of consolidating lines will be extended to the country lines as well as to the lines in town.

The Directors wish it to be understood that there is nothing mandatory in this proposition to consolidate lines. They merely extend the privilege to the people so they can take advantage of it and save some money if they desire to do so.

Quick Way to Stop Night Coughing

New Method Is Remarkably Effective

No need to put up with that distressing, weakening, sleep-robbing night cough another night. For there is a simple but very effective treatment which, usually with a single dose, stops all irritation and lets you sleep soundly the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of night coughing. So the coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

Vacation days are over at Thorsby Institute, and teachers and students are practically all settled down to their work again after enjoying visits with home folks or other friends.

The most damage, in one spot, caused by the extreme col of the past few days, puts Thorsby Institute water works out of commission, causing serious inconvenience in the boarding department. The bottom of the tank on the tower, together with a considerable portion of the supply pipes running from the ground to the tank, were badly broken by ice forming inside. The damage is so serious that it is a question at this writing whether there will be any attempt to repair it, or some other more modern and efficient means of obtaining water from one or both of the deep wells that have for years been the source of supply of water for the Institute.

Rev. Bakke announces that there will be services in English at the Lutheran church at 10:45 a.m., Sunday, January 3rd.

At the Congregational church there will be Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., preaching by the pastsor, Rev. J. E. Each at 11 a.m., communion service following sermon; at 11 a.m., Junior Endeavor; at 3:30 p.m., Christian Endeavor; at 6:30 p.m., followed by stereopticon pictures and an address (if the slides arrive in time), failing to do so, there will be the usual first Sunday in the month praise service.

Wednesday night, January 6th, is the time for the annual meeting of the Congregational church. So far as we know, it will be preceded by the usual 6 o'clock dinner, which for many years has been a season of social enjoyment prepared by the ladies of the church—a kind of family gathering.

At the close of the year, the writer desires to sincerely thank the many friends of The Banner in Thorsby and vicinity for their assistance in securing news items for Thorsby Section. We try to make it of interest to you all, and would suggest that there are yet many more whose co-operation we would greatly appreciate. In a local paper people like to see items about their neighbors as well as themselves, provided it is suitable for publication; and we solicit your co-operation in furnishing any items of interest in the happenings and incidentss that you would like to see in the paper. While we cannot promise that anything and everything handed in will be published verbatim, yet we have had enough experience to pretty near know what will be acceptable as it is, or to make such corrections as are needed to make it "listen good." Let's all pull together this coming year, and make Thorsby Section the very best part of the paper.

Robert Hill, Bonnie Phillips and Sam Leroy from Birmingham spent Christmas week as guests of Henry Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Misses Virgin and Eliza Bice will leave Friday for Palatka, Fla., after spending the holidays with grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Miss Jennye Robinson will leave Saturday for Lebanon, Tenn., where she is a student in Cumberland University.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard with their little daughter, motored from their home in Fairfield, Ala., to spend a few days with Mr. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Howard.

Jo Dahl of Birmingham and Albert Anderson of Sylva, N. C., were holiday visitors to friends in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Turnquist motored from Baltimore, Md., enroute to Florida, stopping in Thorsby for a few days to visit his father and sisters, Mesdames J. M. Bosworth, A. E. Reagan, C. R. Foss and Miss Naenardi Greater Shows with headquartransportation manager for the Bernardi Greater Shows with headqquarters at Baltimore and has been with this organization in various capacities for upwards of 20 years.

Waldemar Lefsteao, a theological student at Salisbury, N. C., Lawrence Lefstead of Birmingham, and Miss Alma Lefstead of Myrtlewood, Ala., were holiday visitors at the home of their mother, Mrs. Johanna Lefstead in Thorsby.

Mrs. Vera Anderson and Miss Ruth Peterson of Birmingham spent the holidays with parents sin Thorsby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Peterson.

Walter Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen, of the U. S. aviation corps stationed at Pensacola, was home for the holidays.

Digold Ekblad, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Ekblad, was among Thorsby's holiday visitors.

Edwin Gren of Chicago is visiting his uncle, Andrew Gren.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carter had quite a family reunion on Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Vascar Martin and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Killough, all three of the ladies daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carter, made up a merry party that kept things moving throughout the day and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Harper spent the week end with friends in Birmingham.

The minstrel show given by members of the faculty and pupils of the Thorsby public school was a very creditable affair and netted around $45 for the school.

"Ve'y well. We will join in prayer fo' Brotheh Jones—jes' afteh de collection plate have been passed.—American Legion Weekly.

PARRISH REUNION

On Christmas day the Parrish family met at the home of Rev and Mrs. M. J. Parrish near Providence for another old-time family reunion. It has been several years since such a privilege was enjoyed.

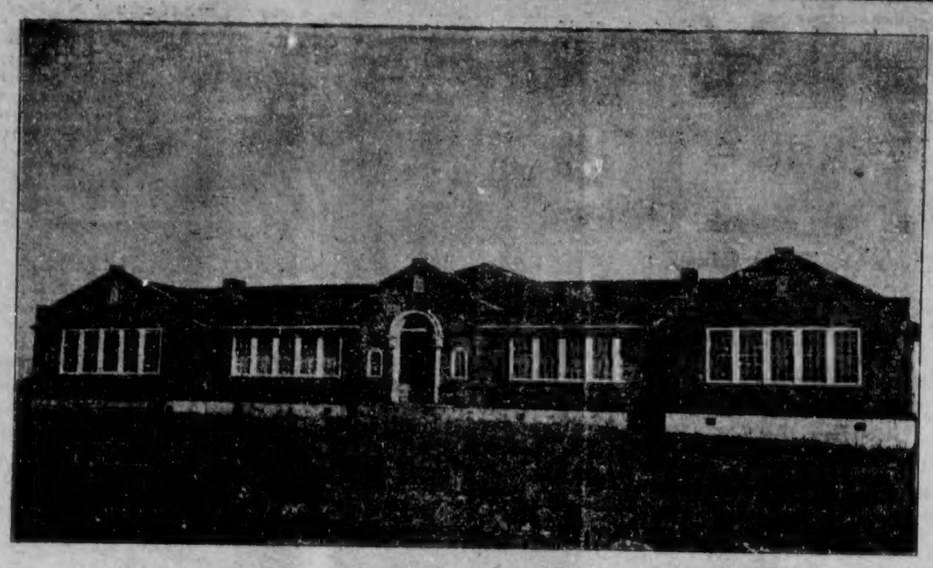
During the morning the family circle, seated around the fire, told interesting jokes and discussed many different subjects. About 12 o'clock the attention seemed to be turned in a different direction, when a delightful turkey dinner was served. But before entering the dining room, it was discussed who should eat at the first table. A suggestion was made that Mrs. Mattie Williams eat at the first table; but when the second table was called, she only asked for a clean plate.

After the dinner hour, the day was finished by conversation between different ones.

The day was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, which were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Monroe Parrish and family of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Armstarong and family of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parrish and family of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Robinson and family of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. Tom McKee and family of Cherokee Bluffs, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Limeberry of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson of Clanton; Mrs. Mattie Williams of Clanton and daughter of Auburn; Mrs. Sarah Robinson and daughter of Clanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Parrish of Mitchell Dam.

PARDON NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that at the next regular meeting of the Board of Pardons, application will be made for the permanent parole or pardon of George Headley, who was convicted November 14, 1924 in the Circuit court of Chilton county for violating the prohibition laws of Alabama.
2t-ch GEORGE HEADLEY.



The Thorsby Junior High School Building

THE erection of this modern school plant stands out as one of the major accomplishments of the people of Thorsby during the year 1925. At the beginning of the present school term the building was occupied for the first time, with appropriate exercises, dedicating the same to the education of the youth of Thorsby and surrounding community. It is a hollow tile, stone and brick structure, beautiful in design, convenient and appropriate in arrangement, and permanent in character. It is a building of which Thorsby may well be proud.

WEST CHILTON

The happy yuletide has come and this community surely enjoyed it.

After suffering several months with cancer, Mr. G. W. Hodgens passed away on December 14, and was buried at Pleasant Grove cemetery. The funeral was conducted by Rev. June Hodgens of Piper. He leaves a wife and many relatives to mourn his passing. He had reached old age, and was a man of conviction. He spent his whole life in this section.

On the evening of December 23, Cleveland Martin and Miss Tempie Smith were happily married, Rev. J. P. Gentry officiating.

On December 13th, some of our people attended Dr. Edwards' lecture at Mulberry. They were charmed with the Doctor's eloquence, logic, and wonderful knowledge of Biblical lore. He brought a cheering message.

Mr. Ernest Smith was called to Birmingham Saturday to see his sister, who is very ill.

Mr. Isaac Walton, Sr., is on an extended visit to his daughter and son at West Frankfort, Ill.

We enter 1926 for better or worse; we hope for better. All thinking people realize we are going through gradual but radical changes, yet many are unaware of it. Stupendous changes have occurred in our day, changes that effect the entire race, as well as ages to come; yet we knew it not—not thinking.

Many older people see that conditions now differ like day from night compared to the past. Others don't see it—not thinking.

Educators, noted men and women and some old time people lament the heedlessness and irreverance of the children. We guess it is true. The temptations and opportunities of today are far in advance of the past. What would fathers and mothers have done had such things come in their day? Some great writer said "We forget the past; Not interested in the future, but absorbed in the present." How true!

"Floyd Collins sleeps forever above his cave," which is equivalent to saying "forget the pasts." Not thinking, but we will learn yet. The light is increasing.

We sincerely wish The Banner, its publishers and all its readers the happiest new year in all their history.

CHILTON COUNTY MINUTES NOW READY

The minutes for the Chilton County Baptist Association are now ready. Any church clerk may call or send to The Union-Banner office and get the number of copies that are allotted to his church.

J. BICE GOING TO FLORIDA

Thorsby, Ala., Dec. 29, 1925.
Editor Union-Banner:

I am off for Florida tomorrow, the 30th. Will stop off at Eufala for two or three weeks or longer, and then on to Palatka, Fla. Send my paper to Eufala until further notice. Find enclosed $1; credit to my subscription. If no hindrance and the Lord is willing, I will be back in good old Chilton County some time next summer. Good-bye to all my friends. Many good wishes for a happy New Year.

Yours truly,
J. BICE.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Davis had the pleasure of giving a Christmas dinner to their children. They all enjoyed the big turkey dinner together and many of their friends.

The friends present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Chandler and family, Mrs. Loss Robinson and family, Mr. Bill Mims, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray. The children were: Misses Annice and Lucille Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Brasher, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Davis.

There are only five grand children and they were all present. Many Christmas presents were received, and they were certainly appreciated.

All left in the afternoon except the children and their husbands and wives and they all enjoyed a few happy hours together, and then all ate turkey and cake and wished each other a merry Christmas and happy new year, and separated, hoping that another Christmas will find them all together again.

Mr. J. N. Scott of Jemison was among the visitors to Clanton Tuesday.
